LEGALS.

Friends Of THE ECCENTRIC are requested when they have Probate business to ask the publication of the legal notice in this paper. By so doing they will be at no more expense than elsewhere, and will do us a great favor.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McHugh, and son Donald, all returned the first of the week from Orion, where they visited her sister, Mrs. Harvey the past week.

Boys who tease, hector and disturb a man who attends to his own business by calling names and doing acts that exasperate the object aimed at. Don't do it. All quit. What say you?

We received a letter yesterday in which an insignificant pin-headed little cuss wrote as follows: "I don't want my paper any longer"—followed by a page and a half of vile abuse. How 'fuleish' of that misguided chap to pen thusly. We couldn't make it any longer if we wanted to. Our press will permit of the publication of no larger sheet so no different length goes. The Eccentric will go out just as long as ever.

Once in a while some one stops his paper with the excuse that he only ordered it for such and such a time. It always gives us a pain to hear that old gag. If there is anyone receiving this paper and laboring under the delusion that we do not expect to get paid for it, let him wake up at once. We are sending this paper to no one for the fun of giving away something. We are grinding it out in return for that one dollar. By the way how many of our dollars are you carrying in your pocket?

How about your printed matter? Are you nearly out of stationery? Do you need letter heads, note heads, any statements, envelopes, bill heads, cards, tickets or anything else in the printing line? The Eccentric will do your work quickly and neatly. We guarantee to give satisfaction and our prices, while they may not be the cheapest, are certainly guaranteed to be as low as possible on the same grade of work. Bring in those verses you have laid away; save them by having them printed neatly and at a price that you can afford. 2t.

Ever stop to think how easy it is for a smooth talking stranger to walk into a farmer's house and sell him a gold brick or stock in a "Sure-Thing" mine, or an oil well, or blue sky in Arizona, or land project in the Nafroba district of East Africa? They fall for it like wheat before the harvester. But if you tell them that they had better invest in real estate right here at home where the values are steadily increasing, they would scoff at the suggestion. Do you know that there has been at least fifty thousand dollars gone out of Birmingham and vincinty in the last ten years which has never brought back a cent and never will? And yet the sharks are coming every day and they one and all get a little of the hard earned money of this community. You needn't confine it to our farmer friends, either. The sharpest on our business men have been soaked time and again, good and plenty. Well then; why not invest in property right here at home, where you can keep your eye on it and know beyond dispute that you will get at least something back for your money.

People are accustomed to talk of crimes as a terrible thing and say that the son has fallen dreadfully when he has not fallen at all. He was raised that way. Right here in this township, some fathers and mothers are educating their children in the requirements of first-class devils. Of course they do not mean to do so, but they are none the less. Boys are let run wild, are allowed to carouse on the streets until after midnight and never put to work. It is as natural for the idle boy to go to the bad as it is for them to live. The influence is that way. Instead of the pure God hallowed atmosphere of home many boys breathe the unwholesome air of a crowd of smokers and listen to the oaths sworn more often than prayers are offered at home. Parents are responsible for their boys and should surround them with attractive home influences. Train a boy to go in good company and he will go there; let him go wild and his associates will be anything but good.

The funeral services of the late Fanny V. Short were held from her late home, 399 Hancock avenue west; Saturday Jan. 28, '11. Her burial was at Pontiac.

The supreme court handed down an opinion recently knocking out the contention of St. Clair county weits and ordering the board of supervisors to meet and make arrangements for the local option election this spring.

A hand sled was taken from Mr Shepherd's premises one night last week. If the taker of this sled returns it at once, well and good. If the sled is not returned immediately an arrest will follow, as the party is known and his act can be proved.

Cast your eye on the change in the assetts and surplus of the Pontiac Savings Bank. Do this and you will see their surplus $100,000.00 increased from $68,000.00. Assetts, $1,300,000.00 from $600,000.00. More than doubled and makes a great showing.

In the First Presbyterian church, next Sunday evening, there will be a service of special interest to the young. The speaker will be Mr. VanAken of the Y. M. C. A., Detroit. Music by the Mandolin club. Solo by Mrs. Saltzer. The hour of service, 7 o'clock.

Some candidates for the office of postmaster are hustling for signatures. Three are in sight and some more out in the brush. Boys, we don't think there will be a change unless charges are brought and proved against the present incumbent John Hanna, and we don't think there will be any.

The W. C. T. U. will hold their annual meeting next Tuesday afternoon Feb. 7, at 1:30 at the home of Mrs. Grace Smith. A good program is planned, and the district president and county president are expected to be present. As this is the annual meeting and the election of officers, all members are urged to be present. Every one is welcome.

Dr. J. L. Campbell had a nice job patching up Joseph Smallbone's big collar bone which he broke short off one day last week while fishing through the ice. Slipping on a small chunk of ice Mr. S. slipped and fell with the above result. He is getting along nicely but the three pound pickeral he caught didn't make half a meal for Joe's family.

Attention! Freeholders and citizens of Birmingham! The situation which confronts the wellfare and health of the residents of Birmingham, is one of of FACT, not guess work in the question of sewers. Surface draining may do for certain localities, but, when 1600 people, and more, live within speaking distance of each other, it then becomes self-evident that for every one of these 1600 and more, to trow slops out the back door,—are contributing to disease and danger to health,—let alone the filthiness of it.

A correspondent says: "In a recent issue of the Eccentric, a notice of a school social reads, 'having no place at the school building, the affair will be held etc.'" Now, why not have a new school building that will contain school rooms on one floor, and an audience room on the other. Such a room could be used for commencements, junior exhibitions, school socials and all entertainments. The amounts now paid out for rent to churches and halls would more than pay the interest on the investment. Think it over.

