

THE INTERNATIONAL WORKERS' ORDER OF AMERICA
WHEATHEAD & MICHAEL, PUBLISHERS
BIRMINGHAM, FRIDAY, APR. 28

WHEAT HEADS TO CANADA FOR WHEAT

Latest News of Interest Boiled Down for the Busy Man.

Washington

Former United States Senator Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, to be United States ambassador to Germany, is the latest state to be named by authority, apparently direct from the White House.

Although the corporation tax for this year is not due before June, payments are beginning to reach the treasury at Washington. About $25,000,000 was paid during March. The estimated total receipts from that source for the year are $25,000,000.

By a vote of 265 to 89 the Canadian reciprocity agreement was passed by the house of representatives. No amendments were allowed to the bill, which was very similar to the one passed last year.

Captain John C. Bower, U. S. N., superintendent of the naval academy at Annapolis, will formally apologize to Prof. Henry A. Heers of Yale university, who charged with blowing up a divorce from his beautiful young wife. Dr. O'Malley charges his wife with having endeavored to desert him, and she has obtained his brother's jewels.

The Colorado house of representatives has passed a drastic anti-trust bill which at the time it was introduced was charged with blowing up a divorce from his beautiful young wife. Dr. O'Malley charges his wife with having endeavored to desert him, and she has obtained his brother's jewels.

Representative Berger, Socialist, of Wisconsin, wants congress to have power to call a constitutional convention. He introduced a resolution providing an amendment to the Constitution granting that authority and characterized the Constitution as "antiquated and obsolete."

Domestic

Walter Dyer, counsel for the Erectors' Association; W. J. Ford, assistant district attorney of Los Angeles, and Frank Fox, chauffeur, were arrested at Indianapolis on affidavits charging them with having kidnaped J. J. McNamara, secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers.

The grand jury began an investigation of the "wrecking" operations charged to men of the Structural Iron Workers' union.

The second international congress on child welfare opened in Washington.

The Pacific mail steamship Asia, from Hongkong for San Francisco, was wrecked off the coast of California. The passengers were rescued and the mails saved.

Immigrant women on an average bear nearly twice as many children as do American women of native parentage, according to statistics compiled from the twelfth census, which also show that as the races become acculturated the foreign stock among the foreign stock almost invariably showing a greater number than the native.

Personal

E. H. Gary, who has been head of the steel trust since its organization, will retire in the near future from the position of president of the American Iron and Steel Institute.

Victor Moravetz of New York and Miss Violet Westcott of Syracuse, a daughter of the late Edward Hayes Westcott, author of "David Harum," were married at New York.

The engagement is announced of Mrs. Gertrude Payne, wife of Representative Seno E. Payne of Auburn, N. Y., author of the Payne tariff bill, and the daughter of the late Charles H. Payne, who was a member of the New York banking circles.

William A. Day was elected president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society by a board of trustees at New York City.

Dr. C. G. Abbot, director of the National Civic Federation, is the author of the book "The National Civic Federation," which is being distributed by the National Civic Federation.

General Haders in behalf of the Insular Republic of Hawaii, is the author of the book "The Insular Republic of Hawaii," which is being distributed by the Insular Republic of Hawaii.

Because Mrs. Joseph Bourdan did not have the necessary three dollars required as a fee for a warrant of arrest, she was arrested by the police.

Will Potter, a negro, was the centennial of the death of Lincoln, Ky., when he was dragged to the workhouse and then to the workhouse.

The famous Gutenberg Bible, sold in the sale of the library of the late Robert H. How at the Anderson auction rooms, New York city, brought $48,000. This is the highest price given for any book at any sale in the history of the world.

LIBERAL TERMS OFFERED THE MEXICAN REBELS.

ARMISTICE AND PLANS FOR PEACE, MAKING ARE IN PROGRESS.

RECOGNITION OF PRESIDENT DIAZ WILL BE MADE IN FIVE DAYS.

IF NECESSARY.

An extension of the armistice of five days will be granted by both sides and rebels if a longer time is needed to conclude peace negotiations. The resignation of Diaz will not be asked. The armistice is signed and accepted by Gen. Navarro, of the federal forces, and Gen. Madero, of the rebels.

