

"All Run Down"

Describe the condition of thousands of men and women who need only to purify and enrich their blood. They feel tired all the time. Every task, every walk, every bill, has become a labor to them, because they have not strength to do nor power to endure.

If you are one of these all-run-down people, get at all debilitated take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It purifies and enriches the blood, and builds up the whole system. Get it today in small liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsaparilla.

100 YEARS OLD Peter's Eye Salve

Had His Troubles. "Michael's ointment, it is yours!" "Yes, sure it is." "Well, you know that bletherin' spalpeen 'Whidly Castigan's' second time round?" "That I do." "He bet me a bob to a pint of whiskey I couldn't wash an egg without breakin' the shell up!" "An' he did it!" "Tilly, you always ailin' 'er?" "It's done there," laying his hand on the lower part of his waist coat, "I could wash an egg without breakin' the shell up!" "An' he did it!" "Tilly, you always ailin' 'er?" "It's done there," laying his hand on the lower part of his waist coat, "I could wash an egg without breakin' the shell up!"

KIDNEY CHILLS AND BACKACHE.

If, when you get wet or take cold, it settles on the kidneys and there is a shivery, chilly sensation in the back, it shows kidney weakness which is often the beginning of serious disease. Don't's Kidney Pills should be taken immediately with the backache and other symptoms disappear.

C. D. Kessler, 408 E. 5th St., Mendota, Ill., says: "Kidney trouble came on me about 20 years ago, and I was unable to work for weeks. I was thin, weak and nervous; the doctors admitted they could not help me and my friends expected me to die. As a last hope I began taking Don's Kidney Pills and shortly after passed a gravel stone. Later on I improved until cured."

Remember the name—Don's.

A Poetic Prosecutor.

John Burns, city prosecutor of St. Paul, was trying to show Judge Finesh about why some young men ought to be fined for tearing tickets off the fence of Mrs. Joe Goosch. Mr. Burns said:

"I know Mike Chickett took off that ticket and is charged with tearing a fence," replied Judge Finesh, "and besides, this is no place for poetry."

A FRIENDLY DIG.

Edith—There is a rumor that Daisy cheats awfully at bridge.

Ethel—Is that why you were so anxious to get her for a partner last night?

FEED YOUR GIRLS.

Must Have Right Food While Growing.

Great care should be taken at the critical period when the young girl is just emerging into womanhood. It is a time when the body is building up and nothing harmful.

At 12 the structure is being formed and it formed on a healthy sturdy character, health and happiness will follow; on the other hand unhealthy cells may be built in and a sick condition slowly supervenes which, if not checked, may ripen into a chronic condition and cause life-long suffering.

"Young lady says," the dietitian said, "Coffee began to have such an effect on my stomach a few years ago that I finally quit using it. It brought off headaches, pains in my muscles, and nervousness."

"I tried to use tea in its stead, but found its effects even worse than those I suffered from coffee. Then for a long time I drank milk at my meals, but at last it palled on me. A friend came to the rescue with the suggestion that I try Postum."

"I did so, only to find at first that I didn't fancy it. But I had heard of so many persons who had been benefited by its use that I persevered, and when I had made right—according to directions on the package—I found it grateful in flavor and so soothing and strengthening to my stomach. I can find no words to express my feeling of what I love to Postum."

"In every respect it has worked a wonderful improvement—the headaches, nervousness, the pains in my side and back—all have disappeared and my systems yielded to the magic power of Postum. My brain seems also to share in the betterment of my physical condition. It is now so clear and alert and brighter. I am, in short, in better health now than for a long while before, and I am sure I owe it to the healthful and nourishing food given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Mich."

"That's a reason."

WHEN MARK TWAIN WAS A BOY

Trip of the "Innocents Abroad" Compared With the Cruises That Are Made Today.

When Mark Twain, in company with about 100 other "Innocents" made his famous cruise abroad, their progress from port to port, their stay at the Quaker Hotel, was followed with interest by the entire country. At present half a dozen great steamships, carrying from two to five times as many tourists, are on cruise in different parts of the world. This attractive method of travel has become a fixed institution. It is common to contrast the arrangements of this first cruise of the "Innocents Abroad" with those of today, nearly a century later. The Quaker City, the side-wheel steamer on which the first cruise was made, carried a few more than 100 passengers and offered only the most essential accommodations.

