

PREVIOUSLY MARRIED

When Miss Marion Poole and Mr. Arthur King Were Quietly Married Saturday Evening, Feb. 18.

The country home of Dr. and Mrs. William H. Poole, near Birmingham was the scene of a pretty home wedding on Saturday, Feb. 18, at 4 o'clock when their eldest daughter, Marion Alberta, was married to Mr. Arthur King of Bloomfield Hills.

The bridal party entered the living room to the strains of the Lohengrin waltz march played by Miss Ella Curtis of Detroit.

The house was lavishly decorated with roses, anilak, carnations and sweet peas, the color scheme pink and white. A dainty luncheon was served to the bride party and guests, after which the bride and groom left on a trip east as a shower of rice.

Only the immediate families and out of town guests were present from London, Chatham, Bay City, Columbus and Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur King will be at home to their friends at "Kinghurst" Troy, after March 15.

A Good Lady Is Cured From A Notice In The Eccentric. Let The Good Work Go On

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 8, 1911.

Dear Sir: You will here find enclosed one dollar, as a subscription. Some eight weeks and when waiting in the suburban waiting room, I had one of your papers handed me and strange to say, the first article I noticed was an article on the Cancer Research society, which was a very interesting subject to me, and I at once took up the telephone book to find the physicians address and I wish to state as follows:

I was troubled with a cancer on my forehead for three years and doctored with local doctors, also took X Ray treatments with no number. I was treated out with electric needles, without any benefit, becoming discouraged, for the doctor told me he would have to resort to the knife. Having a perfect horror of the same, having had two operations previously for cancer. By chance I saw the name of Dr. Mather as treasurer of the American Cancer Research society, located in Detroit. I at once called upon him and began treatment, and I am perfectly cured and cheerfully recommend him. I cannot express my gratitude to him. Hoping you may be able to use this for the good of humanity? I remain, Very respectfully,
MRS. E. S. MANWARING

Tortured For 15 Years

By a curiously acting stomach, which baffled doctors, and resisted all remedies he tried, John W. Modders, of Woodville, in Michigan, seemed doomed. He had to sell his farm and give up work. His neighbors said, "he can't live much longer." "Whatever I tried distressed me," he wrote. "X-ray I tried Electric Bitters, which yielded such wonderful results that I tried them all things I could not take for years. It is surely a grand remedy for stomach troubles of the Detroit U. Now I weigh 150 pounds and have been well and strong for years." Pioneer Mills

N. J. HANSEN, Prop.

Use Snowflake Flour

Why should you use it? Because it is made by your home mill. Made from selected hard, red wheat, by an expert miller, with the latest improved machinery; and every sack is warranted to make as much and as good goods as can be made from any flour made in the United States.

And more important to you is because you can buy it for less money than any high-grade flour now on sale in your town.

Try a sack, and if you are not fully satisfied with results you can return the balance to seller, and your money will be cheerfully refunded.

BIRMINGHAM SCHOOL NOTES.

It being a legal holiday, no school was held Wednesday.

Several sixth grade scholars were absent last week because of a gripple.

Last week the physics and chemistry classes spent their time in laboratory work as the science teacher had not reported for duty.

The first grade pupils have an excellent likeness of Washington's home in their sand table. It is represented as standing in a grove of trees through which passes the Potomac river. This grade will soon take up the study of colonial customs, making paper cuttings in connection.

The grades from the third to the seventh are studying design in their drawing classes and some of the rooms have the mounted drawings on exhibition. Come and see them.

With Miss Welton, of Grand Rapids, teaching the mathematic classes all the regular teachers for the month school have arrived except the science teacher.

Mrs. Charles Reynolds visited Miss Purdy's room last Monday.

Another B. H. S. L. S. meeting was held last Thursday evening. Three numbers, an essay on "Abraham Lincoln" by Miss Post, "The Peasants' Tribute" by Mrs. Parkinson and "How Jane Found Mass Lincoln" by Mrs. Crawford, furnished by the Woman's Literary club, and for which our society is much indebted, were greatly enjoyed by the audience. "The Peasants' Tribute" by Mrs. Parkinson and "How Jane Found Mass Lincoln" by Mrs. Crawford, furnished by the Woman's Literary club, and for which our society is much indebted, were greatly enjoyed by the audience.

The next meeting of the Literary society will be held on March 9. The juniors will give a play entitled "A Case of Suspicion," which is sure to be interesting.

At the Royal Oak high school has organized a Literary society it should be very easy to arrange a debate between their society and ours. How about it Royal Oak?

Falls Victim to Thieves.

S. W. Bonds, of Coal City, Alabama, has a justifiable grievance, as petty thieves stole his new life for 12 years. They were a liver and kidney trouble. Then Dr. King's New Discovery broke them. He's well now. Unrivaled for constipation, malaria, headache, dyspepsia. 25c. C. J. Shain and Cobb-Stanley-Harris Company.

OUR CLUB NOTES

The Birmingham Club Gave a Very Entertaining Character Social and Handsome Costumes Worn

The down pour from the clouds Tuesday, Feb. 14, and the resulting streams of water on streets and sidewalk did not dampen the ardor and enjoyment of the company of some 50 ladies who met at the home of Mrs. Bigelow in the evening for the Character social of the Literary club.

The motto for the occasion was, "Backward, turn backward, On time in thy flight, Make me a child again just for tonight."

The Queen of Sheba in royal robes, flashing with jewels and a jeweled crown on her head, presided with grace and dignity over a motley assortment of subjects.

There were "Little Maids in Blue" lappety and care-free as childhood should be, elderly ladies in lavender and Old Lace, the wife of the "Vicar of Wakefield" whom "He chose as she did not wed him, for such qualities as would wear well." "The Woman in White," "Aunt Jane of Kentucky" with her patchwork, "The Post Girl," a young lady from the Philippine Islands in native costume, a "Colonial Dame," Mrs. Bardell, whom Dickens describes as "A comely woman of bustling manners and agreeable appearance," "Priscilla, the Puritan maiden" with "Miss Ophelia" in the knitting, Topsy being conspicuous by her absence; a nurse of the twentieth century, the woman who represents Baker Cocoa, and many more who represent the "new woman" of the present day.

Last but not least there were Betty Bobbit and Sapantha, Allen and her husband Josiah who discussed "Woman's Spear." Betsy contended it was clinging and matrimony in which Josiah feebly agreed, but when Samantha in an emphatic tone asked, "If the instrumental music and singing added to the entertainment which closed with a social season when the hostess served coffee and sandwiches.