Paul N. Domke, brother of Mrs. Gustave Feole, and Miss Helen Domke, recently arrived here from a trip which covered over 55,000 miles, and extended over a period of three years, spending most of this time in New Zealand, Australia, China, the Phillipines, Japan, Russia, South Sea Islans, Mexico and our own United States. He will remain here for about two weeks visiting friends and relatives in and about Southfield. He will then go to Alpena, for a few days, visiting two sisters, and finally go to Rogers City, where his home folks are anxiously awaiting his coming.

Just think of the good time ahead for Ed. Holloway. After 21 years absence in the U. S. A. Ed. is now on his way for a visit with his mother in Old England. It is to be a surprise for her and when Ed. walks walks into the old home and meets mother, home and ham sandwiches,—there will be tears. He expects to be away for three months and we know of no one more deserving of a vacation than this same Ed. Holloway. While away the Eccentric will reach him once a week at High Tree Bank, Leintwardine, Herefordshire, Eng. Good luck, a safe trip and safe return.

Died suddenly Wednesday Jan. 25, at her home, 2384 Woodward avenue, Detroit, Mary E. Stanley, aged 47 years. Her death came suddenly, and was the result of a complication of diseases. Miss Stanley was the only surviving daughter of John Stanley, from whom she inherited valuable Detroit city property which in turn increased in value until she left an estate worth $300,000.00. Miss Stanley was born in Troy, on the Stanley farm, where she lived until 30 years ago, at which time she moved to Detroit and entered society. Being an accomplished musician she soon became popular and was seen at most of the city's social functions until she retired 10 years ago on account of ill health. In church and charitable work, Miss Stanley played an important part, always being at the forefront of any movement that might be started in Blessed Sacrament Catholic parish. Since Christmas she had been confined to her bed nearly all the time, and while her death was expected at any time it came as a shock to her many friends here as well as elsewhere. Funeral services were held Saturday, Jan. 28th., from residence and also from Blessed Sacrament church. Burial at Mt. Elliott.

Mrs. Will Blumberg entertained for Miss Marian Poole Thursday of this week.

Miss Emma Miller of Detroit, called on her many friends in Birmingham last Saturday.

Miss Nona Bryson, of Owosso, visited her father, J. M. Bryson, of the Boston Stock farm last week.

Mr. E. Barr held his regular dancing class Wednesday evening, at the J. & S. hall with the usual large attendance.

Read H. F. Smith's new advt in this issue. He is the right man for all electric lighting and can quote you fair prices.

There will be a dancing party at Southfield hall Friday night, Feb. 10, under the management of Wm. F. Friedrich. Everybody invited.

To ice debtors. Pay all all sums due me for ice to A. Whitehead at the First National bank and oblige Ed. Holloway. 2t

The many friends of Mrs. S. M. Dudley will be pleased to hear that she is slowly but surely improving after a serious illness.

FOR SALE—Household furniture good as new. Must be sold this week, will go cheap. For particulars call Lee Stanley, phone 23.

Welkum! Faculty reception tonight Friday, Feb. 3, at 8 p. m. All B. H. S. students, past and present are welkum. Admission 25c.

Invitations are out for a grand masquerade party to come off at the J. & S. hall given by the K. of P. lodge next Friday evening, Feb. 10.

They do say that at the coming spring election, the children will vote for the village board that will give them a place to slide and skate.

Mrs. Benjamin Thorn was buried in Greenwood cemetery Saturday last. She has for years been a member of the Arnold home on Selden avenue, Detroit.

Why shouldn't the village do someteing for the children? The cost of flooding a vacant lot would be nothing compared to the pleasure. Why leave these things to private parties?

Now for our slogan. Miss Martha Baldwin is home again from her visit to Elgin, Ill., and takes up the lines right where she left off. The slogan question will soon be answered.

Hurrah—for our overworked R. D carriers. All carriers who have a route of 25 miles or over are now to receive $1,000 a year. This is better and as R. D. 1 says "let the good work go on, the boys earn every cent of it.

Tuesday evening the Young People's society of the First Presbyterian church were entertained at the Manse. There was a large attendance, and all enjoyed a short program, after which light refreshments were served.

Friday evening of last week, Dr. W. H. Poole's Sunday school class gave Miss Marion Poole, and Mr. Arthur King a surprise party at the home of Miss Keyser, on Townsend St. They were presented with a beautiful oak rocker.

The February Delineator has a fine article from Judge Lindsley entitled, "Measuring up Equal Suffrage." Every one who has read the suffrage articles in the Ladies Home Jornal and the Outlook should spend time in our library to read this article from one who knows.

A story is told of a Franklin boy who always had to wear his father's cast off clothing who was found one day weeping as though his heart would break. When asked what was the trouble he said: "Pa's gone and shaved his face clean and now I will probably have to wear those darned old red whiskers, dummitt."

He guarantees to give all his owners of sales perfect satisfaction.

Webster's NEW INTERNATIONAL Dictionary (G. & C. Merriam Co., Springfield, Mass.) surpasses the old International as much as that book exceeded its predecessor. On the old foundation a new superstructure has been built. The reconstruction has been carried on through many years by a large force of trained workers, under the supervision of Dr. W. T. Harris, former United States Commissioner of Education, and reenforced by eminent specialists. The definitions have been rearranged and amplified. The number of terms defined has been more than doubled. The etymology, synonyms, pronunciation, have received unsparing scholarly labor. The language of English literature for over seven centuries, the terminology of the arts and sciences, and the every-day speech of street, shop, and household, are presented with fullness and clearness. In size of vocabulary, in richness of general information, and in convenience of consultation, the book sets a new mark in lexicography.
