

ELEVEN YEARS OF HEALTH.

Kidney Trouble Never Returned.

Mrs. Everett Griffith, 2845 E. 10th Ave., Evansville, Ind. "I was certainly in bad shape from kidney disease and it is really a wonder that I am alive today. The kidney secretions passed irregularly and were abnormal; thick; I had bad spells with my head and at times could hardly stand. My left limb below the knee became so badly swollen that I began to treat myself for dropsy and my back was so sore as I could not raise my arm above my head. I was finally induced to buy Doan's Kidney Pills and in six weeks I was well. My cure was permanent and I have enjoyed excellent health ever since.

What Mamma Said.

"When the new minister, a handsome and unmarried man, made his first pastoral call at the Focklecks, he took little Anna up in his arms and tried to kiss her. But the child refused to be kissed; she struggled loose and ran off into the next room, where her mother was putting a dress finishing touches to her adornment before going into the drawing room to greet the clergyman.

"Mamma," the little girl whispered, "the man in the drawing room wanted me to kiss him."

"Well, replied mamma, 'why didn't you let him kiss you? It was wrong. Thereupon Anna ran back into the drawing room, and the minister asked:

"Well, little lady, now you kiss me now?"

"No, I won't," replied Anna promptly. "But mamma says she will."

Anxiously Waiting.

"I do hope things will be a turn for the better soon. If stocks would only go up!"

"Why, have you been investing in stocks, my dear?"

"No, but father has promised that he would buy me a duke as soon as A. G. & W. touches 120."

PRACTICAL WOOL RECEPTACLE ATTRACTIVE IN APPEARANCE

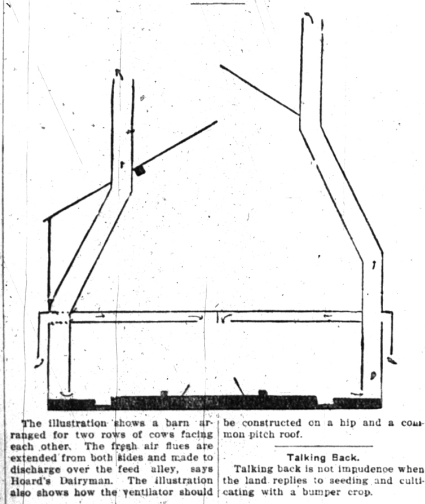

Details Given Herewith for Construction of Inexpensive Box for Packing Fleeces So That None of Black Ends Will Show and Keep It Regular and Compact. —Any Farmer Can Make One.

There are several kinds of wool boxes used by growers in tying up fleeces, wool, but the following shows a cheap, practical box that can be easily made by any farmer who can use a saw, square and screwdriver, writes Roscoe Wood in the Breeder's Gazette.

Take three 14-inch boards two feet long and one foot wide, clear pine, or what is better, oak or walnut; they should be planed and smoothed so that they are about seven-eighths inch thick and 11 inches wide. Saw out of these boards five or six pieces, one D, 12 1/2 inches long, the other two, C and E, 11 inches long. Fasten each of the shorter pieces to each end of the piece D with strong iron hinges, which should be set into the board so that when opened the boards lie close together. Then on the sides of the piece D fasten the 3-foot pieces, A and B, one on each side, in like manner,

WELL VENTILATED COW BARN

FEEDING COWS FOR BUTTER

Rich, Concentrated Foods Add to Richness of Milk Without Increasing Flow—First Test in Tennessee.

No better or more conclusive evidence could be offered showing how the richness of the milk is affected by the quality of food. Cows vary in the quantity of milk they give as much as they do in the quality, says the Rural Home. It is a well known fact that some feeders will increase the quantity of milk, but add nothing to its richness, and it is equally true that rich, concentrated feeds will add to the richness of the milk without increasing the flow. The first systematic testing of Jersey cattle for butter in any noticeable extent in this country was made by the breeders of these cattle in Tennessee, and largely from the results of these tests the same of the Tennessee Jerseys was established. Every method known to science, skill and practical experiment in feeding, so as to get the last fractional part of an ounce of butter from them, in tests from one day to one year, was resorted to, and in nine cases out of ten it was demonstrated that rich feeds produced rich milk, and that the greatest quantity of butter was not made when the cow was giving her greatest flow of milk.

Coal Tar for Trees. We may apply coal tar during the spring when the circulation of the sap is active, with comparative safety. However, to apply it when the trees are dormant there is danger of injuring the trees. There is another preparation, a German preparation, known as Carbolineum, which can be painted on the trees when they are active and the circulation of sap and the trees will not touch them. It is used very extensively in Germany and is sold in New York. In some sections great injury is being done this winter from the results of these tests the same of the Tennessee Jerseys was established.

EASY TO MAKE CANDIED PEEL REPATRIATED.

Delicious Confection Prepared at Home Far Better Than Can Be Bought.

Orange skins (generally considered useless) can be used in two ways that will give much pleasure. Any girl who wants to have something a little out of the common for a husband or a friend, or who wants to make a very small gift, but one that shows some real work of her own, can accomplish this object by making candied orange peel. Not by buying it at the confectioner's, where plenty of it is sold, but by doing it herself. The candied orange peel made at home and used while fresh is so far superior to that one can buy that it seems like quite another thing.

