Yes, brother Rondon you new motto is a most excellent one and if you follow its lines you sure will succeed. Here's wishing you and yours a happy and prosperous year, but in case you don't succeed it might be well to have some cooling lotion handy. The entertainment given by the school children at the Macabee hall on the evening of Dec. 22 was a credit to the pupils and their instructor Miss Minnie Esman. SMILE

SURE THING. "John," said Mrs. Dorikins. "Well," "When reading your paper just a moment." "All right; what is it, Maria?" "Before you come home this afternoon I want you to go to some store and get me a dozen thumb tacks. Think you can remember that?" "Certainly," said Mrs. Dorikins. "If there's more than one size—listen now—I want the larger ones you won't forget?" "No." Late that afternoon Mr. Dorikins remembered. He rushed over to the nearest department store. "I wish you'd tell me," he said to the floor-walker, "where you keep your—thumb tacks?" "Chamber of Horrors, top floor, northwest corner," said the floorwalker, pushing him in the direction of the elevator. Mrs. Browning's Sonnet. They say Mrs. Browning showed her husband a good many different sonnets she had written in celebration of her love. "Sonnets from the Portuguese," he called them, incorporating in the title a love name he had for her—for he termed her the Portuguese because of her dark skin and eyes. Faulty, it may be confessed, these sonnets are—hardly finished here and there, one might be tempted to say. But they are as spontaneous as the song of morning birds, as essentially true as the word we speak at unexpected meetings.—Ella W. Peattie, in Harper's Bazar.

A FATAL CASE. Mr. Gosnell—is it true that your late husband was very absent-minded? Mrs. Weeden—Yes; it caused his death. He went to sleep and forgot to wake up! The Dubious Sort. To fade and fade There's just no end. But the man with scads Next lacks a friend. The Eyes and the Nose. It was Pat's first attendance at a meeting. When the chairman announced as the result of a vote that there were 42 noses to 21 eyes. Pat began to fidget in his seat and then got up and started for the platform. "Sit down, there!" yelled the chairman. "No, begorra!" said Pat, "not until I look this audience in the face. I want to see them humans what has more noses than eyes."—Judge's Library.

Pertinent Question. Origin of the Bath Towel. A towel manufacturer found that his machinery was not working right and that his towels were suffering a vast tangling of the threads. While adjusting the machine he used one of the damaged towels to dry his hands. He found it pleasantly absorbent, and from the idea to which that gave rise was born the bath towel and a fortune to the patentee.

Put Out of the Pale. The latest circulation scheme of a Berlin newspaper is the engagement of two physicians to attend gratuitously upon their yearly subscribers. An annual subscription carries with it the free services of one of these two skilful doctors. A few months ago the paper telephoned to one of the staff physicians: "Don't attend Herr Mueller any more. His subscription has expired."

And He Beat It. "I will give you your dinner if you'll beat those rugs," said the woman with the gingham apron, at the back door. "Ah, ma'am!" replied the wanderer, his hat in his hand, "those rugs are really and truly beautiful—exquisite! I don't think they possibly could be beat!"

Evened Matters Up. "The Fortune Teller—She's got nothing on me at that. The fortune I told her was bad, too."

Life Would Be Glorious. A man would have no time to eat, if such things were to be a thing. Much less to be a singer. He should prove to be a singer.

Wanted Protection. "In granting your wife her petition for a divorce," said the judge sternly, "I am also going to prohibit you from marrying again within two years." "Make it fifteen years, Judge, please," said the man quickly. "May be by that time I'll get out of the habit of taking chances."

Trials of the Motorist. Jones—Have you noticed how your health has improved since you have an automobile? Brown—Oh, yes, I have a sea-sickness now. If I only could afford to eat salt.

"Dr. Miles' Nervine Raised Me From the Grave"—Mrs. Taylor

This is a strong statement to make, but it is exactly what Mrs. Thomas Taylor, of Blum, Texas, said in expressing her opinion of this remedy. "Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine raised me from the grave and I have much confidence in it. I can never say enough for your grand medicine. If anyone had offered me $1000 for the second bottle of Nervine that I used I would have said 'No, indeed!'" MRS. THOMAS TAYLOR, Blum, Tex. Nervous exhaustion is a common occurrence of modern life. The wear and tear on the nervous system is greater now than at any time since the world began. For sleeplessness, poor appetite and that "run down" feeling, nothing is so good as Dr. Miles' Nervine. Your nerves are your life and lack of vital energy makes existence a misery. Dr. Miles' Nervine will tone up your nervous system. Ask any druggist. If the first bottle fails to benefit, your money is returned. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

Appeal for Native Talent. A New York hotel man, who has just returned home after scouring Europe for cooks, complains that they are scarce everywhere abroad. The condition is one for which hotel men themselves are largely to blame. Why don't they encourage native talent in the cooking line instead of filling their kitchens with foreigners?—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.
