

What's Takes Good

THE GENEVEE KNIGHT

(Also their JAMES)
BY HELEN HELLP

The Genevieve Who Lost a Flavor

"Do you remember when you were a stumpy, freckle-faced Jimmy-boy or a baby Jenny-girl, about as high as the table, and they had strawberries for supper? Didn't you always save the biggest and reddest and most beautiful for the very last bite?"

"Of course you did. So did I. So did everybody."

"Well, so did the Genevieve I am going to tell you about. And so, especially, did James."

"This James was from the country a very, very few years back, with a university and law school between him and the days when he used to be the biggest and reddest and most beautiful for the very last bite, with the glinting blase of the true sapphire in them, and black hair and broad shoulders, and a smile that would win the birds off even blackberry bushes, full of fruit, and a voice—well, a voice that was just the point."

"James was little, and sweet, and loving, and very, very clever—far more clever than James thought she was at the time. He was not a mere little fellow, but she kept such a James as her permanent possession."

"This was the cleverness possessed by Genevieve, who lived a few blocks away, and who flirted her eyes at James when he saw him, because it was her nature to flirt her eyes when she saw a perfectly nice, James, about it. So, when his heart began to beat curiously at Genevieve and her curly curls, James was not pleased. He

THE ICE HOUSE

By H. H. MUSSELMAN, Instructor in Farm Mechanics, Michigan Agricultural College.

Perhaps during the hot weather of summer not a few have resolved to forestall the running of the butter, the souring of the milk and the kind of more important matters, by some method of cooling. The present is not a bad time to think about carrying these resolutions into action.

When there is no ice to be obtained at a reasonable distance from a lake or stream it is to provide an ice house and ice box or refrigerator. The latter may be done at a time of the year when other work is slack, and if at that time the right way may be obtained at a reasonable distance from a lake or stream it is to provide an ice house and ice box or refrigerator.

They both expected a thrill, but it failed to materialize. Genevieve was busy with her trousseau, which was of an elaborateness, and James was of the sort of devotion. But they were both waiting for the Genevieve to say "Yes," and they couldn't seem to catch it. Then James whispered to himself: "This isn't the biggest, this is just the little Genevieve."

They both expected a thrill, but it failed to materialize. Genevieve was busy with her trousseau, which was of an elaborateness, and James was of the sort of devotion. But they were both waiting for the Genevieve to say "Yes," and they couldn't seem to catch it. Then James whispered to himself: "This isn't the biggest, this is just the little Genevieve."

WANTED TO BE AN AVIATOR

Missouri Girl Evidently Very Much in Earnest in Her Desire to Navigate the Air.

Mr. Claude Grahame-White, the famous English aviator, is constantly besought by young women to teach them to become aviators. Many make application by letter. One of these letters reached him the other day from a point in Missouri. Cleared of its errors in grammar, spelling and capitalization, it read something like this:

"Oh, Mr. Grahame-White, teach me to be a planeer. I saw one of them at Kansas City and I thought it was just heavenly. I would like to run a Wright monoplane or a Heriot bi-plane, but if you have a better flyer I would try that. I think I would look cute running a baby flyer. Pa says he wouldn't mind my having a baby one. Couldn't you bring one out here for a week or so and show me how to run it? I assure you a good time."

Mr. Grahame-White was compelled to decline the young woman's kind invitation.

"Mr. Grahame-White, the famous English aviator, is constantly besought by young women to teach them to become aviators. Many make application by letter. One of these letters reached him the other day from a point in Missouri. Cleared of its errors in grammar, spelling and capitalization, it read something like this:

"Oh, Mr. Grahame-White, teach me to be a planeer. I saw one of them at Kansas City and I thought it was just heavenly. I would like to run a Wright monoplane or a Heriot bi-plane, but if you have a better flyer I would try that. I think I would look cute running a baby flyer. Pa says he wouldn't mind my having a baby one. Couldn't you bring one out here for a week or so and show me how to run it? I assure you a good time."

Mr. Grahame-White was compelled to decline the young woman's kind invitation.

Overheard in Venice

"Isn't it romantic, John dear," said she as they sat in the little Venetian garden, "to sit here and listen to these Italian troubadours sing their ballads under the moonlight?"

"Yes, dear," replied John with a deep-drawn sigh, "sometimes wish they'd bathe in something but sides moonlight, don't you. It might be less romantic, but it would be a darn sight more hygienic."—Harpers' Weekly.

To Wait for the Flavor of That Strawberry

"I meant to eat like a man. But ever since Jimmy's little heart cracked a bit, and she said to James: "I think we had better say good-by. James, for I do not think I care to share a possession with Genevieve."

This was natural of James, but extremely injudicious, because, now that she had to do something, she had been manly, whereas, down in the breaking heart of her, James hoped against hope that he would not take it.

"I meant to eat like a man. But ever since Jimmy's little heart cracked a bit, and she said to James: "I think we had better say good-by. James, for I do not think I care to share a possession with Genevieve."

This was natural of James, but extremely injudicious, because, now that she had to do something, she had been manly, whereas, down in the breaking heart of her, James hoped against hope that he would not take it.

A FINE NIGHT-CAPO

The Best Thing in the World to Go To Bed and Sleep On.

"My wife and I find that 4 teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts and a cup of hot milk or some cream, with it, makes the finest night-cap in the world," says an Allegheny, Pa., man.

"We go to sleep as soon as we strike the bed, and slumber like babies till rising time in the morning."