It can be made the skin of an orange that has been peeled and used in any way, but rather a smooth skin should be chosen, and it must be used before it becomes at all hard and brittle. The first thing to do is to scrape off with a knife as much as possible of the white inner skin. Then cut up the orange peel in thin strips, one quarter an inch wide and from one and a half to two inches long.

Now comes the cooking, which is done in the following manner: In a small saucepan full of water dissolve three table-spoonsful of sugar and put in your strips of peel. Boil them until the water boils away, leaving a thick syrup. During the latter part of this process it must be carefully watched and stirred to prevent burning. Next take the peel from the saucepan and roll it in powdered sugar; then put the pieces on plates to dry, not piled up, but in single layers. The orange peel is best on the first or second day after it is made and it must be used within a week or it will grow too hard. A dairy box filled with this orange peel makes a very attractive gift, or if one sends some really handsome box (a silver one or an enamel or carved one) as a pleasure will be given by sending it with candied orange peel made by the giver.

ELECTRICITY IN THE KITCHEN

Combination Oven and Warming Plate That Surely Is a Boon to the Housewife.

In using gas, it is usually difficult to obtain the heat other than in an upward direction, even though this may not always be the most desirable for the purpose at hand. Most of the gas stoves used in kitchens show this limitation and the makers of electric kitchen appliances have recognized this being unhampered by this objectionable feature. With electric ovens or stoves the heating element can be placed in any position and the cooking may seem best suited for the cooking to be done by it and it may even be movable. An interesting illustration of this is the whole side of an oven can be swung outward to form a heating plate for use with teakettle, coffee pots, or the like. Such a change would be manifestly impossible with any gas heated device, yet it is but one of the wide range of new combinations which electricity is bringing to our kitchens—Popular Mechanics.

Join in War Against Tuberculosis.

From statistics published by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis it is ascertained that over 600 cities and towns of the United States, besides about 100 in Canada, are now engaged in the war against consumption, and on April 1st there were nearly 1,500 different agencies at work in the crusade, an increase of nearly 700 per cent. in the last seven years.

The new directory lists 421 tuberculosis sanatoria hospitals, and day camps, and 1,000 kindergartens and committees for the prevention of tuberculosis; 342 special dispensaries; 68 open air schools; 98 hospitals for the insane and mental institutions, making special provision for their tuberculous inmates; besides giving an account of the anti-tuberculosis legislation in every state and in about 210 cities.

The new directory is sold by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, 105 West Broadway, New York City, at cost price, 50 cents postpaid.

Who She Was.

"Well," laughed Squiggles, "some men never know when they are loved. That lady you just spoke to was about as distant as they make 'em in her greeting."

"Well, why shouldn't she be?" retorted Jabbers. "She's a distant relative of mine."

"By marriage?"

"No—by divorce. She got rid of me at a party in 1913." Jabbers looked at her severely. "You're the Weekly."

Good Peach-Canapes Recipe.

Peach-canapes may be a novelty. Drain peaches from syrup, and if whole cut in halves, put in a shallow pan, and in each cavity put one teaspoonful of sugar, one half teaspoonful of butter, a few drops of lemon juice and a slight grating of nutmeg. Surround with some of the syrup and bake in a slow oven until thoroughly heated, basting twice. Serve on circular pieces of sponge cake served in butter. If the cake is not at hand use buttered toast—Woman's Home Companion.

Cleaning Waste Pipe.

If the pipe of your kitchen sink becomes clogged, place your hand over the drain, being careful to hold the sides of the hand and tips of the fingers firmly on the sink. Allow water to the depth of one inch to run into the sink, then raise and lower the palm of the hand until you think the impurities has been removed. After this pour a quart of scalding water and soda down the pipe. This will carry away any waste that remains.

Delicious Soup.

Rinse lightly one cup of rice; cook in two quarts of salted water until the berries burst; stew an hour on a one-half hour; season when put on stove with one teaspoonful salt, a level teaspoon pepper, one tablespoon of sugar, one medium sized onion, one clove, small bay leaf and a little nutmeg; rub tomatoes when done through a sieve into the rice; stew; add one cup whipped cream and serve.

Berry Biscuit.

Now that the strawberry season has arrived, try strawberry biscuit occasionally. Prepare a biscuit dough, roll it out a third of an inch in thickness, and cut it into squares, mark each in halves. Put a spoonful of sweetened berries on one half, fold the other over it and pinch the edges together. Dip in little water. Rub with melted butter and bake.

Corn Balls.

Boil together two cups of molasses, one cup of brown sugar, an egg-size piece of butter, teaspoon of vinegar; pour in the hot water, and the popped corn the candy will take and mold into balls or pour into pans and cut into squares.

HAIRD. Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Shouldn't He? A very good natured broker, who is much larger than his wife, and who likes his little joke at someone else's expense, was sitting in the theater. A man behind him, not knowing who he was, leaned forward and whispered: "Will you please ask your wife to remove her hat?" "You'd better do it yourself," I'm afraid.

Whereupon the man behind became angry, arose, protested and left the theater.
