157

The celebrated Comstock stock farm, situated one-half mile north of Birmingham on the D. U. R. electric line, and right among the summer homes of some of the most prominent people of Detroit's wealthy citizens. Three hundred and forty-five acres of excellent farming land, with 15 buildings, well adapted to the requirements of a first-class stock farm. Fifty acres of timber, good for the matter of fruit there are forty pear trees and five hundred plum trees, and six acres of bearing apple orchard. Also one of the finest half mile race tracks in the state is situated on the farm. There is an artesian well which is flowing supplying an unlimited amount of mineral water which, if properly developed and advertised, would be worth more than the price of the farm from $20 to a month for every one who comes from the sale of this water, which is acknowledged by the first medical specialists of the present day to be the best known remedy obtainable for Diabetes and the vrrious other kidney diseases. A chemical analysis of this water can be furnished on request. The principal dwelling on the place cost over $5,000 and is worth the money. It has a modern hot air furnace and all the other modern conveniences, now almost considered necessities, now-a-days. A good, quick tenant house—in fact twelve good buildings in all.

No. 167

Wants to trade for 80 or 60 acres on or near electric. Ninety-four acres on east ¼ of southwest ¼ Sec. 11, Troy township, with 6-room house, valued at $2,000 (insured for $1,700); flowing well piped to barn; farm well watered; 40 rods to electric; 1¼ miles from electric at Troy Corners, where there are good schools and churches. Fare 15c to Detroit; $60 per acre.

No. 171

Finest building site between Birmingham and Pontiac, on electric railway. Just north of Birmingham, among the country homes of such men as Booth, Barbour, Radford, Hudson, Scripps, Coulkin, and others; 43 acres, nearly half of which is timber, and pretty little stream of River Rouge (never dry) runs through the place with giant elms and oaks overhanging. No building, good orchard of 4 acres. Price is high, but if you have the cream you must expect to pay for it.

178

Seven-room cottage on west side of Bates street, 66 feet front, 130 feet deep. You couldn't build the house for $2,000, and that's all you want for it. City water, wood shed, cellar, all ordinary conveniences. One of the best bargains we have. Show it to you any time.

180

Farm in Avon township; 55 acres of good clay loam, all cleared; small orchard, no buildings; small amount down. For sale or exchange for small farm.

185

Corner lot, 100 feet front on Maple avenue on best drop; one good building insured; plenty of fruit and shade. A bargain for $2,000, one-half down.

187

House and lot, in Campbell Subdivision, Birmingham; buildings insured. Come in and see the place, and let us surprise you.

188

One of the best-arranged and finest-equipped residences in the village, and in a beautiful and best location—East Maple Avenue, two blocks from electric road; hard and soft water, hot and cold water, city gas, 10 rooms, 2 stories high, with part attic, two brick ovens; 2 buildings, fine orchard; 112 feet on Maple, 132 feet deep; lawn set to fine shade trees and garden; good barn, fine workshop——Say! What else do you want, anyhow? Will sell house and lot for $5,000 and 150 feet deep for $2,500. One of our best bargains.

193

Thirty-five-acre fruit farm, 1¼ miles north of Birmingham, on the town line; 6 buildings, insured for $1,300. All fruited—sandy, gravel, sand and dark loam. Last year shipped 1,000 bushels of potatoes, 20 bushels of beans, 300 bushels strawberries, 100 bushels raspberries, 1,000 bushels apples, 2 acres of cabbage 60 rods in length, with an almost inexhaustable supply of gravel; worth double the price of the farm alone. No waste land and under a state of high cultivation. Worth looking at anyhow. Price $6,000; terms easy.

194

Fifty acres in Township of Troy, adjoining the Troy Stock Farm; 5 buildings, good house, barn and cribs; plenty of small fruit, orchard of excellent fruit; 24 acres cleared, balance timber. 6 miles to Detroit, 2 miles and fine spring. Price $4,000.

195

Fifteen acres in Township of Royal Oak; no buildings; small grove of maples in a pretty fence row; land, well drained, dry and ready to plow up; corner of the 96-mile road and Campbell road, ½ mile east of electric road; ½ mile south of Hudson and Duffield tracts, which are held at $500.00 per acre; 3 miles north of Ellers Park grounds. Price $300 per acre; will exchange for Detroit property.

