STATE PAYING NO BILLS

While Institutions Borrow to Pay Their Running Expenses, How is the Interest to Be Met?

According to a State Treasurer's Report, the latest appropriation made by the legislature was $1,600,000 too low to meet the deficit that is growing against the state.

How we have practically paid no bills since July 1," said the treasurer. "The new law set out the amount of the payrolls of the clerks employed in the various state departments for which we are liable."

There is likely to be a fast raised when the state institutions try to make up the deficits which are piling up against them. They are meeting expenses and paying the payrolls by borrowing and it will be a question as to how the interest on the sums borrowed are to be paid.
