Frank Schlaack has bought the old Jas. A. Bayley house from the D. U. R. It is now up in the air on rollers, all ready to fly as it were, but at the writing Frank solemnly informs us: "that he does not know where he will put it."

Mr. A. Whitehead is able to be at the bank several hours each day attending to business. He is steadily gaining in strength and with the encouragement of his many friends, he hopes soon to be restored to his former good health.

Our office boy walked into our office, sanctum, very early Monday last saying: "There is a tramp at the door, he says he has a paper for you, and eat for a week." "Fetch him right in," said Mitchell, "if we can discover how he does it we can run this paper for another week."

H. W. Baxter, our Maple ave. jeweler, is right up-to-date. He has just stocked up big on jewelry, 10 cent sheet music, and has enough to load a boat. His stock of gold and silver ware that wears well, is guaranteed, and is fully satisfactory is large enough for a city shop. Call and see.

There has been quite a call at the Library for Lons Gale's book since her charming lecture at the Detroit Museum of Art last week, which—so many of our ladies heard. The book of "Friendship Village," MUST be Birmingham itself. Read it, and find a most enjoyable way to spend Thanksgiving.

Without any doubt the next Governor of Michigan will be Mr. Ed. O. Wood, of Flint, Mich. We don't care a rap who intimidated against him, the people of Michigan are now asking for a change, a radical change. This convocation election is the psychological year—the winning year for Democracy, and we certainly hope that Mr. Wood will grasp the opportunity, and the nomination and the election. Mr. Wood can be elected. We have spoken.

Henry Wattersen, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, was one of a group of newspaper men who, during a convention of that fraternity, were one afternoon talking of typographical errors. Said he: "I have heard of a great many funny typographical breaks in my time, about the oldest and most humorous transposition of types that ever came to my observation was that in a New York paper some years ago. The paper used to print its shipping news on the same page with its obituaries. Imagine the glee with which its readers found the sections changed one morning, a long list of respectable names being set up under the marine heading: "Passed Through Hell Gate Yesterday."

The Foreign Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church will meet with Mrs. J. W. Perry, Bates St. Wednesday afternoon at 7 o'clock. Nov. 21. Subject: "Our Christian Duty." Leader, Mrs. C. E. McFerran.

Mr. Fred Lambert says: "Let the snow come, he has his bouncing crop of corn safe in the crib, and it measures 1285 bushels from 12 acres." Say, it kept Philip Landt busy hauling it all up and unloading. He hauled it all but 400 bushels.

Mr. Fred Parks is very ill at his home in Troy, with appendicitis, attended by Dr. Anderson. Although very ill at this writing it is thought he will recover, as the wishes of his many friends count at all, he is sure to recover speedily.

The following are newly elected officers for the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church, at their annual meeting for the coming year. President, Mrs. VanAllen; Vice president, Mrs. Eugene Smith; Secretary, Mrs. Alice Hanna; Treasurer, Mrs. Agnew.

Judgment was rendered against the Grand Trunk railroad for $25 and $3.50 costs by Justice A. W. Campbell last Friday morning for blocking a crossing in the village longer than is permitted. The suit was brought by the people and Assistant Prosecutor Clinton McGee appeared. It required but 20 minutes to finish the case.

Anthony Dietloff serving Uncle Sam for 21 years, has been honorably retired from the army. His term of service was sent home by the U. S. crier from Alaska, via Seattle. Good old Uncle Sam in first class style, Pullman sleeper and all the trimmings, landed him at home in Troy, safe and free of all expense. "Kiss for America!"

The illness of Miss Mattie Baldwin, for the past several weeks, has given her many friends very much concern. Her absence from the several literary functions is sadly missed. At the State Federation of Clubs meeting, held last week in Detroit, attended by hundreds of our writers and lecturers from all over the state, it was given out that this good was lady near her end. We are pleased to say that it was a great mistake, and at this writing with skillful physicians and a trained nurse in attendance she will soon be around among us again.

The following has been arranged for the first meeting of the Literary society which is to be held on Wednesday evening, Nov. 1. A hearty welcome is extended to everybody. The program for the evening is: First, an ode, R. Baum and Baum; Roll call; Secretary; Song, Boy's chorus; Essay, Iva Hamilton; Violin solo, Gordon Marsh; Debate, affirmative, Caroline Hayes and Nelson Rusak; Negative, Lila Barnett and Harold Sawyer; Piano solo, Helen Shaw; Rebuttal; Senor or Enterprise, Viola Hanna; Judges' decision.

Messrs. Miner & Ferguson are branching out. In order to care for their increasing trade of printing they now occupy two-thirds of the roomy store adjoining them—the one made vacant by Chas. J. Reynolds' death. Both these gentlemen are always anxious to please their many patrons. In their "ready to order" they take special pride and delight in selling Royal Valley coffees as well as teas. Be sure to read the Royal Valley coffee ads, as they appear weekly, they are a pointer to the store, and know your money goes just how much further. They also sell the Royal Valley coffee, the great strength of Royal Valley coffee.

Sealship oysters at Miner & Ferguson.
Mr. J. Conroy and wife of Jackson were recent guests of Mrs. Nellie Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Hodges, of Pine Lake were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bigelow Friday and Saturday.

Dr. V. T. Shaw's office in the Johnston-Shaw block has been in the hands of paper hangers, painters and decorators and now it certainly does look fine.

Mrs. J. A. Bigelow, in company with her niece, Mrs. Kate Leggett, of Drayton Plains, attended the Federation of Clubs, Tuesday and Wednesday last week.

The Spirella Corset, advertised elsewhere in this paper, is planned and fitted in the seclusion of your home by a trained Corsetier. No extra charge for this service. Apointments arranged to suit your convenience. Phone 87L or send card to Mrs. A. F. Gray.

Conundrum—Who has furnished all the partridge, all the woodcock and all the quail that have been roasted and enjoyed at the Bigelow Ranch the last few days? Echo answers, Mr. and Mrs. T. Donovan. They are planning another northern trip soon.

Mr. and Mrs. James D. McKinley one day last week hitched up the ponies and started on a trip. They were gone ten days and although they did not break any speed laws, they visited friends at Pontiac, Lake Orion, Oxford, Lupeur, Silverwood, Gagetown and Cass City. One day's travel took them 43 miles which is going some.

For over 40 years Frank Blakestein has been selling our people merchandise. In his store on the corner you will find him just as pleasant and anxious to please you as he was in his first year of selling goods. He has just received a new stock of fall goods and calls your attention to fall goods you need right now, outing flannels and blouses and blouses. Call and see them. His prices are right and quality? None better to obtain for the cash anywhere.