196

Six acres, part of s w ¼ of n e ¼ of section 19, Troy township, one mile south of Troy Corners; fine flowing well; 2 miles east of Pilot Knob road, 2½ miles from Big Beaver; good farm for somebody. Price $600.

198

Two acres 1 mile east of Royal Oak village on Gratiot, 20 fine shade trees; 4 rods front and 20 deep. The place is well fenced, and the price will enable you to build the kind of house you may require.

The Reason.

As Darwin was walking along the golden streets he came face to face with our first parent, who frowned and passed on. When the latter was asked why he cut Darwin, he explained: "That's the cuss who tried to make a monkey of me."—Detroit News-Tribune.

200

One hundred and twenty-six acres near Birmingham; good buildings, well fenced, fine orchard, flowing well; pretty little River Rouge runs through the farm; ½ mile from Birmingham (north looking at). Wish you to see it any day. Oh, yes; the price is $16,000, and the terms are. Farms not as good as this have sold within the past year for $18,000 (unmodified offer), for $18,000 per acre. Let us take you to see it. If we please, you build it, you don't buy unless you please.

201

Fine 5-story residence on Maple Avenue, corner High Street; 50 feet front, 132 feet deep; hot water heater, hot and cold bath, toilet, city gas, city water; every convenience found in the first-class of city residences. Cement walk (one side), and best neighborhood in town. House would cost at least $5,000 to build to-day, and size of lot is worth $2,000 each. Will take you to see it. If we please, you build it, you don't buy unless you please.

202

Forty acres on the line of the Flint electric, at Harris Corners, in Troy Township. Excellent soil, clay loam, no waste; one of the choicest locations for building a nice country residence. The place is held for more money; but make us an offer of $2,000 cash, and we will see what we can do for you.

208

Five acres and 4 good buildings, making a nice little home near the little Village of Southfield. Stores, school, church, etc., within half mile. The buildings cost more to build than the price asked for the place, and are well worth looking at. The price is $1,000, and $250 cash will take care of it, and the balance you can pay at your leisure.

209

Fine home with good barn on Townsend Street. Good 2-story house, plenty of fruit, and beautiful apple trees on south side make it a shady, restful residence. It could cost $2,500 to build the house alone, and $2,500 will buy it if you take it right off the last. Owner is leaving town, and that's the reason.

211

Just an acre of land. (Ah! we read that book that was so popular some years ago, entitled "An Acre Enough." No! Well, you ought to. It's worth building.) There's a house on the acre. Good little house with 4 rooms, in Southfield village. Possession given any time before April 1, and $225 gets it if you come quick.

212

The premises, 8 acres, owned and occupied by the late G. C. Gibbs in the Township of Troy. House and some small buildings on the south side of the road with 20 acres of land can be bought separate if desired. Seventy acres on the north side of the road, with barn and all other necessary buildings. Location exceptionally fine; ½ mile from electric line and Flint Division, D. U. R. After you take out the cost of the house and buildings, the price we ask would bring the land and not about $40 per acre. Take you to see it any time.

213

Fine little farm of about 75 acres in Royal Oak, on the line of the Rochester Electric, 2 miles north of Royal Oak; fare to Detroit 15c; good cellar; will fill 120 cords; good house and barn; large bearing apple orchard; 3 buildings, insured for $1,276, and $4,000 will buy it, subject to a mortgage of $1,000, which can run at the pleasure. Will exchange for improved Detroit city property.

215

Decidedly the prettiest lake farm in this county. Lake, Forest, Situated on Wing Lake, noted for its excellent fishing; 2 miles west of Birmingham; 15-room house with furnace; fine lawn; excellent barns; board fences in good shape; 3 acres of young peaches, 4 acres bearing peaches, and 4 acres apple orchard, which bore 700 bushels of marketable apples the past year. One mile north of Franklin, daily mail and telephone service. Abundance of excellent water pumped by windmill and gasoline; house and outside buildings. Eighty acres for the price at $7,000; if you will be so kind as to send you say it isn't worth the money, we'll take it back and let you have your money. Make a nice start for less, and then you'll give us twice the money. And it's worth it, too. Try it.

