OUR CLUB NOTES

From the Woman's Literary Club Which Meets Tuesday Afternoon of Every Week

The Woman's club was called to order March 2 by the president. The roll call was responded to with items of interest.

The secretary presented applications for membership, signed by Mrs. M. Tabor, Mrs. Stanley, and Mrs. Flynn. A ballot was taken which resulted in a unanimous vote for the above named persons.

On motion it was decided that members must be placed on the honorary list by vote of the society, not by the membership committee.

The legislative committee, through chairman Mrs. Hemmenway, reported the work of the legislature at Lansing. The president spoke of the grand victory of the women in Sweden in their fight for full suffrage.

The call for speeches brought a response from each newly elected officer of all of whom were present, and each was elected on the first election ballot.

Reference was made to a paper given by Mrs. Clara B. Arthur, of Detroit, before a Detroit club and it was moved and carried that Mrs. Arthur be invited to give the paper before this club March 16.

Mrs. H. C. Wilson very kindly offered the club the use of some book-plates on the subject of next year's study. The offer was thankfully accepted.

The Woman's club of Clarkston, are working for a free public library.

SNAPS-WAYS ACTS

Happenings at the Corners By the Quality Folks and By the Same Author

Such ways and acts are as plainly seen as the splash of ink on the wall by the faded sign of the Devil.

Mariah duly informed Ruben on his return from a session of the sit-fast club, that they both had an invite out to dinner, and that they ought to make out to go.

"Never mind 'kin' no lunch for me Mariah," replied Reuben once on a time when Mariah had leave of absence from their baronial castle.

"Don't make no fuss on our count, Miss Servoce," said Mariah as she and Reuben walked in to the Servoce home one day.

"Oh yes," said Mariah, "Sister Brown's airy with her washin', she shales does it Sunday afternoon, so she have it out on the line Monday forenoon 'fore Miss Rouse gets her out."

"These shoes go," said Reuben to Mariah, as the trolley car sid past them eight or ten rods, after having been given a quarter of a mile leeway to stop.

"What'll I do with this bushell of culls Reuben?" said Mariah who was several aples. "Put 'em right here in the middle of the barrel!" said Reuben.
