

W. R. C. No. 260

From Oxford, Royally Entertained by Mrs. W. H. McClelland, Thursday of Last Week.

Women's Relief Corps No. 260, from Oxford, held its annual dinner and supper, in this village, on Wednesday last week, at the spacious home of its honored member, Mrs. W. H. McClelland, wife of Superintendent McClelland, of the Pontiac Division, D. U. R.

All joined in singing "Praise God, From Whom All Blessings Flow," before being seated at the table.

The Pontiac Corps was invited to spend the afternoon and remain for supper, and a large delegation responded.

District President, Mrs. Belle M. Hadley, of Rochester, was present and gave a good talk, when the program was presented, on the work of the Order in District No. 1.

The President of Oxford Corps, Mrs. Amy E. Glaspie, had charge of the program, and gave a humorous reading which put all present in good humor, as is her custom.

Mrs. Jean Ward, District Press Correspondent, gave a reading on the "Fourth of July in Manilla." The birthday of the American nation celebrated there with the greatest enthusiasm.

Mrs. Emma Hadrill, of Oxford, also gave a humorous reading.

Mrs. S. Carter gave an interesting talk on the Kalamazoo convention.

Mrs. Jenks talked of the Birmingham Memorial Association, something new to the other ladies, and which they were glad to hear about, as it shows deep public interest in the Grand Army of the Republic.

ANNUAL MEETING M. & M.

Of Fractional District No. 1, of Bloomfield, Royal Oak, Southfield and Troy, held Monday Night.

That no great amount of interest is shown toward school matters was evidenced by the usual small attendance—a total of 30—at the annual school meeting held Monday evening last at the school house.

W. D. Clizbe nominated Samuel Herdson as a candidate to succeed him as trustee for a term of three years. John Hanna placed in nomination Anna Hall, and A. Whitehead performed a like service for Charles J. Shain.

The estimates for the coming year were: Teachers' salaries, $8,500; general expense, $2,800; repairs, $1,500. It will thus be necessary to raise by tax $6,400, to piece out the cash on hand, primary money and mill tax.

Discussion followed in a friendly manner, and the teachers' salaries, repairs, etc., were all gone over carefully by an interested, economical body of voters, all earnestly desirous of doing the best possible for our school.

A rumor was current that it might be advisable to invest $30,000 in another building.

LIST IS GROWING

Subscriptions for St. James' Rectory Continue to Come In Freely. —Will Probably Dry.

The work of the special committee, that has been soliciting funds for the St. James' Rectory, will soon be successfully completed. It is probable that the Vestry will then appoint a special committee of two or three of its members to consider the question of the most suitable piece of property for the purpose.

The sentiment prevails that it will be better for the committee to buy a house rather than to buy a lot and build. It has been decided also that it is not necessary that the house should be adjoining the church and other sites will be considered. It is necessary that the house be a good sized one and that the house be fairly modern.

Anyone having a suitable house to offer to the committee may call the attention of Mr. James Cobb to the property and each piece will be given careful consideration.

Following is the list of those whose names have been handed in as subscribers, or intended subscribers, since the last meeting of the committee: Mrs. J. A. Bigelow, Chas. Dickinson, Capt. Alfred Eade, Miss Iva Felder, A. Gould, Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Heberlein, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Jackson, Mrs. H. H. Hulbert, Miss Helen T. Hulbert, Geo. H. Keyes, John L. Keyser, Sam. H. Rogers, A. Whitehead.

Sees Mother Grow Young. "It would be hard to overstate the wonderful change in my mother since she began to take 'Electric Bitters,'" writes Mrs. W. L. Gilpatrick, of Danforth, Maine. Although past 70 she is now ready to be going young again.

ADVERTISED LETTERS. List of letters remaining uncalled for in Birmingham postoffice on July 12, 1909: Miss Elaine L. Arlington, Mrs. Adams, box 255; J. H. Allen, Mrs. Brown, Croninger, Mr. H. Kinard, Ray Benning.