216

A new, modern dwelling, constructed by a well-known builder for his own use, from best concrete blocks; 8 rooms and bath; 2 stories high, in one of the best localities in our village; lot 62x100 feet; 150 feet apple trees; bath, water-closet, hot and cold water, coss-pool, hot-air furnace, 9 rooms beautifully finished in hard wood, and large attic. Best of reasons for selling. Price $8,800. Let us show it to you any day—any time.

217

Farm of 80 acres on Section 1, Troy; 5 buildings, 4 acres beech and maple timber, 76 acres cleared, 4 acres orchard; 25c miles from Rochester line D. U. R. Can be bought for $2,800, and that's only a trifle over $35 per acre. Will take $1,000 cash, and the balance on long time at low rate of interest. Seems as if that ought to interest almost anybody.

219

Tidy little place for some one with moderate means. Corner Chestnut and Palm, Campbell Subdivision. Lot with at least $200, and the house is insured for $1,200; that's $1,700 and prices are advancing all along the lines in that location. If you come right away we will consider an offer of $1,500, and if that is too high after we have shown you and had a talk you will introduce you to the owner, and you can make your own terms. That's fair.

222

Two-story tenement or terrace, on the east side of Woodward avenue, in the Village. Two sets of houses of 8 rooms each. Furnace, water-closet, bath, hot and cold water; city gas and coal; each independent of other apartment. Rents for $18 per month each, 2 years' lease per year will pay taxes and insurance. Good barn on the premises, and the lot is 70 feet front on the best frontage on Woodward, and 130 feet deep; room for a nice garden; can live in one apartment and have a steady income from the other. This is something to ponder over. Come and let us help you ponder. Always at your service, if you can't call, write.

223

For sale or exchange—Brooks Farm, 1¼ mile west of Birmingham; 80 acres; the best stock and grain farm in Oakland county; 70 acres tillable land; 10 acres timber; barn, barn and bog stable for 70 head; 2 silos and cattle barn, stable 28 head cattle, hog pens for 100 head; corn cribs and chicken houses. 2 miles of tile—every 4 rods; 4 good flowing wells; 2 sets of farm implements. Apply at farm, or Exchange Bank, Birmingham.

227

Five acres just outside of the corporation limits of Birmingham, about 3 acres frontage on Woodward Avenue, on the Pontiac electric line (car stops in front); about 90 rods deep, with nice little stream (a branch of River Rouge) crossing the back end of the premises. Finest location in the county for a nice little chicken farm. No buildings, but can be bought cheap enough so that you can build to suit yourself and have one of the finest homes among the many in the Bloomfield Hills district. Just send request will bring prices and particulars. Rather show it to you, though.

229

A pleasant and sightly farm of 71 acres in West Bloomfield, 1¼ miles from the Northwestern electric; 2 acres orchard, 4 acres good timber, buildings worth $4,000, and the price is $6,000—and it is well worth it; land sandy loam and clay loam, under a high state of cultivation. Better investigate.

230

Seventy-one-acre farm in Township of Troy, good buildings, well fenced and drained, with macadam road on the line of River Rouge runs through farm—never dry; 2 miles from good school; 2 miles to Birmingham; 2 miles to Pontiac; 1 mile to Stoll's Mill, two good wells, and $8,000 will buy it. Would take some property in exchange. You will have to see it to get it, and you can have your own way about payments on balance.

231

Two-story, 7-room house in good repair; well and cistern; 2 acres of land. Can be moved for less than $1,000 to build—and that's all we ask for it. Opposite Wixom's Station, between Merritt and Martin, on Chester Street. Terms easy.

232

Farm of 87½ acres, just outside the Village of Birmingham, on the D. & P. electric line; 150 feet to Detroit; half cleared, balance timber; land all clean; 2 acres; four buildings, all in good condition. Road open location between Detroit and Pontiac.

233

Farm of 197 acres, one hour's ride from Cadillac Hall on Jefferson Avenue; 1,000 feet on Lake St. Clair; 10 acres of apple orchard; splendid buildings. The price is very low.

