Wish you a MerryC hristmas.

Large assortment of fancy dishes at Miner & Ferguson.

Charles J. Shain uses beautiful electric lights to make a fine window display of his holiday goods.

Wanted,—Position doing house work in family of two. Call or write to Lucy Whittaker, Henrietta st. B'ham. 2

Cooking by the day or hour. Dinners or luncheon. Waiting parties. Birmingham references given. Write Miss Head, 55 Napoleon street, Detroit, or telephone in the morning to M 1436-J. 2

Detroit merchants will have to watch out to keep their laurels in window dressing. Cast your eyes on Erwin & Smith, Miner & Ferguson, Bell Bros. & LaJoie. Either window would do credit on Woodward avenue.

New books in the Library: Iron Woman, by Margaret Deland; The Widow O'Calligan's Boys, The Rose in the Ring, by McCutcheon; The Champion, by Charles Egbert Craddock; Cynthia, of the Minute, by L. J. Vance; The Story of Roland, by James Baldwin; The Blue Bird, by Maeterlinck; The Garden of Allah, by Robert Hichens.

Some of the wealthy up north chaps are working out a problem to give our young people a place to go evenings for amusement. For the boys, a big room in which games can be played, a gym, a reading room, etc. We trust the spirit will move until the fact is settled and the boys and girls entertained evenings instead of running the streets.

John Berry and Garry Tewilliger have consolidated their respective truck, cartage and moving business. The name of the new firm is Birmingham Cartage Co. They have arranged with the D. U. R. and the C. & G. T. Ry. to deliver all freight. They are careful, willing and prompt in their work and we see no reason why the Birmingham Cartage Co. is not a winner. It is.

The Sarah Poppleton will case which has been pending in the circuit court for over a year was formally discontinued last week. The settlement was by stipulation and no terms were announced. Miss Ella Poppleton took an appeal from the admission to probate of the will of her mother. The hearing in the probate court attracted much attention on account of the prominence of the parties.

For years back we have used the blue X to show people that they were in arrears for their paper. It has been a long time since the old familiar X has been shown, but we are inclined to trot it out by our first issue in January 1912. Look at the date after your name or on the wrapper that brings the Eccentric to you. If the date is past, the $ is due. Say if it is a year past, do please hurry up! before the P. O. inspector gets us. Will you?

Died, Dec. 13, at the home of her mother, Mrs. J. Willett, 627 Mitchell ave. Detroit, Mrs. Julia A. McMillen, aged 66 years, 7 months and 16 days. Among the many left to mourn her loss are four daughters and two sons. They are Mrs. J. M. Sawyer, of this place; Mrs. L. Scarborough, of Okla.; Mrs. Mrs. Charles Thill, and Mrs. Willett of Detroit. Thos. McMillen of Detroit, and Joseph McMillen of Oregon. Interment at Lutheran cemetery in Detroit. (Sanilac and Huron Co. papers please copy.)

Married, December 14th. 1911, at Pontiac, by the Rev. H. H. Fox. Mr Alexander McKinnon and Miss Fannie Groves, both of Troy. Miss Groves, the happy bride, is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Groves while Mr. McKinnon is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McKinnon. The marriage came as a surprise to the many friends of the young couple. They will be at home to their friends at the bride's parents for the present. The friends of the young couple extend their heartiest congratulations.

Merry Christmas—next Monday.

The public library will be closed Christmas and New Years.

M. Levinson has fine windows of Christmas goods. Look at them in passing.

Mrs. Abelt and daughter, Miss Alma, were week end guests of her parents at Ecorse.

H. G. Spencer & Co. exhibit a fine window display. Cast your I on it as you pass by.

Miss Waters, of Detroit, spent Monday with her sister, Mrs. Fuller, of Pierce street.

Miss Agnes Hulburt will tell stories for children at the Library next Saturday at 3 p. m.

Miss Lee of Farmington is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Sarah W. Fuller, of Pierce street.

Lost—A small gold chain, with a very small gold cross attached. Finder please leave at the Eccentric office. 2

Mrs. Fred Curtis of Brown street is visiting her many relatives and friends at Milford for the holiday season.

Lost,—a small fox terrier, white, long ears and answers to the name of Trixie. One dollar reward if left at this office. 2

Mr. Byron Farrah who has been traveling in the west for two years is the guest of his aunts, Mrs. W. I. Deer and Mrs. Fanny Boughner.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Donovan are hunting birds in North Carolina. No matter where the game goes, this couple go too and get their share.

The services on Sunday (the fourth Sunday in Advent) in St. James' church will be as follows: Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. Morning service at 10:45.

Mr. M. Levinson of department store fame last Tuesday presented each Rural Carrier, a very handsome neck tie for Christmas. The boys all murmur "Thanks."

We are pleased to say that Mr. W. N. Berger and his broken leg will be almost able to celebrate the Yuletide season. He is recovering slowly but very surely.

Get your Christmas Trees, small, medium and large. McGrayne trees direct from Cheboygan Co. See them next door to Post office. See Shattuck or Lynch. Prices very reasonable.

At St. James' church Christmas eve at midnight Holy Communion, Christmas anthem and carols. All will be most cordially welcome. Service Christmas day at 10:30 a. m. Holy Communion and address.

