

STRANGE ROW BOAT OF INDIA

On the rivers of the India clummy-looking craft above seen are common sight. The vessel is considerably different from the American row boat; the prow of the craft is open and the oars are long, overlapping each other, and are lashed to upright posts fastened to the sides of the boat.

BEARS FEAR MAN.

SOME GOOD STORIES UPSET BY CHARLES SHELDON.

New York Millionaire Hunter Says Bears Are Not So Big as Generally Supposed, But Skin Can Be Stretched.

Spokane, Wash.—Charles Sheldon of New York, millionaire, chairman of the board of the National Geographic Society, and a Yale man of 1890, has just returned from a hunting expedition in the Mount McKinley region. He has captured one of the largest bears he has ever seen in the United States, for the last 12 months.

DIVORCE COURT ON RIVERSIDE

Judge Parts Wisconsin Pair at Trial Held in Open Air.

Appleton, Wis.—A half rotted stump of what once was a giant of the white oak of the Wisconsin woods, while all outdoors, with a river view to the fore and a gentle, sloping hillside to the rear, was the court where Judge John Goodland, who for 12 years has presided over higher judicial matters in the Tenth Wisconsin Judicial circuit, granted the divorce of Mrs. Ada Ebeling from William Ebeling.

Late in the afternoon Mrs. Ebeling, accompanied by her attorneys, made a flying trip in an automobile from Green Bay to Appleton, with a view to securing a divorce. Judge Goodland, who is at his summer home at Tetahala Springs, on the Fox river, a few miles east of Appleton.

Undaunted by this condition, they sped to the jurist's home. The attorneys hastily presented their case and convinced the judge that the defendant was willing that the action go by default, and without the formality of going to the courthouse Judge Goodland called a session of court on the river bank. Mrs. Ebeling was asked a few stereotyped but necessary questions and the decree separating her from the man whose name she has carried three months previously was issued.

A SIMPLE SAFEGUARD IN BUYING PAINT.

Everybody should know how simple and easy it is to avoid all uncertainty in buying paint materials. There are many so-called white leads on the market, which contain zinc, zinc, barytes, and other cheap adulterants. Unless the property owner has the advantage of the simple means of protection afforded him by reliable white lead manufacturers, he runs great risk of getting an inferior and adulterated white lead.

It is to protect the paint-buyer against fraud and adulteration that the National Lead Company, the largest makers of genuine Pure White Lead, have their famous "Dutch Boy" Paints, tested, analyzed, and guaranteed an absolute guarantee of its purity and quality. Anyone who wants to make a practical test of white lead, and who has a reliable friend or acquaintance, should address National Lead Company, Woodbridge Bldg., New York, and ask for test equipment.

CARRIED GENTURE TOO FAR.

Boy's Action Possibly Appropriate, But Somewhat Unnecessary.

Vivian Burnett, the original of the still-remembered Little Red Firebug, at the Chicago convention discussed with a reporter a certain party maneuver. "They went too far," said Mr. Burnett. "They made themselves ridiculous by their actions. I don't know what they reminded me of? They reminded me of a juvenile ecologist my mother of five years ago. This kid, at a school term, got up to recite the first piece of his life. He was ambitious; he wished to make a great success of his piece, and he had told by his teacher that the secret of elocution was the gesture—for every phrase its fitting gesture."

DESIGNED NEW AMERICAN FLAG.

The Professor—How remarkable! I can distinctly see a man in the moon. What an exceedingly plain person. "There are no automobiles on the golden streets of heaven," says the Whitest Courier, "but they're giving lots of folks a chance to see these golden streets. One of the contraptions arrived in town last week and during the first stop the owner took it to it, pitched a blind made on top of the town hall, with the man that was riding the mule. The mule was so mad it kicked and reared, and the man fell into a hole in the road an' fell on the mayor, just as he had took his seat ' called the aid of the order, the mule walked slow and dignified to the front door an' then took to the woods."