234

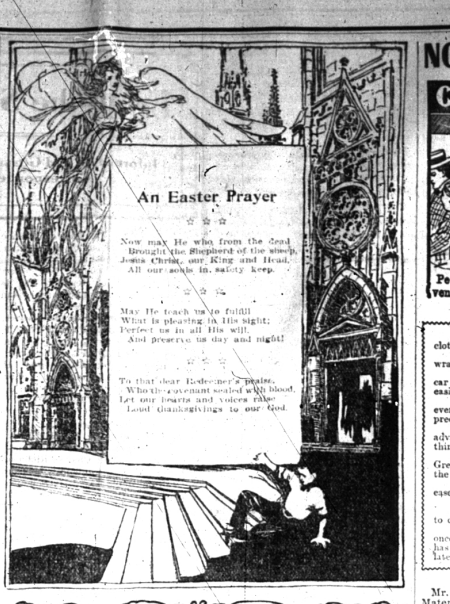
Farm of 77 acres, 60 rods from D. & P. electric line. All cleared, good buildings; 16c fare to Detroit. This farm can be purchased very cheap.

235

Farm of 92 acres—will exchange for Detroit property; 35 acres of mixed orchard; buildings are as fine as any in the county, in excellent condition; 2 miles from Interurban; on account of improvements and location this farm is a bargain at the price asked. Write us, or, better yet—call.

Equality.

It is sometimes cheaper to get a divorce than to be sued for breach of promise.



HER EASTER

A Sermon Delivered Out of Doors by Mother Nature

EASTER in the foothill country, among the low-lying valleys, with the white-capped, blue vastness of the mountains in the background, and all the endless variety of sunshine and shadow! Distinct indeed, with the divinity of spring. The very smallest and sweetest of the early wild flowers bloomed in the sheltered places, and the quail nesting on the hillside, called melodiously across the valleys.

It was a day to revive old loves and longings, and to arouse the fires of old passions—to let slip from you discontent and all uncharitableness. And over all the quiet of the morning the bells pealed their "Christ is risen," and the tremolo of their echoes thrilled you to your finger tips.

Mrs. Chester dressed herself slowly and with much deliberation, that Easter morning. The gauzy spring gown lay, in all its dainty fluffiness of laces and ruffles and tucks, upon her bed. Beside it lay the dainty hat and gloves and the creamy parasol which was to be just just the right tinge of white over the piquant face of the pretty little woman who was to carry it.

The bells again rang out their "Christ is risen" as she stepped from the door. She paused a moment, then, turning, walked rapidly around the house, beyond the pepper trees, across the fose-garden to where, in a stately row, the great white Easter lilies lifted their heads to drink in the beauty of the morning. A little terrace led up to them, and upon this she stepped faintly, one hand grasping the little implements of her toilet—the white gloves the bit of lace, the pocketbook where in were the pieces of gold to be dropped, with a musical jingle, from tiny fingers into the contribution basket; the dainty skirts and the furled parasol. With the other hand she broke off the long-stemmed lilies, raised them caressingly to her cheek, whiffed their fragrance, and stepped back. Her foot slipped and turned on he forgotten terrace, there was a little cry, as she fell, with all the snowiness of her garments about her, and the violets and the Easter lilies upon her breast.

She lay quietly a moment, dazed and sickened by the suddenness and pain of the fall. She tried to move, but warning pains shot up in the foot doubled under her. Then she called and waited, and called again, but no body answered. Again she waited, then she became drowsy and a faintness stole upon her. The bells rang out: "I am the resurrection and the life" over and over again. Then all was still. Faint sounds began to force themselves upon her dull ears—the drip, drip, drip of the hydrant into a stone basin, the rippling note or two of a meadow lark, the fainter song of a mocker, as he gave the gossip of the bird world from the topmost tip of a eucalyptus tree; and always the hum of the bees, so persistent that drowsiness came with it. Also she saw the low, spreading house, with its pillared verandas, rose-embowered, a beautiful home, hers and—his. The slow mind stopped again. Hers and his for all time—"till death do us part"—for better, for worse"—"in sickness or health . . . and cherish." Yes, to cherish. So they had promised—they two, standing alone together, in all the solemnity of the marriage rites. But somehow the sweetness had gone out of it all; the love; or was it the comradeship? And who to blame? Not he. And not he Herself? She shook her head uncertainly. Mostly it was "duties," she said. Oh, yes, all of one's duties to society—church duties; club duties; social duties; and she shivered. Here they all were, in pointed caps, with little silver spurs on their feet, with which, when she lagged, they prodded her, with these and pointed tongues of uncharitableness. Presently behind them all she saw the figure of her husband, his eyes upon her lovingly; and ever and again, with a little sorrowfully upon the group about her, and as often as he would approach her, she was pushed back; he could not reach her for the barrier of Duties which stood between them.