Negotiations for peace had extended just far enough to put each side on the outlines of an armistice, and the other demands. Gen. Madero has known and secretly guarded for two weeks the military side to what the government will grant. He telegraphed Mexico City the nature of the situation as to what the government will grant. He telegraphed Mexico City the nature of the situation as to what the government will grant.

Following the armistice, the rebels will be no movement of troops either side during the next five days, and provisions and medicines may be brought in from the American side without payment of duty.

These were the more important bills to pass. There were some equally important that did not pass. The senate stilled many of these, but the house passed them when it came to killing measures.

Perhaps the chief bills to be killed passed the house and were referred to committee. They included a referendum and recall. They all passed the house and came nearly ready to pass the senate.

Women's suffrage lacked but 13 votes of passing the house, and will pass if the senate ratifies it. A state-wide prohibition bill introduced in the house never came out of committee.

A bill providing that the unit for local option should be cities, villages or townships, was introduced in the house, but never came out of committee.

A bill to permit brewers to operate in bond in dry counties was introduced in the senate, but failed to pass.

A civil service bill was introduced in the house, but failed to pass. A bill creating a teachers' retirement fund passed the senate, but failed to pass the house.

A bill to abolish the offices of state oil inspector, state salt inspector, and state fish and game inspector, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to abolish the state land commission, and to place the land in the hands of a central board of control for all general and reformatory institutions, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill creating a state boiler inspection board, and to place the boiler inspection board in the hands of a central board of control for all general and reformatory institutions, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

and flags on Michigan railroads. Forcing the R. & I. railroad to close its eyes on charging more than a 2-cent fare from Michigan points to points in Indiana.

LIBERAL TERMS OFFERED THE MEXICAN REBELS.

ARMISTICE AND PLANS FOR PEACE, MAKING ARE IN PROGRESS.

RECOGNITION OF PRESIDENT DIAZ WILL BE MADE IN FIVE DAYS.

IF NECESSARY.

An extension of the armistice of five days will be granted by both sides and rebels if a longer time is needed to conclude peace negotiations. The resignation of Diaz will not be asked. The armistice is signed and accepted by Gen. Navarro, of the federal forces, and Gen. Madero, of the rebels.

Negotiations for peace had extended just far enough to put each side on the outlines of an armistice, and the other demands. Gen. Madero has known and secretly guarded for two weeks the military side to what the government will grant. He telegraphed Mexico City the nature of the situation as to what the government will grant. He telegraphed Mexico City the nature of the situation as to what the government will grant.

Following the armistice, the rebels will be no movement of troops either side during the next five days, and provisions and medicines may be brought in from the American side without payment of duty.

These were the more important bills to pass. There were some equally important that did not pass. The senate stilled many of these, but the house passed them when it came to killing measures.

Perhaps the chief bills to be killed passed the house and were referred to committee. They included a referendum and recall. They all passed the house and came nearly ready to pass the senate.

Women's suffrage lacked but 13 votes of passing the house, and will pass if the senate ratifies it. A state-wide prohibition bill introduced in the house never came out of committee.

A bill providing that the unit for local option should be cities, villages or townships, was introduced in the house, but never came out of committee.

A bill to permit brewers to operate in bond in dry counties was introduced in the senate, but failed to pass.

A civil service bill was introduced in the house, but failed to pass. A bill creating a teachers' retirement fund passed the senate, but failed to pass the house.

A bill to abolish the offices of state oil inspector, state salt inspector, and state fish and game inspector, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to abolish the state land commission, and to place the land in the hands of a central board of control for all general and reformatory institutions, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill creating a state boiler inspection board, and to place the boiler inspection board in the hands of a central board of control for all general and reformatory institutions, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

and flags on Michigan railroads. Forcing the R. & I. railroad to close its eyes on charging more than a 2-cent fare from Michigan points to points in Indiana.

LIBERAL TERMS OFFERED THE MEXICAN REBELS.

ARMISTICE AND PLANS FOR PEACE, MAKING ARE IN PROGRESS.

RECOGNITION OF PRESIDENT DIAZ WILL BE MADE IN FIVE DAYS.

IF NECESSARY.

