

Coal fields in Alaska fit the climate admirably.

After a long and slippery climb, mountaineers enter into high society.

One Chicago burglar plundered a lawyer's home and got away with it.

However, there is nothing to show that horse meat has increased in price.

Notwithstanding the high cost of living, most of us seem to be doing it very nicely.

What shall we eat? It has now become a paramount issue in the United States of America.

Meat or no meat, what's the difference, so long as we have terrapin, canvasback and oysters?

Still the F-14 is free and any one who says to do so may take a day off and invent a new language.

Surgery is to be used for madness in New York cities but will stop well this side of decapitation.

Each of the barelimbed dancers claims all the others are merely imitations her. Sort of a take-off.

That Washington boy stands a poor show of becoming a self-made man.

Moving pictures will reproduce for us the thrills of the Paris foot without the inconvenience of wet feet.

Scientists report that the fall of Halley's comet is composed of gas. Don't worry. It isn't passing through us.

If this thing keeps on, soon it will require a person who can count more than four to tell how many comets there are.

The experts who blame the high price of living on the extravagance of the rich, whose acquaintance you ought to make.

Broom corn is nearly exhausted and brooms threaten to go up in price. Here is where the vacuum cleaners wear placid smiles.

Halley's comet has slowed down, and is going a million miles an hour. Some of our aeroplanes may be able to "kick-up" within a few weeks.

Nevertheless, it will probably need all these different investigations and some to get to the truth about the advance in the cost of living.

Speaking of preventable deaths there can be no doubt that the present cost of living will greatly reduce the ratio of deaths from over-eating.

West Point young men are being permitted to haze within their pen. Now we shall see whether the truth about reason ends and foolishness begins.

In the past ten years 1,000,000 new farms have been developed in the United States. "Back to the farm" isn't such an idle cry by this showing.

Inventor Edison's storage battery, with which he expects to revolutionize the transportation systems of the country, is doing a little more retooling.

Comet A 1910 has a tail 50,000,000 miles long, but having all the solar system to trapeze around in it has not tripped up on its far-flung appendage.

The price of shoes is also going up, but it isn't likely the shoe manufacturers will have the nerve to tell us that the cheaper, squeaky ones are just as good.

After you have tried all the pre-rodent food on the eggs, you usually fall back on the fat. It is never as has been known to fall in the case of the "padding."

When "eggs is eggs" price rises naturally are at a premium. So the theft of an egg laid by a hen at Wilkesbarre, Pa., which has won $12,000 in competition at county shows comes pretty close to classification as a gill-gate crime.

At least the thief and the owner of the hen has offered the reward for the capture of the thief and the return of the egg in undamaged condition, and the valuable "biddy" cackles appreciation of the proceedings.

Dr. Aschultz Kemp, a prominent scientist of Berlin, Germany, has decided to have invented a submarine boat for Arctic exploration beneath the ice that is capable of remaining under water at a great depth for a long period. Boats were able to do this from being designed and after the manner of a bulldozer that will stay right side up and on the surface for a long time.

It is one thing to adopt a baby, but it is another thing to get the baby to adopt you.

In awarding judgment in a damage suit a New York judge has decided that a workman's kidney is worth $14,000. If a workman's kidney is worth that much how high a price would the judge put on the kidney of a Pittsburgh millionaire?

From the frequency with which women are capturing burglars, beating them and then turning them over to the police, we are forced to conclude that the burglarious profession has either deteriorated in physique or remarkably enhanced in civility.

Arrival of Former President Occasion for Celebration in Egyptian Sudan.

GOVERNOR GENERAL'S GUEST

Khartoum, Egyptian Sudan.—Theodore Roosevelt, former president of the United States, accompanied by his son Kermit and members of the party which has accompanied him through the jungles of Africa in search of big game, arrived at Khartoum, Monday.

Shuns Political Talk.

Scores of special correspondents sent by the great American newspapers swarmed around the former president as soon as he was released from the grasp of his wife and daughter. To them Col. Roosevelt declared he would not discuss the political situation in the United States with which he has been out of touch for so many months. Col. Roosevelt asked and was greatly interested in affairs at home. One bold correspondent received a Roosevelt smile only when he asked if the colonel was a candidate for the presidency in 1912.

Route Roosevelt Followed.

A schedule of Mr. Roosevelt's mileage in Africa to date, together with

REVIEW OF THE EXPEDITION

June 4.—Arrived at Kijabe. June 5.—Left Kijabe on march for the Sotik district. The route was over a waterless tract, and although the distance traversed was only 60 miles, it entailed a three-day trip. Secured six rhinos, a hippopotamus, two eland, two wildebeest, several antelope, zebra, a hyena, a warthog and three lions.

On Three Weeks' Shoot.

Oct. 25.—Left for Londiani for a three weeks' shoot on the Guaso Nyuhau plateau, about 30 miles from Kisumu, three lions and several antelope and smaller game. Dec. 1.—Returned to Nairobi by rail. Dec. 2.—Left Nairobi by rail for Port Kisma, on Lake Victoria, Nyanza, about 150 miles.

Expedition Breaks Up.

March 14.—Reached Khartoum, the end of his journey on the Nile, and was greeted by Mrs. Roosevelt and daughter, Miss Ethel.

Homeward Bound.

The arranged program for the remainder of Col. Roosevelt's homeward journey is as follows: Will arrive at Alexandria, Egypt, on March 29.

Bag More Big Game.

March 26.—Rode from the Heatley to McMillan's town house at Nairobi.

Property of Unfortunate Queen.

Among the stock of Versailles is one of great interest historically, for it belonged to Marie Antoinette, the hapless consort of Louis XVI. It is a musical clock.
