

BEHIND THE SCENES IN POLITICS THE WARD BOSSES

By ERNEST M'GAFFEY

For once do this, and the unaccountable ones remain at the same old stand, revelling in the ingratitude of the ones who "made the riffs" and got away with their "bonds"...

WARD "bosses" come and go. They rise and fall, and one makes room for another as they are as sudden and abrupt as the changes in the stock market...

Such a thing as a conscience is something that no insouciant ward boss will harbor for to him conscience is a dead letter in politics...

It was a matter of genuine interest to see how the ward bosses would handle the election of 1918...

THE MERRY GENTLEMEN

Too Hasty. "Laura," said Mr. Ferguson, crossing his knife and fork on his plate and folding up his napkin, "what is the difference?"

Luck. "I suppose you wouldn't part with your dear old farmhouse for anything," said the enthusiastic friend.

Strange, if True. A curious thing happened at a little gathering which I attended at the home of one of the guests to him it was noted.

Secret of Success. This, Boarder, I don't see how you manage to fare so well at this board of yours. I have tried to do so myself, but I'm half starved.

Forcing His Chances. "So Shadowly is in trouble again?" "Yes, a bit of a card scandal."

Mathematical. "Are you going to make an example of that wraith?" said one statesman.

In a Out. "What's that noise?" asked the visitor in the apartment house.