An extension of the armistice of five days will be granted by both sides and rebels if a longer time is needed to conclude peace negotiations. The resignation of Diaz will not be asked. The armistice is signed and accepted by Gen. Navarro, of the federal forces, and Gen. Madero, of the rebels.

Negotiations for peace had extended just far enough to put each side on the outlines of an armistice, and the other demands. Gen. Madero has known and secretly guarded for two weeks the military side to what the government will grant. He telegraphed Mexico City the nature of the situation as to what the government will grant. He telegraphed Mexico City the nature of the situation as to what the government will grant.

Following the armistice, the rebels will be no movement of troops either side during the next five days, and provisions and medicines may be brought in from the American side without payment of duty.

These were the more important bills to pass. There were some equally important that did not pass. The senate stilled many of these, but the house passed them when it came to killing measures.

Perhaps the chief bills to be killed passed the house and were referred to committee. They included a referendum and recall. They all passed the house and came nearly ready to pass the senate.

Women's suffrage lacked but 13 votes of passing the house, and will pass if the senate ratifies it. A state-wide prohibition bill introduced in the house never came out of committee.

A bill providing that the unit for local option should be cities, villages or townships, was introduced in the house, but never came out of committee.

A bill to permit brewers to operate in bond in dry counties was introduced in the senate, but failed to pass.

A civil service bill was introduced in the house, but failed to pass. A bill creating a teachers' retirement fund passed the senate, but failed to pass the house.

A bill to abolish the offices of state oil inspector, state salt inspector, and state fish and game inspector, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to abolish the state land commission, and to place the land in the hands of a central board of control for all general and reformatory institutions, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill creating a state boiler inspection board, and to place the boiler inspection board in the hands of a central board of control for all general and reformatory institutions, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

and flags on Michigan railroads. Forcing the R. & I. railroad to close its eyes on charging more than a 2-cent fare from Michigan points to points in Indiana.

LIBERAL TERMS OFFERED THE MEXICAN REBELS.

ARMISTICE AND PLANS FOR PEACE, MAKING ARE IN PROGRESS.

RECOGNITION OF PRESIDENT DIAZ WILL BE MADE IN FIVE DAYS.

IF NECESSARY.

An extension of the armistice of five days will be granted by both sides and rebels if a longer time is needed to conclude peace negotiations. The resignation of Diaz will not be asked. The armistice is signed and accepted by Gen. Navarro, of the federal forces, and Gen. Madero, of the rebels.

Negotiations for peace had extended just far enough to put each side on the outlines of an armistice, and the other demands. Gen. Madero has known and secretly guarded for two weeks the military side to what the government will grant. He telegraphed Mexico City the nature of the situation as to what the government will grant. He telegraphed Mexico City the nature of the situation as to what the government will grant.

Following the armistice, the rebels will be no movement of troops either side during the next five days, and provisions and medicines may be brought in from the American side without payment of duty.

These were the more important bills to pass. There were some equally important that did not pass. The senate stilled many of these, but the house passed them when it came to killing measures.

Perhaps the chief bills to be killed passed the house and were referred to committee. They included a referendum and recall. They all passed the house and came nearly ready to pass the senate.

Women's suffrage lacked but 13 votes of passing the house, and will pass if the senate ratifies it. A state-wide prohibition bill introduced in the house never came out of committee.

A bill providing that the unit for local option should be cities, villages or townships, was introduced in the house, but never came out of committee.

A bill to permit brewers to operate in bond in dry counties was introduced in the senate, but failed to pass.

A civil service bill was introduced in the house, but failed to pass. A bill creating a teachers' retirement fund passed the senate, but failed to pass the house.

A bill to abolish the offices of state oil inspector, state salt inspector, and state fish and game inspector, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to abolish the state land commission, and to place the land in the hands of a central board of control for all general and reformatory institutions, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill creating a state boiler inspection board, and to place the boiler inspection board in the hands of a central board of control for all general and reformatory institutions, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

and flags on Michigan railroads. Forcing the R. & I. railroad to close its eyes on charging more than a 2-cent fare from Michigan points to points in Indiana.

LIBERAL TERMS OFFERED THE MEXICAN REBELS.

ARMISTICE AND PLANS FOR PEACE, MAKING ARE IN PROGRESS.

