"Sitting There Crying Your Eyes Out Won't Do Him Any Good."

Synopsis: Howard Jeffrey, husband of Annie, is a man of means who has been in the habit of... The following is a partial list of Farms, City and Village Lots, and Real Estate generally which we have for sale...

CHAPTER X.—Continued. Annie sat timidly on a chair in the background and the captain turned again to the doctor. "What's that you were saying, doctor?"

He hesitated before replying, then said: "Yes, I knew him at one time. He introduced me to your husband." "Where was that?" "In New Haven, Conn."

"Up at the college, eh? How long have you known Mr. Underwood?" Annie looked at her inquisitor and said nothing. She wondered what he was driving at, what importance the question had to the case. "Finally she said: "I met him once or twice up at New Haven, but I've never seen him since my marriage to Mr. Jeffrey. My husband and he were not very good friends. That is—"

She stopped, realizing that she had made a mistake. How foolish she had been! The police, of course, were anxious to show that there was ill feeling between the two men. Her heart misgave her as she saw the look of satisfaction in the captain's face. "Ah!" he exclaimed. "Not very good friends, eh? In fact, your husband didn't like him, did he?"

Stand up for Convictions

The World Has Little Respect for the Man Who Sincerely Has No Mind of His Own. There are many men who seem to have no convictions on any subject if they have any they give no sign.
