

NEWS OF THE WEEK IN DITIALIZED FORM

It seems reasonably clear that Case to save the psychological moment coming and ducked.

Chicago isn't exactly going "dry," but it is trying to give up liquor, and that's a hopeful sign.

It is proposed to double the president's salary. If that is done, there will be 14 candidates instead of seven, next time.

Connecticut's champion eel skinner has retired from business. Here's a good job for some ambitious young skinner.

One thing certain is that the Emancipation movement cannot stop the prevailing disposition of man to put up an argument.

A new kind of flea has been discovered in California. It has six teeth and is a high jumper. It is designed to pounce on airplanes.

An exchange tells us that the Kaiser's favorite maxim is "Forget it. All right. You know I'm not going to be on to you for my memory."

Senator Elkins has long had an eye toward investing in a new country. He thought that he was figuring on a duke, but he has bought a bank.

Whiting's chief of police was held up and robbed of his star, revolvers and money. He hopes the high waymen left him at least a few dollars.

A Colorado man gave his grandson aged one month to the "Christ" man present. Think of the toys that youngster can buy with all that money.

The telephone girls at Rockford, Ill., are because they were not permitted to talk. As well tell the birds not to sing and the flowers not to throw off their fragrance.

A Pittsburg artist succeeded in getting a flashlight photograph of a man in the city of Chicago. He is receiving a bribe. It may properly be referred to as a moving picture.

Specializing in farming will be carried too far if scientific farmers produce cobblers corn. Several thousand acres then would have to be devoted to raising a variety that grew only cob pieces.

Both Paris and London are discussing the commercial future of the world. It is a question of whether the sporting fraternity will get into aeroplane some time in advance of aeroplanning.

Castro of Venezuela, who "revoluted" himself into the presidency and held on to the office ever since, must have heavy contempt for one who is so "easy" as the late President Alexis of Haiti.

A New York judge has decided that a man whose salary is not more than a woman's work need not pay her. This may cause some men to quit exaggerating when they refer to the salaries they draw.

Since this country set up its gold standard, an independent nation in billions of dollars. It takes the American bank about six years to furnish eggs and chickens worth that much.

Going barefoot seems to be growing very popular in the West Indies than it used to be. During the last year the United States exported more than two and a half million pairs of shoes to these islands, one-third as many as the exports to the whole world.

Early in the new year another battle between the states will be fought. It will be called the Delaware in honor of Maryland's little neighbor on the coast. No doubt it will be a fine ship and will add more fighting to the strongest naval strength force in the whole world.

The children of the late Charles E. Perkins of Boston have given to the city of Colorado Springs the Garden of the Gods, one of the scenic wonders of America. The park has long been open to the public, and the formal transfer is in accordance with the Perkins' wish. This gift is similar in spirit to Mr. Kent's gift of Mull Park, California, to the nation, and to a bequest recently received by the city of Boston of a large sum of money to maintain the city park.

In the light of revelations from Hart it is not at all surprising that revolutions succeed where they fail. It is announced in official dispatches that the government troops are so disaffected that they have to be tied together in couples to prevent them from shooting. This suggests a modification of an old "pope."

The soldiers they stand two by two, the sergeant and the corporal he, if not tied they surely flee, leaving the government up a tree.

The man, experienced in hunting in Africa, who says that the president will find no elephants where he is going, is very likely right. The elephant is a wise beast, and the president's proposed route has been published for some time.

The girl who has neglected to propose during leap year and finds herself still alone and unsought may be expected to be pretty disagreeable with the poet that "of all words of those I love, the saddest are these: 'It might have been.'"

Nine cadets have just been sent home from the West Point Military academy because they were found to be deficient in discipline, while three others were given a year's suspension. The soldiers they stand two by two, the sergeant and the corporal he, if not tied they surely flee, leaving the government up a tree.

The man, experienced in hunting in Africa, who says that the president will find no elephants where he is going, is very likely right. The elephant is a wise beast, and the president's proposed route has been published for some time.

EVERYTHING AS FAVORABLE

BORRY HE DIDN'T MOVE TO WESTERN CANADA BEFORE.

Mr. Austin had a man who had never had any previous experience in farming, but Western Canada had allowed a certificate from the Government agent, and then moved.

What he says is interesting: "I got a letter from Alberta, Jan. 10, '10. 'N. Grieve, West. Star, Washington, D. C., said: 'Dear Sir: After a dozen or more years of unsuccessful effort in the West, I have decided to return to Washington, D. C., and to come to Alberta with a gentleman who is offering two cars live stock to Edmonton. I understand that with the stock over one hundred head out in the Birch Lake country of Edmonton, Idaho, and California, how much you would like to see in a new country.'"