The first Mediterranean cruise cost $1250 per passenger, with many extras. The advance in rates and security of steamers has been marked by a corresponding decrease in the cost of transportation. Today one may enjoy the globe for less than twice the fare paid by the "Innocents," while a long trip to the Mediterranean, exactly duplicating that of the Quaker City, with a corresponding added luxuries, costs only about one-fourth as much. There are at present four great steamship lines, carrying together 1,400 passengers, cruising in the Mediterranean, South America and the West Indies.

Henry Ward Beecher did not think. He feared a communicant by wireless telegraph at a cable with New York, while the daily newspaper, printed abroad, keeps the tourist constantly in touch with the latest news.

Mark Twain, it will be remembered, grew eloquent in describing the indignities of the trip, which seated more than 100 passengers, and the melodeon used for concerts and the orchestra for dances. He and half a thousand tourists can dine together in a palatial cabin, to the accompaniment of a stringed orchestra of 100 musicians.

Henry Ward Beecher edited in Cincinnati a small daily paper, his sister, Mrs. Stowe, being his only correspondent. She wrote the book with the kindest feelings to the south, and her aim was to be not only a fair reporter, but a friend.

To begin with, Mrs. Stowe was not of the extreme abolitionist type. It was her firm belief that the better way to the south was to befriend the "little woman" that it never occurred to her that there was anything about "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in the least likely to precipitate a war. She wrote the book with the kindest feelings to the south, and her aim was to be not only a fair reporter, but a friend.

She wrote the book with the kindest feelings to the south, and her aim was to be not only a fair reporter, but a friend.

Dr. Birney's abolitionist paper was wrecked by a mob and she writes: "My respectable citizens are inclined to wink at the outrage in consideration of its moving in the line of their prejudices." Henry Ward Beecher did not think. He feared a communicant by wireless telegraph at a cable with New York, while the daily newspaper, printed abroad, keeps the tourist constantly in touch with the latest news.

THAT'S VERY GOOD.

Vegetable Compound.

Natick, Mass.—"I cannot express what I went through during the change of life of my mother. I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it did me more good than any other medicine I had ever used. I feel like a new woman now."

She crossed her trembling hand and gasped. With startled eyes, but did not look at it, it was a royal flush.

A Strange Situation. "Humor is a funny thing," said Binka. "It ought to be," said the Philosopher.

"Oh, I don't mean that way," said Binka. "I mean that it is a strange thing. Next time you would like to be, I can and I speak English, but I'm afraid I can see an English job."

"Most people are," said the Philosopher. "Are what?" said Binka. "That if they can see an English job," said the Philosopher. "It is a sign of an unusually keen vision," said Harper's Weekly.

IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMER TIME. Many a time this summer you're going to be just about done out by the heat—but, and so thirty it just seems nothing could quench it. When such moments arrive or when you just want a delicious, palate tickling drink step into the first place you can find where they sell COCA-COLA. It's delicious, refreshing and completely thirst-quenching. At soda-fountains, carbonated in bottles—so everywhere. Some Antique Mugs. The college collector of antiques stopped off at Bacon Ridge. The postmaster. "I am collecting old-fashioned antiques and would like to know if you could find anything like that in the market. Say antique mugs, for instance."

"Antique mugs! By gosh, I know the very place where I know two of them now. Good day, sir! Here's a good cigar. Now where can I find these antique mugs?"

"Why, down on Main street, in Hiram Springs, in the store of Whaley, Leroy and Spang Simmons are in there getting shaved, and by gosh, when it comes to antique mugs, I reckon that they are the oldest in the country, stranger."

To the Point. Over in Hoken's shop frequented by Germans, hangs a sign framed in mournful black, reading thus: "We regret to inform our honored customers that our good and generous friend, Mr. Credit, expired today. He was a noble soul, always willing and helpful, and has been full of our time. May he rest in peace. PAY CASH!"

Local Color. "I understand that sixteen different women have brought suit for breach of promise against Hiter. What's his deal?" "Oh, he claims that he was simply getting material for his annual output of summer love stories."—Puck.
