Why Farmers Should Keep a Bank Account

Their Bank deposit book affords them a complete record of their cash receipts, while the stubs of their check books are a perfect record of expenses and payments. Paying a laborer, a stove carrier, or any other bill with a bank check is much safer than with money, because you avoid the risk of handling the actual cash, and the indorsed check returned by the Bank is the best kind of a receipt.

Farmers, try the experiment for one year of keeping a Bank account and see if it does not pay you. A large number of the best farmers have accounts with us now.

The Reason
 Abigail named the highest Hissayup a peak, she climbed "the Fiancee" because it was so hard to win, or because it was so cold and cheerless, or, perhaps, just out of pure coarseness.
