Now let me say all the Carriers were well remembered by their patrons, and we want to say thank you all for these gifts. We remain your humble servants, as ever, CHRISTMAS, 1906.

We understand that Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Jackson presented their tenants, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Young, for Xmas a $20 gold piece, for their faithfulness during their year of service. That was a noble deed.

The chicken pox has gone through the school No. 7, and many of the scholars have had it, the first that had it are now about to be out, but by the time that the school commences all will be in readiness to commence school again.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Miller, the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Miller, of Detroit, and in the evening Mr. and Mrs. James Miller, of Birmingham, were there for a grand Xmas tree. Uncle James was Santa Claus and he made a good one.

Miss S. Monroe has been confined to her bed for the past two or three months and is a pretty sick woman, and it takes all of Mr. Monroe's time to wait on his good wife and the neighbors run in and do what they can for them but it is feared that she is not long for this earth.

I. N. Voorhis, carrier No. 2, was made happy Dec. 24, by being presented by his patrons with a dandy galley overcoat, made up to date, and enough money to get a cap to match. We understand that Mrs. Gaylord Forman and Mrs. Higby were the hostesses in getting the coat. Let the good work go on.

Robert Cromie and family stayed at home Xmas and passed the cigars and the mail and got his share yet. When the mail man got to the door a big bushel of corn, wrapped him and carrier No. 1, took it all big and behold L. J. Haack had a big bag and he took it up against the mail box, but that was not all, he carried a quart of the stock to which the powder is given. You should not fail to try this stock food, that, after a few days, you will notice a wonderful change in the stock. Get a package at the nearest feed store. Price 25c. Sold by James W. Cobb.

It Does the Business. E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Maine, says of Bucklen's Arnica Salve: "It does the business. I have used it for piles and it cured them. It is cheap and it cured them. Applied it to an old sore and it healed it. I used it on my little boy's sore at James W. Cobb's and Charles J. Shain's drug stores."

WANT GOOD AGENTS. PLEASE READ The McCormick Nursery company, Monroe, one of the most reliable nursery firms in the United States writes us that it wants a good live agent in this section solicit orders for trees, shrubs and plants. AT THE THEATRES.

LYCEUM.

The old reliable drama, "In Old Kentucky," with its delightful romance of the blue grass state, its merry and pickaninnies, its exciting horse race, its capital comedy scenes and its wholesome characterizations, is to appear here for one week beginning next Sunday afternoon at the Lyceum, and although the play is now in its sixteenth year, it holds its own with the best of latter-day offerings. No one has ever seen an indifferent performance of the play. Wise management has kept up the standard of excellence early achieved and attained, and the end of "In Old Kentucky" is not yet indicated. There is plenty of room for more plays of its class.

The engagement opens with a Sunday matinee, in addition to which the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be given.

WHITNEY.

The terrors of a southern fever swamp are clearly shown in A. H. Woods' newest drama, "The Creole Slave's Revenge," which comes to the Whitney next Sunday afternoon for one week.

The scene showing the swamp is taken from photographs. It is a wonder of stagecraft art. Nearly three thousand pounds of plants, herbs and foliage are used to lend atmosphere to the stage setting. This scene is but one of a realistic series.

"The Creole Slave's Revenge" has done much and will do more to forever do away with the disgraceful system of slave buying.

The engagement is for one week with matinee daily except on Wednesday.

A Cure for Misery.

"I have found a cure for the misery malaria poison produces," says E. M. James, of Louellen, South Carolina.

It is called Bitter Pills, and comes in five bottles. "It has cured me of chills or a bilious attack in almost no time; and it puts yellow jaundice clean out of commission. This great tonic and blood purifier gives quick relief in all stomach, liver and kidney complaints and the misery of lame back. Sold and guaranteed at James W. Cobb's and Charles J. Shain's drug stores."

NOTICE TO TROY TAXPAYERS.

I will be at the Exchange Bank in Birmingham Saturday, Dec. 26, 1906, Saturday, Jan. 2, 1907 and Saturday, Jan. 9, 1907, to receive Troy tax payers.

CHARLES CLARK, Town treasurer.

Pain Weakens

Headache, rheumatism, neuralgia, or pains of any nature weaken the system—they are a strain upon the nerves. Almost instant relief can be obtained by taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and with-out any bad after-effects. Take one on first indication of an attack—it will ward it off. They are a pleasant little tablet, sold by druggists everywhere, 25 doses 25 cents; never sold in bulk.

"I was subject to constant headache for a period of four years. At times I was almost unable to do the work in which I am engaged, that of station agent. Through the advice of a friend I tried Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and the result was that I have entirely eradicated my sufferings from those continuous headaches that follow a continual mental strain. They are the best medicine I have ever taken for them."

O. T. RUSSELL, Claim. C. & N. W. R. Y., Battle Creek, Ia.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for a year now for neuralgia and rheumatism. They are the best medicine I have ever taken for them. They surely have been a blessing to me. I have never had any other medicine since I took them. O. T. RUSSELL, Claim. C. & N. W. R. Y., Battle Creek, Ia.

Your druggist sells Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and will authorize him to give you a trial package (only if it fails to cure you).