The woman wept, she tried to brush them all aside, for to her terror her husband seemed to recede and recede and she was unable to reach him. In an agony of remorse and grief she stretched out her arms. Then from among the Easter lilies came a fairy shape—a tiny child. A moment it hovered on her breast, then it increased and as it advanced, the Shapes drew away, grew fainter, and were gone; and the tiny thing, leading the man by one brown finger, brought him to her. Was it only Cupid, the little god of love, or was it the spirit of the little child which some day might come to dwell with them? The woman held out her arms and clasped them both and held them to her.

When Mrs. Chester roused herself from her swoon, or dream, or whatever it was which held her bound, it was to find her heart throbbing with a new hope and joy and longing; and she wondered whether or not she had dreamed, or had been the privileged listener to an Easter sermon preached out of doors by Nature. Nature now in her most blessed mood.

Through the open windows of her home came a low cheery whistle. She pressed the Easter lilies to her lips in a passion of joy. In some way she felt that she owed them something—a deliverance from something, and in the depths of her religious soul she cried out: "This is the resurrection and the life," even as the bells had said it—while her face was baptized with tears.

It was so that her husband found her, on that most blessed Easter day, when the sun stood high over the valleys, and spring brooded over the foothill country.—Edna Heald McCoy, in Los Angeles Herald.

Originated in Old Festival.

The illuminating of the churches on Easter eve is doubtless a relic of the old festival of Beltein, when fires were built in honor of the god Bel, or Baal. Often the Easter candles lighted on Easter eve have been marvels of the candle-maker's skill, some weighing as much as 300 pounds. In the records of some churches of ancient date there is ample proof that bonfires as well as candles were lighted. In the parish records of St. Mary-at-Hill, in London, there is this entry: "For ¼ quarten of Coles for ye hallued Fire on Easter Even, 6d."

Dates of Coming Easters.

In very early times Easter was always spoken of as the "great day," and such it surely is, the very greatest day in the year's calendar—a day that brings with it eternal hope to the sorrowful, a blessed peace to all mankind and crowns the glad springtime with the promise of life everlasting.

Perhaps some readers will be glad to preserve the table given below, showing the date Easter will come on for the next three years. Calculations for Easter bonnets may thus be made some time in advance: 1909, April 11; 1910, April 27; 1911, April 16.

To Tell Easter Sunday.

Many have been puzzled to know how to tell on what day of the month Easter will fall. The rule was laid down at a council held in the year 714 that Easter day should be always the first Sunday after the full moon, which happens upon or next after the 21st of March. If the full moon happen on a Sunday, Easter day is the Sunday after.

Something New to Wear.

The idea of having a new frock and hat for Easter Sunday is not altogether flippant. On the contrary, it is of religious origin, an old English rite requiring that every person should wear three new articles on that day and a superstition which declares it unlucky not to do so.

"Feast of Caps."

Good Friday is often called the "Feast of Caps" from an old-time custom which required every lady to appear in a new house cap, while Easter Sunday was known as the "Feast of Hats" for a similar reason.

NO ONE CAN ALWAYS AVOID
Catching Cold on the Street Car

Pe-ru-na Prevents Catching Cold.

One Dose in Time, Saves Nine.

Many people persist in riding on the street cars, insufficiently protected by clothing.

They start out perhaps in the heat of the day and do not feel the need of wraps.

The rapid moving of the car cools the body quickly. When they board the car perhaps they are slightly perspiring. When the body is in this condition it is easily chilled. This is especially true when a person is sitting.

