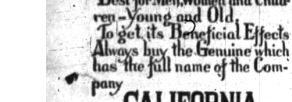
TOOK T.ME.



A Scotsman, having hired himself to a farmer, had a cheese set before him that he might help himself. After some time, the master said to him:

"Sandy, you take a long time to breakfast."

"In truth, master," said Sandy; "a cheese o' this size is na sae soon eaten as you may think.'

THE PAINTING SEASON.

Good results in painting at the least cost depend largely upon the material chosen. Paint is a simple compound and the ingredients can be easily tested. The solid part or pigment should be White Lead. The liquid part should be Linseed Oil. Those best informed on painting always buy these ingredients separately and have their painter mix them fresh for each job. Before the mixing the test is made.

Place a pea-sized bit of White Lead on a piece of charcoal or piece of wood. Blow the flame against it and see what it will do. If it is pure White Lead, little drops of bright, pure metallic lead will appear, and with patience the White Lead can be completely reduced to one globule of metallic lead. This is because pure White Lead is made from metallic lead.

You may test dozens of other so-called White Leads and not be able to reduce one of them to lead. If they will not change wholly to lead but leave a residue, it is clear that some adulterant is present.

If you should have your painting done with such materials, no matter how cheap they might seem, it would be costly in the end.

National Lead Company, Woodbridge Building, New York City, are sending on request a blowpipe free to any one about to have painting done, so that the White Lead may be tested. With it will be sent a handsomely printed booklet having as its frontispiece the "Dutch Boy Painter," reproduced from the original painting. This little painter has become noted as the guaranty of pure White Lead.

THE COME AND SEE SIGN

PUBLIC INSPECTION INVITED FROM 9 A.M. TO 4 P.M. SATURDAYS EXCEPTED LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO.

This sign is permanently attached to the front of the main building of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

What Does This Sign Mean?

It means that public inspection of the Laboratory and methods of doing business is honestly desired. It means that there is nothing about the business which is not "open and above-board."

It means that a permanent invitation is extended to anyone to come and verify any and all statements made in the advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Is it a purely vegetable compound made from roots and herbs—without drugs?

Come and See.

Do the women of America continually use as much of it as we are told?

Come and See.

Was there ever such a person as Lydia E. Pinkham, and is there any Mrs. Pinkham now to whom sick woman are asked to write?

Come and See.

Is the vast correspondence with sick women conducted by women only, and are the letters kept strictly confidential?

Come and See.

Have they really got letters from over one million, one hundred thousand women correspondents?

Come and See.

Have they proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured thousands of these women?

Come and See.

This advertisement is only for doubters. The great army of women who know from their own personal experience that no medicine in the world equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female ills will still go on using and being benefited by it; but the poor doubting, suffering woman must, for her own sake, be taught confidence, for she also might just as well regain her health.

ARE MAKING TOWN TO ORDER.

Prince Rupert Will Be the Greatest Model City Yet Built.

A Boston firm of landscape architects has been awarded the contract for making the general plans for the model city which the Grand Trunk Pacific railroad is to build in British Columbia as the Pacific terminus of the great new railroad system which is now being built across Canada.

The contract is one of the largest ever given for a similar undertaking, says the Village. As yet there is only a small settlement where it is intended to a large and important commercial and manufacturing city will be built. The settlement is on Kaien Island and the new city will be known as Prince Rupert.

The area which is available for the site comprises between seven and eight square miles, although only a small part of this will be developed within the near future. The island is of considerable size, but only about one-third will be available because of the mountain, Mount Hays, which rises to an elevation of 2,300 feet near the center of the island.

The railroad will cross from the mainland to Porpoise Island and then to Kaien Island by means of bridges, the first of which will be about a quarter of a mile in length and the second some 200 feet long. Already a dock a thousand feet long has been constructed along a part of the waterfront and it is planned to extend this for a much longer distance. The shores are very bold and this will aid greatly in preparing places for shipping and also keep down the cost of building docks.

It is said to be the plan to have the shipping and wholesale business on the first level, which rises to 75 or 100 feet; the retail business and the public buildings on the second level, which is some 200 feet high, and forms a sort of ridge, and the residences still further back on a third level of about 100 feet elevation.

Ample provision for parks will be made. There is an excellent chance for one on a natural elevation above at Point Hays, named, like the mountain, in honor of the president of the railroad; Charles M. Hays of Montreal, and a third at the southwestern end of the city.

It is probable that Digby Island, just to the westward of Kaien Island, will be developed for residences, a purpose for which it is admirably adapted. The expenditures which are contemplated by the railroad company at this place alone will total many millions if present plans are carried out.

Prince Rupert is situated within 50 miles of the southern extremity of Alaska and 551 miles north of Vancouver, at the very entrance to the salmon fishing grounds. It is in the immediate vicinity of a large number of canneries which send their products to all parts of the world. Near at hand are the famous halibut fishing grounds.