An interesting, well written article from a valued reader of this paper, regarding the sewer question is unavoidably crowded out. It will keep and make excellent Holiday week reading in our next issue.

New books in the library are: "The Melting Pot, by Israel Zangwill, Just Patty by Jean Webster, Four Months Afoot in Spain by H. A. Frank, The Suffragette by E. Sylvia Pankhurst and The Glory of Clementina by Wm. J. Locke.

Advertisers please don't forget that changes of advt must be in one day earlier than usual for our next issue and also for the week following which covers the day out for Christmas and New Years. Correspondents please take notice also.

Bloomfield has her quota filled on petition requesting board of supervisors to call an election for another two years of wet or dry. This local option vote business is all right if the majority desire it but what we would like to see, have it for 5 or 10 years instead of two, as really see sawing back and forth every two years is expensive and unwise—make it 5 or 10 year run wet or dry.

There will be a most unusually fine musical treat given the village folk on Sunday evening, Dec. 31, in St. James' church, when the members of the choir under the capable direction of Miss Clara Starr will render the sacred Christmas cantata, "Holy Night" by John Hyatt Brewer. The service is to be almost without exception musical and all lovers of good music will find a hearty welcome.

Dr. L. G. Ward one of our brightest and best young M. D.'s after a season as a state physician, during which time he was kept very busy, and performed his many perplexing and important duties very satisfactory to all has settled down for practice at Mathis, Tex. Earl is a long way from home, but the Lone Star state is sure benefitted by acquiring this young Wolverine doctor.

The different churches are busy making ample preparations for their respective Christmas exercises. All are planning to have a tree and excellent programs. Friday night, the Methodist church held their exercises commencing at 7:30. Saturday evening, Santa Claus will be at the Baptist church, and Tuesday evening he will be kept very busy, as he will have to make two stops one at the First Presbyterian church, at 7 o'clock, and one at the United Presbyterian church at 7:30.

The rector, wardens and vestrymen of St. James' church wish to ask all fellow Christains and worshipers to unite with the members of the parish and fittingly usher in Christmas day by attending the midnight service on Christmas eve. At this time of Peace on Earth and Good Will toward All, we should forget all differences of doctrine and our unhappy divisions, so we bid you come and help us sing the old Christmas hymns and let us kneel side by side at the altar rail and there partake of the Blessed Sacrament of Christ whereby alone we receive forgiveness of our sins and are made partaker of the Kingdom of Heaven.

Get your Christmas supplies of Miner & Ferguson, the home of good things to eat.

Smith Bros. will be closed all day Christmas. Make a note of this and don't forget it.

Drop in and see on exhibition at Bell Bros. & Lajoie twin calves done over into veal. Raised for this firm for their Christmas trade by Herbison Bros. Fine stock, bred fine and kept fine by B. B. & LaJ.

Preston Gray is now a full fledged clerk in the Elliott-Taylor-Wolfenden store, Detroit. He is in the linen department and enjoys the work.

Miss Gladys Poole of Ypsilanti arrived home last Saturday to spend the Christmas holidays at her home on Woodward avenue.

Don't fail to notice our Christmas window. It shows only a part of what is inside of our "Home of good things to eat." Miner & Ferguson.

Lost—Between Frank St. and postoffice, on Woodward, Brown or Pierce street, a bar pin with mosaic setting. Please return same to Mrs. David McClelland.

John Reich, proprietor will sell out at Auction on his premises, one mile west of Woodward ave. or Eight Mile road Wednesday, January 10 1912. M. H. Blunt, auctioneer. Waldo Blunt, clerk

Mrs. Walter Mc Bride, of Portland, arrived Thursday to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Dougall of Purdy street. Dr. McBride will join her later.

Mrs. Groves of Chicago, sister of Mrs. H. A. Dosing of Maple ave. after a few weeks visit has returned to her home. Birmingham life was quite interesting to the good lady.

Owing to the continued illness of Miss Puss Robinson and the increased work caused by the holiday season at the post-office her place is filled by Mrs. Mable Kyaer Anderson. Miss Robinson has been a sufferer for several weeks but her friends hope to see her around again as usual very soon.

E. C. Huston is now a regular Birminghamer. Through J. Allen Bigelow he purchased the residence of the late Huldah Miller sold at auction last week by U. Grant Race the administrator of the estate. It went very cheap as all auction sales of real estate generally do, and Mr. Huston was offered a substantial raise on his price the moment it was his. Price $1720.

Next Friday evening, Dec. 29 at the Methodist church, Mrs. Harry A. Seager's Sunday school class will give an entertainment, commencing at 7:30. Miss Louise Airth, of Detroit, will sing, and "The Holy City and Nearer My God to Thee" will be given in pantomime. Miss Rhea Schlaack will give a reading. These with some other attractions being arranged, insure a good program. Admission 15c.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mrs. Sarah Aldrich on Pierce street, when Mrs. M. A. Carey and Mr. Addison Childs of Lansing, were united in marriage by Rev. G. H. Whitney, on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 14 at 2:30. They entered the parlor to the strains of Lohengren wedding march played by Miss Nina Johnson. After a wedding dinner they left for a short trip and will be at home to their friends at 723 Washtenaw ave., Lansing after Jan. 1 1912. Mrs. Childs was the receipent of beautiful silver, cut glass and linen.
