OPEN AIR PENITENTIARY

BOSTON'S MOVE IN AID OF TUBERCULOUS CHILDREN

THE SCHOOL ROOM

Open air treatment for tuberculosis has extended to the public schools at least this is so in Boston, which is believed to be the first in this country to establish such an open air school. This experiment is being carried on jointly through the winter by the Boston Association for the Relief and Control of Tuberculosis, which organized it, and the Boston school board. Besides furnishing the teacher, the board has recently issued 500 street car tickets. These are for the children who are too poor to pay car fare, and for those who live a long distance from the school.

The principal reason for starting the school, says Walter E. Kruesel, secretary of the Boston Association for the Relief and Control of Tuberculosis, was that there were many tuberculous children and nowhere to send them. The association hasn't money enough to take care of all the children in the public schools who are afflicted.

The school board has signified its willingness to make an appropriation to increase the size of the school when assured of the permanent success of the scheme, and so great has been the improvement in the children in this school that the matter has passed beyond the experimental stage.

Mr. Kruesel would like to see the entire building, of which now only the roof and the dining hall in the basement are occupied, made into an open-air school, accommodating 250 pupils. This could easily be done if the library which is maintained in the building at present were abolished.

The progress made by the pupils in this open-air school is the same as that made by normal scholars in the same grade in the public schools, but if these same children were compelled to remain in the ordinary school they would not progress at all.

Since this school was started, letters have come from Cleveland, Cincinnati and Columbus, from men interested in the experiment, the practical experience from those interested being a surprise that no one had thought of starting an open air public school before.

There have been a number of years open air schools for the children of the rich, private schools, and the one which was established in an abandoned schoolhouse in Providence, R. I., last fall, the first of its kind in America—which is not, however, a public school—another at Glen Gardner, N. J., while in California it located the Marienfeld school for boys.

Dr. James J. Milnot made a report to the school board in which he stated that there were 2,000 children who needed outdoor schooling, and that 250 of whom should have special nourishment and special attention to hygiene and should be allowed the maximum of fresh air.

WHAT WIFE SAYS "GOES."

But It Sometimes Is Bad for the Painting.

When a property-owner knows nothing about what is bad for the property-owner, and bad for the painter, it would not be so if the property-owner would always hire a skilled painter, and then really have everything to him. But the house-owner so often fools himself on one or the other of these things.

The skilled painter in every community has some of the most incompetent competitors that ever vexed a conscientious workman. And these incompetents get jobs generally by working cheap. In the next place, when the skilled painter is hired, they do not leave everything to him, as so many property-owners boast they do. They interfere most ignorantly and most fatally. They insist sometimes on using paint materials without investigating whether they are good or not. Or perhaps they insist on the painter's hurrying the work.

"I'm not going to have that painter's mess around my house a month," the wife says, and what wife says goes at the cost of a lot of wasted painting money.

If the painter stays away a few days to allow the paint to thoroughly dry the owner says, "That painter's neglecting his work—guess he's side-tracking me for Jones' work. I won't stand it."

What chance does a painter have to do good work for a man who is continually nagging at him and who is hand-capping him (without meaning it, of course)? A poor job is the inevitable result of such interference.

Four things, one of the house-owner's money—don't forget that. It might pay you to get the practical painter, book, stating specifications and in strictest form for the work to be done, which National Lead Co. are offering under the title of House-painter's Painting Guide No. 10. Address National Lead Co., 1902 Trinity Bldg., New York City. This Trinity Co. do not make paint—they leave that to the painter, but they make the best white lead ("Church Boy Painter" trademark kind), and they can tell you just how to save money by selecting good painting.

These New Towns in the Northwest All Need Men

Hundreds of new towns are springing up all over the Pacific Northwest.

The big, easy fortunes being made from fruit, farming and stock-raising, are making these towns grow fast. They all need men who know trades—they need you, whether you have money to invest or not.

Never, in the history of America, has the man who works with his hands had such a chance to make money, as is offered in the west today.

You Are Losing Money Every Day You Stay in the East

You would not stay another day in the work-out East, if you knew even half the truth about the great Pacific Northwest.

Families who went there penniless 5 years ago, are spending this winter in California. They bought good land at low prices—paid for it gradually—today are sold out.

Opportunities are greater now than ever, because the country is more developed.
