Ellsworth Culbert, who has been visiting relatives here for some time past, returned last week to his home in Chicago.

Mrs. Lighthall has moved here from Detroit into the house she recently purchased from G. C. Burnham on Washington avenue.

Edward Ray, who has been badly crippled with rheumatism for some time past, is able to get around again with the aid of crutches.

Harriet Kinnel, of Detroit, was the guest of relatives here the fore part of the week and made us a pleasant call. Come again Harrison.

The chicken pie social given by the ladies of St. Mary's church Monday afternoon and evening was a big success both socially and financially.

We wish to state that the new building being erected on the school grounds is not a kindergarten as a great many supposed but is for the primary grade. The crowded condition of the school made this building necessary.

Village attorney, George A. Dondero, has taken up the matter of trains obstructing the crossings in the village with the state railroad commissioner who has promised to give the matter his immediate attention. It is high time that something was done toward abating this nuisance.

Farmers are just about up against it. That the cow is costing more to feed than the horse, is the chief topic of conversation and the only saving proposition seems to be the silo. Cows are fed twice a day now—fodder costing money too. Pastures are absolutely dry, making both milk and butter almost a luxury.

Martin Moldenbaum, an aged German, swore out a warrant Friday for the arrest of his son, Charles, on a charge of assault and battery.

The old brantleman's face was all black and blue and swollen from the effects of the pouging he received at the hands of his son. He was brought into court Monday morning and plead not guilty to the charge. He was unable to furnish a bond of $500 and was remanded to jail to await examination.

Clarence Watch, who works in Detroit, started for his work Friday morning and upon reaching the railroad, found a freight train standing on the track and only having about five minutes to catch the interurban car, requested the brakeman to cut the train so he could get across, which the brakeman refused to do. Mr. Watch then attempted to go between the cars when the brakeman assaulted him and gave him a terrible beating. A warrant was sworn out for the brakeman's arrest.

Corra Baker, who has been spending the summer with relatives in Detroit, has returned home.

C. G. Willson, janitor at the high school, is to be congratulated upon the nice condition which he had everything at the opening of school Tuesday.

Everything that needed painting was done, inside the building it was as neat as wax and in fact nothing had been left undone to make it as neat and pleasant as possible. He is truly the right man in the right place.

An entertainment will be given in the M. E. church on the evening of Sept. 14, by the Home and Foreign Missionary societies. The program which promises to be very interesting is under the direction of Mrs. H. Hitchcock. She requests that the members and their friends write some experience of the summer just passed on a souvenir postal card and bring it to this meeting. Light refreshments will be served and it is expected that a debate will be given on some interesting question.

It is also expected that a lady who has been a missionary in Japan will be present and she will dress in Japanese costume and sing in their language. A ticket which can be obtained for the small sum of 15c will admit you to this entertainment. Everybody invited.

5 Strong Reasons for Fall Painting

- 1. The wood is thoroughly dry. Summer's sun has removed all moisture.
2. Paint penetrates deeper into dry wood. The deeper it goes the better it holds.
3. Fall weather is warm, dry and dependable. Little danger of cold, damp, rainy days, which endanger the durability of the paint.
4. Wet weather decays and destroys unprotected surfaces. Lack of paint means unsightly and less valuable property.
5. Fall painting keeps out winter moisture. The greatest enemy to the life and beauty of all structures.