RECOGNITION OF PRESIDENT DIAZ WILL BE MADE IN FIVE DAYS.

IF NECESSARY.

An extension of the armistice of five days will be granted by both sides and rebels if a longer time is needed to conclude peace negotiations. The resignation of Diaz will not be asked. The armistice is signed and accepted by Gen. Navarro, of the federal forces, and Gen. Madero, of the rebels.

Negotiations for peace had extended just far enough to put each side on the outlines of an armistice, and the other demands. Gen. Madero has known and secretly guarded for two weeks the military side to what the government will grant. He telegraphed Mexico City the nature of the situation as to what the government will grant. He telegraphed Mexico City the nature of the situation as to what the government will grant.

Following the armistice, the rebels will be no movement of troops either side during the next five days, and provisions and medicines may be brought in from the American side without payment of duty.

These were the more important bills to pass. There were some equally important that did not pass. The senate stilled many of these, but the house passed them when it came to killing measures.

Perhaps the chief bills to be killed passed the house and were referred to committee. They included a referendum and recall. They all passed the house and came nearly ready to pass the senate.

Women's suffrage lacked but 13 votes of passing the house, and will pass if the senate ratifies it. A state-wide prohibition bill introduced in the house never came out of committee.

A bill providing that the unit for local option should be cities, villages or townships, was introduced in the house, but never came out of committee.

A bill to permit brewers to operate in bond in dry counties was introduced in the senate, but failed to pass.

A civil service bill was introduced in the house, but failed to pass. A bill creating a teachers' retirement fund passed the senate, but failed to pass the house.

A bill to abolish the offices of state oil inspector, state salt inspector, and state fish and game inspector, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to abolish the state land commission, and to place the land in the hands of a central board of control for all general and reformatory institutions, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill creating a state boiler inspection board, and to place the boiler inspection board in the hands of a central board of control for all general and reformatory institutions, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

and flags on Michigan railroads. Forcing the R. & I. railroad to close its eyes on charging more than a 2-cent fare from Michigan points to points in Indiana.

LIBERAL TERMS OFFERED THE MEXICAN REBELS.

ARMISTICE AND PLANS FOR PEACE, MAKING ARE IN PROGRESS.

RECOGNITION OF PRESIDENT DIAZ WILL BE MADE IN FIVE DAYS.

IF NECESSARY.

An extension of the armistice of five days will be granted by both sides and rebels if a longer time is needed to conclude peace negotiations. The resignation of Diaz will not be asked. The armistice is signed and accepted by Gen. Navarro, of the federal forces, and Gen. Madero, of the rebels.

Negotiations for peace had extended just far enough to put each side on the outlines of an armistice, and the other demands. Gen. Madero has known and secretly guarded for two weeks the military side to what the government will grant. He telegraphed Mexico City the nature of the situation as to what the government will grant. He telegraphed Mexico City the nature of the situation as to what the government will grant.

Following the armistice, the rebels will be no movement of troops either side during the next five days, and provisions and medicines may be brought in from the American side without payment of duty.

These were the more important bills to pass. There were some equally important that did not pass. The senate stilled many of these, but the house passed them when it came to killing measures.

Perhaps the chief bills to be killed passed the house and were referred to committee. They included a referendum and recall. They all passed the house and came nearly ready to pass the senate.

Women's suffrage lacked but 13 votes of passing the house, and will pass if the senate ratifies it. A state-wide prohibition bill introduced in the house never came out of committee.

A bill providing that the unit for local option should be cities, villages or townships, was introduced in the house, but never came out of committee.

A bill to permit brewers to operate in bond in dry counties was introduced in the senate, but failed to pass.

A civil service bill was introduced in the house, but failed to pass. A bill creating a teachers' retirement fund passed the senate, but failed to pass the house.

A bill to abolish the offices of state oil inspector, state salt inspector, and state fish and game inspector, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to abolish the state land commission, and to place the land in the hands of a central board of control for all general and reformatory institutions, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill creating a state boiler inspection board, and to place the boiler inspection board in the hands of a central board of control for all general and reformatory institutions, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed to pass.

A bill to provide a tonnage tax upon entry of foreign vessels into the ports of the United States, was introduced in the house, but failed