Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed, it causes a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of 10 are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammation of the mucous surfaces. We will give $100 for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. Cheney, Detroit, Mich.

Cigar Tips Aid Charity.

Germany has a society that exists to collect cigar tips. The tips are saved by the smokers, most of whom help the society by carrying a little letter box, wherein they deposit the cigarette tips saved from the cigars they smoke; then they would otherwise throw away. The society collects the tips and sells them to a manufacturer, the receipts going toward the funds of various charitable institutions.

Birds for Mosquitoes.

Experience of the past few days has convinced everybody that the scientific way of eradicating mosquitoes is a fat failure. Insectivorous birds are the only remedy, and not all of them like mosquitoes. The swallow, which does its job in a street-dweller's house, is not a street-dweller; it is a rarity and the bat is promptly driven out of the house by the owners. The night hawk flies high and is a rarity and the bat is promptly driven out of the house by the owners. DANGER THE CUP

Efforts to Abolish the Common Drinking Vessel.

Illinois Follows Kansas in Legislation Effecting Use of the Public Cup—A Safety Drinking Fountain.

Springfield, Ill.—Illinois has effected the abolition of the common drinking cup. Death larks in Tuberculosis, diphtheria and other deadly diseases are distributed by it.

There is no question whatever about these facts, which may be said briefly to summarize the results of a special investigation recently made by the board of health of the state of Kansas.

Kansas led the way in a movement to do away with the common drinking glass. Such receptacles, which carry all sorts of infection from mouth to mouth, are not to be in future allowed in railroad trains, railroad stations and other public places in that state. Their use in the public schools is no longer to be permitted. And now Illinois has followed with similar regulations. It is expected that before long this movement will become nationwide.

One might say that the problem is satisfactorily solved by the paper cups for individual use which are sold by slot machines in many public places nowadays. All one has to do is to drop a cent into the slot, and out pops a beautifully made tumbler of paraffine when one pulls together and stuff enough to hold liquid for drinking. But when one comes to think about it, one perceives that such cups as these day folk are a luxury for the rich. Only the well-to-do can afford to pay a penny for a drink of water.

The problem of the drinking cup in relation to public health is much more difficult and much more important than most people imagine. Recent investigations of the subject by the Kansas state board of health and by bacteriologists elsewhere have Statistics Gathered at Princeton University Showing the Varied Occupations That Were Taken Up by the Young Men.

Statistics recently gathered at Princeton, show that 40 per cent of the students are working their way through college and the means of the entire enrollment of 1,442 students 577 are helping themselves to gain an education. These figures include all making the means of living in small and large amounts, and do not mean that the men are not getting outside assistance of a substantial kind. Students paying half their expenses are included in 20 per cent figures, and those paying their way through without any help from others could be put within the ten per cent limit.

There are scores of ways of making money at Princeton, and the fact that so many students take advantage of them is sufficient evidence that to work a little on the side is considered highly honorable by the student body as a whole, and it explains the further fact that among those working their way through are some of the most prominent men in college, both in athletics and in scholarship.

One of the most popular ways of making money is to help pay a term bill or keep the receipt in spending money is work on the college publications.

Agencies of various kinds—from laundry work to socks that won't tear out—give profitable employment. Three principal laundries doing student work have student representatives. These men are usually athletes, as are those who have clothing and athletic goods agencies. Canteens are sold by students at one dollar apiece and cigarettes, tobacco, steins, pennants, sofa pillows, pipes and the like are offered at student prices. But to freshmen especially, at the beginning of every college year, freshmen carry baskets around, well stocked with peanuts and chocolates. Soft hat men come through the dormitories in the fall and straw hat men in the spring. Shoes are sold by students and orders for a variety of various kinds are taken. Program privileges on the occasion of athletic events are frequented, and the advertising thereon yields a good return.

Students are agents for typewriters, bicycles, kodaks, golf sticks, caps, canes and the like. The privilege of taking newspaper subscription on the campus is considered a good one. Magazines are represented in Princeton by the student. Printing establishments yield some money—New York Times.

What She Wanted.

"I, for one, am in favor of the bill to abolish the use of algerettes and paradise plumes in ladies' hats. I support this bill not only for moral reasons, but for financial ones as well."

The speaker was Col. Lionel C. Harter, the well-known ornithologist of Memphis. He resumed:

"The cost of these algerettes and paradise plumes is a dreadful thing for any business concern. I saw yesterday a Virot hat covered with algerettes that was ticketed $200. And that reminds me—"

"A lady novelist wrote to a publisher last month:

"Please send a check in advance of royalties. I want to buy a new hat a fine wide brimmed one."

"The accommodating publisher sent the lady a check for $50. She acknowledged it indignantly.

"I and she wrote, 'that I wanted a hat, not a veil.'"

Art Criticism.

Robert Heint, the well-known New York painter, was condemning a stupid critic.

"His interpretations are always wrong," Mr. Heint said. "He always misunderstands totally an artist's conception. He reminds me of the Cincinnatian woman before Millet's 'Angelus.'"

"When the 'Angelus' was on exhibition at Earle's in Philadelphia, a Cincinnatian woman came in and she gazed with lively interest at the two peasants standing reverently in the sunset glow in the quiet meadow. The artist's couple, hey. Seem a bit shy, don't they?"

Young Worker's Tragic Death.

The sweep's boy—the "trampster" has still to work his tortuous way through the chimneys in France and an accident which has just occurred at Pleyruy-Andrieux, in the north, is a case in point. The boy, who was sent up the chimney of a baker and at the end of three-quarters of an hour he had not descended. The alarm was given, but the boy was perceived blocked in the chimney, which had to be demolished before his dead body could be freed. He was hanging by the neck, having been caught in a portion of the chimney measuring less than six inches across and asphyxiated.

THE WORLD'S FASTEST TIME

Vedrine Travels at the Rate of 155 Miles an Hour in Space of Thirty Minutes.

Paris—Jules Vedrine, who won the Paris-Madrid aeroplane race, attained the prodigious speed of 155 miles an hour when he flew the 77 1/2 miles between Difton and Laurent-le-Macon in 30 minutes. One hundred and 81 1/2 miles an hour means a speed of 75 yards 2 feet 3 inches a second.

Vedrine says he was propelled at times by a wind so swift that, as he flew, the tail of his aeroplane was perpendicular; also he encountered wind pockets that caused his monoplane to drop to the ground. He says he was scolding 500 feet in a few seconds. Vedrine suffered only by the strain of his eyes.
