ROYAL OAK CHURCH NOTES.

FRED HIRSH has rented the farm of Fred Hirsh for the coming year. Mr. J. A. Miller and wife are visiting their sons, Volney B. and Henry A. Clark Blumberg last Tuesday had misfortune to lose one of his horses. Dan Shaughnessy will be moved in his new home east of the Burg this week. William McClelland has bought a nice bay mare from Wm. Duff last Monday. Henry Cort, on the River Bank farm is tilling his house for the year of the Main road. Mrs. J. H. Johnston is just getting around after being sick for the past two weeks. Alexander Porteous has added an addition to his house in the shape of a summer kitchen. Mr. Charles Todd, of Kool Kahin farm, last week put in 20 acres of oats; another early bird. Ward Parks is just affixing up things on his Long farm, and just planted 3 nice trees in front of his house. R. J. Hanna, Jr. has added one more labor to his many others, as a fire insurance man, so look out. Last Saturday high winds raked the barn of Fred Hack's farm across the road from V. B. Miller's farm. Miss Lynn Tucker has returned to her school at Ypsilanti last Monday, after being home for three weeks. John Heth and Alex. Cannon's farm will soon have phones installed. They are a mighty good thing. Push 'em. Dr. E. A. Smith is erecting a grand chicken house and will be in the market this year in the chicken business. Alexander McClelland will work his father's farm this year, and Joe McClelland will help him with the work; Shades boys. They have a young ladies base ball 9 at the John M. Beddow school; say you talk about ball playing, — this can't be beat. Our old friend George Ruesch is putting up a lot of new wire fencing. Good fences make everybody good natured. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, of Detroit, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Tucker. Mrs. Dr. E. A. Smith is having her house painted and papered and it will be one of the coziest rural homes in the country. Joseph Miller is having his house painted and decorated inside, and our little friend, Frank Smith, of Birmingham is the Bosses. John Qarton has sold his farm last week to a Detroit man; consideration, close to $7000. John says he will move to the sunny South. Fred Harris has hired out to Peter Smith & Son, of Detroit, to take charge of his big farm near Waterville, Ont. He will move in the near future. Volney B. Miller has just cleaned up the old chicken-coops that was along side the road north of his house, and it adds 90 per cent to the looks of the place. James Edgar and Sons on the Evergreen farm here have been almost completed. I tell you they are hustlers.