Beginning a street car ride in the middle of the day and ending it in the evening almost invariably requires extra wraps, but people do not observe these precautions, hence they catch cold.

Colds are very frequent in the Spring on this account, and as the Summer advances, they do not decrease. During the Spring months, no one should think of riding on the car without being provided with a wrap.

A cold caught in the Spring is liable to last through the entire Summer. Great caution should be observed at this season against exposure to cold. During the first few pleasant days of Spring, the liability of catching cold is great.

No wonder so many people acquire muscular rheumatism and catarrhal diseases during this season.

However, in spite of the greatest precautions, colds will be caught.

At the appearance of the first symptom, Peruna should be taken according to directions on the bottle, and continued until every symptom disappears.

Do not put it off. Do not waste time by taking other remedies. Begin at once to take Peruna and continue taking it until you are positive that the cold has entirely disappeared. This may save you a long and perhaps serious illness later on.

Bad Effects From Cold.

Mr. M. J. Deutsch, Secretary Building Material Trades Council, 151 Washington St., Chicago, Ill., writes:

"I have found your medicine to be unusually efficacious in getting rid of bad effects from cold, and more especially in driving away all symptoms of catarrh, with which I am frequently troubled.

"The relief Peruna gives in catarrhal troubles alone is well worth the price per bottle. I have used the remedy for several years now."

Spells of Coughing.

Mrs. C. E. Long, writes from Atwood, Colorado, as follows:

"When I wrote you for advice my little three-year-old girl had a cough that had been troubling her for four months. She took cold easily, and would wheeze and have spells of coughing that would sometimes last for a half hour.

"Now we can never thank you enough for the change you have made in our little one's health. Before she began taking your Peruna she suffered everything in the way of cough, colds and croup, but now she has taken not quite a bottle of Peruna, and is well and strong as she has ever been in her life."

Pe-ru-na for Colds.

Mr. James Morrison, 68 East 16th St., Paterson, N. J., writes:

"I have given Peruna a fair trial, and I find it to be just what you claim it to be. I cannot praise it too highly. I have used two bottles in my family for colds, and everything imaginable. I can safely say that your medicine is the best I have ever used."

MADE HIS MEANING CLEAR.

Professor's Son Translated Father's Speech Into the Vernacular.

A college professor, in company with his son, was enjoying a walk in the country, when he met an old farmer. It had been a very wet season, and the professor, thinking to start the conversation in a way that would prove interesting to the farmer, remarked:

"There has been a rather abnormal precipitation of late."

The farmer seemed somewhat embarrassed, and the professor's son, who used a different vernacular, though he was a student in the college to which his father was attached, attempted to straighten out the matter. Drawing the farmer to one side, he said in a superior way:

"The governor means that we've been having a devil of a lot of rain."—Harper's Weekly.

GIRL WAS DELIRIOUS

With Fearful Eczema—Pain, Heat, and Tingling Were Excruciating—Cuticura Acted Like Magic.

"An eruption broke out on my daughter's chest. I took her to a doctor, and he pronounced it to be eczema of a very bad form. He treated her, but the disease spread to her back, and then the whole of her head was affected, and all her hair had to be cut off. The pain she suffered was excruciating, and the heat and the heat and tingling her life was almost unbearable. Occasionally she was delirious and she did not have a proper hour's sleep for many nights. The second doctor we tried afforded her just as little relief as the first. Then I purchased Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills, and before the Ointment was three-quarters finished every trace of the disease was gone. It really seemed like magic. Mrs. T. W. Hyde, Brentwood, Essex, England, Mar. 8, 1907."

"Yessum," said Sandy Pikes, as he devoured the wedge of pumpkin pie, "I sternly object to the nefarious practice of clipping of de tails of dogs."

"Ah, I am glad you are so tenderhearted, my poor man," sympathized the good housewife.

"Well, it ain't exactly dat, mum, but when a dog hasn't any tail I can't tell by de wags if he is in a good humor or not and it makes me skeery about approaching de house."

Genuine greatness is marked by simplicity, unostentatiousness, self-forgetfulness a hearty interest in others, a feeling of brotherhood with the human family.