Already there is considerable activity on behalf of the railroad, and recently a contract was let for clearing 2,000 acres of land at $220,000.

Only the Runner-Up.

The best man thought he'd take a look around and see that everything was running right. A gentleman bride would wish it, and up in the room where the presents were displayed, alone and unhappy-looking, he came upon a youth, seemingly ready, like the wedding guest of the English poet, to "beat his breast." He was wandering about, looking at silver and cut glass without seeing them, and the best man hardly knew how to approach him.

"Er—have you kissed the bride?" he asked, at last.

And the answer told far more than its two meager words might have been expected to. It was: "Not lately."—Lippincott's.

A Cure for His Trouble.

"Doctor," said the woman whose husband owed everybody in town, "John's in a very bad way. I've been trying to get him to come to see you, but he's so obstinate, you know, and so I've made up my mind to see you myself and ask whether you think you can do anything for him."

"What are his symptoms?"

"Oh, he's awfully nervous. He never seems to settle down to anything."

"Hm'm, That's bad. That puts him in an awful predicament. When a man gets so that he can neither settle down nor settle up, the only thing I can recommend is travel. Better take what things you can move conveniently and start on a long journey sometime when nobody's looking. I won't let on."

Willing to Try Again.

"Jedgee" said the old darky, "you been a married man a long time?"

"Yes."

"An' you' experience is jest as' wise?"

"I hope so. Why?"

"Well, suh, I got a 'oman ter say she'll marry me—one dat's willin' ter rise airly an' make a livin' fer de ol' man—dat's why."

"But—you are a very old man. Were you ever married?"

"Oh, yes, suh," was the reply, "in Tennessee an' Alabama; but both er 'um tried to rule me, an' so I let 'um fo' I got experienced good; but I'll say dis much, I hez never yit tried de married state in Georgy."—Atlanta Constitution.

A few years ago many Boers were emigrating form the Transvaal in preference to enduring the monstrous oppression which they were sure the, British government was about to impose upon them, says the New York Tribune. And now one of the foremost of them appeals to the British government for protection for his family from the unjust and cruel treatment which he declares is prevalent in another country and under another flag. Truly the times have changed since "Oom Paul" threatened to await the coming of the invader, seated on the stoop of his house, elephant gun in hand.

Cause and Effect.

"Yes," said Mrs. Nexdor, "my daughter is very persevering in her piano-playing. Do you notice that she's improving?"

"No," replied Mrs. Peppery, "and I also notice that my husband's temper isn't."

THE CALL OF THE SOIL.

DAYS OF FINANCIAL STRESS MAKE FARM LANDS LOOK RICH.

A staff contributor of a southern newspaper has taken up the question of the return to the farm of many who had forsaken it for the glitter of the city. He says: "It is a well known fact that the history of this Government shows that those men who have been most successful in life and who have left their impress upon its people and its institutions as statesmen, soldiers, financiers—have as a rule been those whose youth was spent on the farm, and it is to such as these that there comes with overmastering power THE CALL OF THE SOIL. More especially does it come with redoubled persuasiveness, greater power and sweeter pleading to the man of affairs when the clouds of financial unrest begin to darken the sky; when the cry of panic causes people to lose their wits and act like stampeded cattle; when with reason or without reason there arises before him the specter of ruin, grinning in his face and waving its gaunt arms in threatening gesticulation.

The pitiable state into which some men were brought by the recent financial flurry, which happily is now passed, suggests these reflections. Some were ruined and a very few became insane because of their losses. Two or three took their own lives.

It is when such times come that the statesman, the great financier, and the man of affairs becomes tired of the struggle. He lays down his pen, turns from his desk and listens to the CALL OF THE SOIL.

There are hundreds of cases throughout the United States of those who have money in the banks and are looking for investment in lands. No investment is safer. Take, for instance, the lands in Western Canada that can be bought at from $10 to $15 per acre which yield a revenue equal to and often greater than their original cost. Those lands make a certain investment. During the past two months large investments in these lands have been made, some intending to use the lands for farming purposes of their own. Others to resell to farmer friends. The agents of the Government of Canada located at different points throughout the United States have in their possession particulars of districts in which there are free homestead grants of 160 acres each accessible to railways, markets, schools, churches, &c. These are valuable lands. These agents will be pleased to give information to any desirous of securing, and will tell all about the railway rates, &c.

A FORGOTTEN ROMANCE.

"Do you remember, Jane, 20 years ago, a moonlight night, when I whispered, tenderly: 'Jennie, I love you,' and you answered, passionately: 'John, you nose looks so funny and swollen. Do you suppose, something's bitten it?"

Maintaining His Dignity.

Even the elevator boy had to draw the line somewhere, to prevent his being made too common. A writer in the New York Evening Post tells of a recent experience with one of the fraternity.

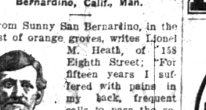
"If any one calls, Percy, while I am out, tell him to wait. I shall be right back," she said to the apartment house elevator boy.