Mr. Grahame-White's Recollections

"Mr. Grahame-White's recollections of his first flight were very interesting. He said that he felt as if he were flying over a vast sea of clouds. The engine was very smooth and the air was just what he needed. He was very glad to see the ground below him, and he was very much interested in the way the engine worked. He was very much interested in the way the engine worked.

The Good Work Went On

"The good work went on, and she soon ready to return to business, and as they had been hard at it, and enjoying it ever since.

"Compare me at any time any one acquires as to the merits of Grape-Nuts. You will find me always ready to testify." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in which "There's a reason" is given for the success of Grape-Nuts.

Mr. Grahame-White's Recollections

"Mr. Grahame-White's recollections of his first flight were very interesting. He said that he felt as if he were flying over a vast sea of clouds. The engine was very smooth and the air was just what he needed. He was very glad to see the ground below him, and he was very much interested in the way the engine worked. He was very much interested in the way the engine worked.

Harvesting and Storing Apples

If apples are to be preserved to early, they are apt to be under-sized and of poor quality. If harvested too late, they will not keep as long in storage. Apples should be picked at the best of good size and quality when picked. We do not expect a winter apple to be ripe at harvesting time. It should be full sized, however, well colored, and it should separate readily from the spur. If, when picking the apples, they are well colored and the spur broken, it is too early to harvest that particular variety.

Method of Harvesting.
Apples should be handled like eggs. They should be picked in the fruit caused by worms or careless handling in the marketing point or in the various rows and other forms of decay. The fruit, after being picked, should be graded by shaking or knocking the fruit off with poles, is worth storing. Hand picking is also a good method. The fruit should be grasped by the palm of the hand that no abrasion may be made by the finger nails. By slightly twisting the fruit, the stem may be broken, and it should separate readily from the spur.

Time to Pack Apples

Apples should be packed in the fruit bins or crates in such a way that they will not be crushed. They should be packed in such a way that they will not be crushed. They should be packed in such a way that they will not be crushed. They should be packed in such a way that they will not be crushed.

Mr. Grahame-White's Recollections

"Mr. Grahame-White's recollections of his first flight were very interesting. He said that he felt as if he were flying over a vast sea of clouds. The engine was very smooth and the air was just what he needed. He was very glad to see the ground below him, and he was very much interested in the way the engine worked. He was very much interested in the way the engine worked.

SPLENDID CANADIAN CROPS

Wheat, Oats and Barley Universally Good Throughout Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

The reports that come to hand from the wheat fields of the western Canadian provinces show remarkably good yields in all parts of the area. The best of wheat going 35 and 40 bushels in many places, and oats from 50 to 100 bushels per acre. Barley and rye are splendid. The thousands of Americans throughout the United States who have friends in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta will be glad to learn of the great success that has followed their efforts. Many of these have not confined themselves to the luxury of grain, but have also gone into the cattle industry. On the luxuriant grasses that are so abundant there, in almost all districts, the Canadian farmer has found a ready market. The lead sales reported by the railway companies and by the different sections of the industry will be a guarantee that will likely take place during the next year in farming operations. What has been said and time and time again repeated to well repeated, that there is no place on the American continent where the same opportunities are afforded the man looking for a home for the young man starting out in life, the man with a growing-up family, who desires wider scope for his ambition. The Canadian government agents located at different points in the states will be glad to advise the reader of the conditions that exist in his instance, and the great success that has followed farming in Western Canada.

A Reader Cures His Constipation—Try It Free

Simple Way for Any Family to Retain the Good Health of All Its Members.

The editors of "Health Hint" and "Questions and Answers" have one question that more often than any other, and which, strangely enough, is never answered, is: "How can I cure my constipation?"

Dr. Caldwell, an eminent specialist in diseases of the bowels, has looked the whole field over, has practiced his method, and has been convinced that the ingredients contained in his constipant Pills are the best. He has cured thousands of people in his practice. He has cured thousands of people in his practice.

For DISTEMPER Pink Eye, Epizootic Shipping Fever

SPHINX MEDICAL CO., SCLICENTIGEN GOSHEM, IND., U. S. A.

No. 460, Hardwear Rouge Rex Shoe

This shoe is just what its name suggests, namely: a shoe designed for hard service. The stock in the uppers is one of the best tannages that can be secured for a shoe of this character, and has stood the test of service to the wearer's utmost satisfaction. This shoe has a full bellows tongue to keep out the dirt, and the four rows of stitching around the vamp make it an extremely strong shoe. The soles are double cased through to the heel, and of extra quality of the finest tan leather made to withstand the hard wear with such a shoe is subjected.

If you want shoes for the rough and tumble work that will please you in every way, HIRTH-KRAUSE CO. Hide to Shoe Tanners and Grand Rapids, Michigan

My Lady Beautiful

Health is true beauty. The charm of bright eyes, rosy cheeks, rounded figure, buoyant and elastic step is within the reach of every woman.

Beecham's Pills

will keep most women in health. The timely use of these pills will strengthen the system, renew the supply of blood, and relieve the bowels, liver, stomach and complexion, make them women's greatest aid to health and in a true sense

Nature's Cosmetic

In boxes with full directions, 10c. and 25c.

W. L. DOUGLAS

$2.50, $3.00, $3.50 & $4.00 SHOES
Men and Women wear W.L. Douglas shoes because they are comfortable and durable and give you the most for your money. In fact, you can't buy a better shoe for the price. In fact, you can't buy a better shoe for the price. In fact, you can't buy a better shoe for the price.

