The parents of Dr. George P. Raynale worried greatly over the result of our big storm last week as it was known the ship that they sailed to London, England, leaving Montreal was out in the storm and over due. A telegram to Dr. C. M. Raynale from Montreal announced the safe arrival of the big steamer 24 hours past due. Now Dr. George P. Raynale will busy himself the coming months at hospital work, taking post graduate courses at Edinburgh, Scotland and after finishing that branch of his work will follow out the same course in London, Eng. His wife is with him, and the time will be spent only in study by Dr. George P. and fitting himself for the future in surgery. When his post graduate courses are finished Dr. Geo. P. Raynale will locate in Birmingham, having leased the pleasant rooms over the Eccentric office for his offices.