There was no answer.

"Did you hear me? Why don't you answer?" asked the woman, with some heat.

"I never answers, ma'am, unless I doesn't hear, and then I says 'What?'"

SHOCK.



George—Something is preying on my mind.

Mrs. Sharp—Ah, "something" merely wanted a light lunch, I presume.

THE LIVING ROOM.

It Should at All Times Be a "Livable" Room.

What to do with the living room is a problem that confronts every housekeeper. The living room should be in fact as well as in name a living room—a livable room. It is the room in which the most of our time at home is spent, the hours we have for leisure, the time we have for play, the place where we entertain our friends and it is absolutely essential that the walls and furnishings of the living room should be harmonious in color, suitable in texture, and durable in material.

The rich, soft, solid colored walls are the ideal walls for the living rooms. They make a better back ground for pictures, throw the furniture out in better relief, are less discordant with rugs and carpeting, and indicate a higher degree of taste and culture than do the colored monstrosities which we paste on when we apply wall paper.

Who ever saw roses climbing up a plastered wall growing out of a hardwood floor? Yet, that is what we suggest to the imagination when we paste paper covered with roses on our walls. They are neither artistic nor true. Roses are all very beautiful, but they were never made to climb up interior walls and they do not grow from hardwood flooring. The set figures of wall paper are also tiresome and equally disagreeable and repellant.

The alabastined wall is the only correct form of a tinted or solid colored wall. Fortunately it is the only clean way, and more fortunately it is the only permanent way; the only way that does not involve the endless labor in the future.

In lighting the walls some thought must be given the color. Light colors reflect 85% of the light thrown upon them. Dark colors reflect but 15%. Lighting bills can be saved by choosing a color which will reflect the largest degree of light. In north rooms use warm colors or colors which reflect light. In south and west rooms sometimes the light can be modified by the use of darker colors. Dark greens absorb the light; light yellows reflect it; browns modify it, and so on, through the scale of colors. The color scheme of a room not only is dependent upon the color of the carpetings but it is also dependent upon the light of the room.

CURE AT CITY MISSION.

Awful Case of Scabies—Body a Mass of Sores from Scratching—Her Tortures Yield to Cuticura.

"A young woman came to our city mission in a most awful condition physically. Our doctor examined her and told us that she had scabies (the itch), incipient paresis, rheumatism, etc., brought on from exposure. Her poor body was a mass of sores from scratching and she was not able to retain solid food. We worked hard over her for seven weeks but we could see little improvement. One day I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, and we bathed the patient well and gave her a full dose of the Resolvent. She slept better that night and the next day I got a box of Cuticura Ointment. In five weeks this young woman was able to look for a position, and sheds now strong and well. WHY HIS HORSE WON THE BLUE RIBBON.

An Amusing Incident at a County Fair That Taught One Horse Owner a Lesson.

At one of the County Fairs held in New York state last Summer the blue ribbon in a certain class of entrants was awarded to a big strapping 4-year-old horse that looked like he could pull a plough or a buggy or run a mile in 1:50 or thereabouts with equal ease. He was a fine looking fellow, stood about 15.3 hands high, and was as sleek as velvet and weighed close on to 1300 pounds. His owner stood by his side after the awarding of the ribbon and was being congratulated as fast as people could reach him. Just then a buggy drawn by a horse that looked like he was ready to lie down and die, drew up in the roadway and the driver halloed to the owner of the blue ribboner. The latter gentleman made his way to the buggy and shook hands with the stranger. "Hello, Frank," says he, "haven't seen you for a mighty long time, but we couldn't have met on a greater occasion. Remember the mare in foal that I bought from you? Well, her colt just won the blue ribbon!"

"Blue ribbon?" echoed the other man, surprised and apparently thinking of something else.

"Sure," replied the elated owner, "but, by the way, you had a year older full brother to my horse, what became of him?"

"This is him I'm driving," replied the other man.

"That!" gasped the first man. Everybody laughed. "Well, what on earth have you done to him?" he asked. "Oh, I guess he's run down," was the answer.

"Then you ought to do what I did for my horse, give him Pratts Animal Regulator and he'll soon brace up and look like his brother."

It may be mentioned for the benefit of our readers that Pratts Animal Regulator is the favorite with all owners of horses, cows, sheep, hogs and other live stock because it improves the animal's digestion, regulates their bowels, tones up their systems, makes muscle and fat, and gives them new life and spirits. Thousands of users say it is the greatest preventive of animal diseases known.

In connection with this reference to Pratts Animal Regulator it may be well to suggest to our readers that they send a postal card to the Pratt Food Co., Dept. R, Philadelphia, and ask for a copy of Pratts New Horse Book or Pratts New Cattle Book, New Hog Book or New Sheep Book. Any one of these books will be sent absolutely free of charge, although they formerly sold for 25c. each, and the lucky recipient is not apt to part with any of the books once he realizes its value.
