BIRMINGHAM BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

Sermon Themes for Sunday morning: "A Great Calm," in the evening, "A Faithful Sailing." At 6 p. m., E. Y. P. U. prayer meeting at 6 p. m., Topic, "The Chances We Miss." Leader, Harold Salyer.

The attendance at Sunday school last Sunday was exceptionally fine and the collection was much above the average.

Many of our members are in attendance at the Baptist state convention held in Detroit this week.

Next Sunday is review in the Sunday school and our Vice Supt. Mr. Voorheis is planning a special program to be something of a surprise to the school. He has requested every member of the choir to come provided with a pencil and a piece of paper. We do not know what for but if we are present we will find out. Let us remember that the time is 11:15.

For More Than Three Decades Fowler's Has been a household favorite for coughs, colds and ailments of the throat, chest and lungs. Contains no opiates. Sold by all druggists.

OUR CLUB NOTES

Notes from the Women's Club Which Meets Every Two Weeks On Monday Afternoon

The Royal Oak Women's club met for their second meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. George Beecher Monday, Oct. 27.

Some very important subjects were discussed among which was the matter of fire escapes on our school building also the public drinking cup. After much discussion a committee was appointed to confer with the school board and decide what may be done to better conditions along these lines. It was decided also to ask the Grand Trunk railway to plant some trees on their grounds on the west side of Washington avenue.

The program for the day was most interesting, the subject being "The Home."

Roll call was very interesting, each lady giving her address.

This was followed by the song, "Home Sweet Home" by the club. "What Mikes Home" was the subject of a very scholarly paper by Mrs. Beach.

"How to Simplify Housekeeping" was read in a very practical way by Mrs. Gibson. After listening to this paper the ladies all felt that housekeeping need not be a drudgery unless we choose to make it so.

Mrs. Morrison gave a reading entitled "The Woman in the Kitchen in 1930" in which she pictured the man doing the housekeeping, especially the cooking.

Mrs. Filding read a most excellent paper on "The Benefits of the Literary Club to the Home." She said in part that a woman is a better home maker, a better mother and a greater help to her husband because of the broadening of her vision that comes from the literary club.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Wilcox.

NINETY YEARS YOUNG

Mrs. Eliza Warner celebrated her 90th birthday at her home in Royal Oak last Saturday. A few of her old friends and members of the family called to see her during the day and many others who did not call sent postal cards bearing birthday greetings.

It was the wish of her friends that she might receive at least 90 cards and she did receive nearly that many. Mrs. Warner has a host of friends in Royal Oak where she has lived for many years.

"Spring still makes spring in the mind. When 90 years are told; Love awakes again the throbbing heart. And we are never old."

Over the winter glaciers I laid the summer glow. And through the wild piled snow drift The warm rose buds below.

A PRETTY WEDDING

The wedding of Mr. George Penney to Miss O. Knowles, at the time our last issue was going to press we could only note briefly. It is a pleasure now to be able to state further particulars concerning the happy event.

It took place at the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knowles on Main street, by their pastor, the Rev. John Mathews. The spacious rooms were crowded by more than the immediate relatives of both with the exception of one of the groom's brothers, whose business called him to an adjacent state.

The ceremony commenced promptly at 6:30 by the processional with the bride in an adjoining room and led to the parlor where an arch had been erected in one corner. It was prettily trimmed in pink and white and autumn leaves. At the close of the beautiful strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, the happy event was impressively consummated. Then in pleasant order followed the congratulations of their many friends.

As fast as the guests could be accommodated at the two long tables, the superb partook of a bountiful supper in good country style, while those awaiting their turn provided an abundance of very choice music. The bride's cousin's cornet took part with the piano was an exceptional delight and the singing was much enjoyed.

Many valuable gifts were received proving the popularity of the happy couple. Of course the brass band came out and accompanied, to say nothing of the kid-tin-pan band.

The honeymoon will be spent at Niagara Falls and other prominent cities of the east.

THE LYCEUM THEATER

The most interesting play to be seen in Detroit for a long time will come to the Lyceum next Sunday. It is Frederick Thompson's New York success, "Polly of the Circus." One of the big features of "Polly of the Circus" is the circus scenes which are shown in the last act. The first shows the "Pad" room. The "Pad" room is a place where actors "hid" up before entering the ring. The second scene shows the interior of the circus where for two minutes the "real thing" is presented in order to give Polly a chance to rush into the ring and faint. Horses are galloping around the ring, a regulation circus ring in every particular—the tumbler, acrobats and clowns are all working as if their lives depended on their efforts, the trained dogs and animals are all in the picture and only for two minutes.

This engagement opens with the Sunday matinee, and in addition to which the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be given.

The Greatest Detective.

After a man had killed his new jealous woman he doesn't marvel much at the cleverness of Sherlock Holmes or Old Shatter—Atchison Globe.

Lost Their Heads.

Some, lose their heads in emergencies, others stick their heads out of car windows. It appears to be a matter of taste.

Later Particulars.

Madoff was laying on lustily, "I don't care to hear at me," he exclaimed. For that time there had been no court decision to the effect that the word used by Madoff was profane.

Diagnoses returned from his search for his honest man. "Give us your best," they inquired. "It became a matter of necessity," replied the old leecher. "Some one stole my lanterns"—Lippincott's.

Original Love.

It has been said many a time and oft that Oland's women have not been honored and loved enough. It is impossible for us to understand the heart and soul of these totally different people if they never do so from the presence of a third person, Oriental men, who have been so long in the land, but they are not to be shown publicly by soft words or kisses, pats and hugs. They are often called "vicious," because they are so under the influence of their women. Love is the food of the Oriental soul. A few of the American women think they will love just as long as they are loved, and the consequences show a plenty in the divorce courts. Such "independent spirits" in love matters, such profit and loss, and happy-accident marriage men strike an Oriental as gross, to name hopeless materialistic, and are utterly unattractive to him.

Origin of Old Expression.

The expression, "Go to Hell!" originated in the error with which rogues used to view the law. A few years ago, the British and American ships were at sea. A man named Ash and his crew were on the "sky"
