

Royal Oak Latest From Our Sister Village

Mrs. W. M. Hall of Troy spent Sunday with relatives in town.

F. S. Robbins has moved into part of J. F. Graves house 9th street.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nichols entertained relatives from Oxford over Sunday.

Faank E. Briggs has moved from the village on to his farm near Red Run.

John Yipe proprietor of the Transfer Hotel is seriously ill with pneumonia.

Mrs. David Fitzgerald of Highland Park visited friends in this village last week.

The case of Miner & Ferguson against A. C. Spalding was settled out of court Friday.

Mrs. Marjorie Earley returned Saturday from Chicago where she spent the past three months.

Rev. and Mrs. Oscar T. Olsen, attended the State Sunday school association meeting in Lansing last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Goodfellow were called to Clarkston Friday on account of the serious illness of Mrs. Goodfellow's father J. B. Koe.

The remains William Roley who died suddenly in Pontiac were brought here Sunday afternoon and deposited in the family lot in Royal Oak Cemetery.

An error crept into our columns last week due to a post election celebration of our cub reporter. The statement was made that Dr. Gass was bringing suit against A. S. Spalding. Spalding is not the man in question at all. Dr. Gass is bringing suit against A. L. Lowry of Big Beaver, and attorney Geo. A. Dondoro will appear for the doctor.

An intoxicated man caused some wild excitement in the Methodist church Sunday evening. He succeeded in scaring several young ladies out of the hymn and was finally put out by three ushers. Just before leaving Mr. "Drunk" removed his coat, rolled up his sleeves and demanded some change. He was taken to the home of Rev. Oscar Olson.

Charges of cruelty are preferred in a bill for divorce which has been filed in the circuit court by Mrs. Augusta Minnie Bergmann of Royal Oak against Frank Bergmann. The bill states that they have been married but a year having been wedded in Detroit, Nov. 8, 1911, and have been separated only since Oct. 27. There is one child, of which the mother asks the custody. George A. Dondoro is the attorney for the complainant.

Mrs. Nettie Scheidt of Royal Oak township was awarded a judgment of $750 in her damage suit against the D. U. R. which was concluded last week in the circuit court. The jury brought in a verdict for that amount at 5:30 o'clock after it had been out about two hours. The afternoon of June 21 last, Mrs. Scheidt was returning from Detroit and boarded a Log Cabin car. In getting off she claims the car was started too soon and she fell to the ground. The motorman and conductor of the car declared on the stand that the woman had ample time to leave the car and they could not explain how she fell. Neighbors of the woman testifying for the defence declared they had seen her out in a field cutting corn since the accident and appeared to use both her hands as well as she did before the accident. A. L. Moore appeared for the plaintiff and James Lynch for the defence. In the case, Mr. Lynch took exception to Mr. Moore's statement that the jurors "knew what would happen to the employees of the D. U. R. if they admitted they were negligent." The court and stenographer were both out of the room when the statement was made and Mr. Lynch halted the proceedings until they could be summoned and the point explained. The court allowed Mr. Lynch's exception.

Howard E. Burgess and Lillian Crittenden were married at the home of Henry Wheeler, Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Welch leave for Texas Saturday to be gone during the winter months. They expect to return in April.

Palace Market, always your service. Leave your orders early for Thanksgiving Poultry. Also try our delicious home made sausage. A. W. Ford, Phone 130.

Several of our citizens attended the foot-ball game at Ann Arbor Saturday to watch Michigan receive one more trouncing at the hands of Cornell. Later we changed our minds and celebrated with Michigan, 20 to 7.

There will be a charity concert at the Methodist Episcopal Church Tuesday evening. The program will be given by local talent assisted by a soloist and reader from Detroit. Admission only to those who bring some article of food. These articles will be used by the Epworth League in making Thanksgiving baskets for the poor.

Wm. H. Penny has a timely message for anyone interested in real estate and who is not? Read his advertisement.

Miss Maude I. Ewing of the Edison Illuminating Co. of Detroit was the guest of Dr. Carrie E. Mitchell at dinner Thursday evening.

The Ladies Aid society of the Baptist Church held their annual bazaar and supper last Thursday. A fine supper was served of which a large number attended, and the many pretty and useful articles sold rapidly. It was a success both socially and financially.

Highland Park cancelled its game with Royal Oak high school for Friday, Nov. 22. Their team has disbanded for the season, after their defeat by Western High school. Royal Oak high school will try to have a game at home nevertheless. They may play Pontiac. Watch for the game and come out and cheer for our team.

We are pleased to see our friends of the Congregational church making another effort to further the completion of their beautiful church, and we think all our people, irrespective of their religious creed, should support and encourage them with the necessary means for its full accomplishment, for it will certainly be a great credit to this community.

The boys of the high school foot-ball team celebrated a victory which had all the appearances of a defeat. It was a defeat of the team by a score at the hands, and feet of the Plymouth team, but it was the Royal Oak boys had been beaten 27 to 0 at the last game this was indeed a victory. So the boys journeyed about the town Friday making the welkin ring with their high school yells and they also enjoyed a quiet bon-fire. Such spirit is the height of joyous youth and we like to hear it.

Even with the progress of automobile industry nothing has taken such strides as have moving pictures. Munsey's for Nov. contains an interesting article on "The Magnates of The Motion Pictures". Our Idle Hour Theatre keeps up with the latest advances and on Tuesday Nov. 26, rights on our small city comes "Sarah Bernhardt" and her All-Star Company. Who would expect to see the greatest actress of the world in our midst? And yet you may for 15 cents, and children may witness the great production for 10 cents. Be sure and visit the Idle Hour Theatre Nov. 25.

Friday evening in the high school building was held the first meeting of the girls' division of the Literary society. During this year the boys and girls of the high school will hold separate literary evenings. The section containing the girls, will be in charge of the Misses Edith Crane and Josephine Sherzer, instructors in the high school. All high school girls are urged and expected to attend. This year the work of the society will consist in literary work but gymnastic work will also be taken up. On Friday evening Miss Josephine Sherzer addressed the members of the society, dwelling on the value of organization and the aims of the club. The election of officers for the coming year took place with the following result: president, Thelma Parr, and secretary and treasurer, Vera Marshall.

HAD MATTERS OF IMPORTANCE

Miss Fannie's Visit to the City Full of Business of One Sort or Another.

"I suppose, Miss Fannie," said Mrs. Harris to her newly arrived guest from the country, "that you have a good many errands to do here in the city? Some shopping, perhaps?"

"Well, I'd like to look round the stores some, and see if things are much handsomer than the things we have at the Waybridge stores, but I don't know as I'll do much buying. I've always traded in Waybridge, and I guess I always will. But I've got some errands that I'm quite set on doing. For one thing, I want to visit the art institute, and look at the Venus with the broken arm and the Victory without a head that the lady who stayed at my house last summer talked about when she gave what she called an art evening in the town hall. "It didn't seem to me that those mutilated images would be worth looking at, but she said they were wonderful, so I just want to see for myself. And then I'm planning to go to the public library and get out the magazine with the end of a story I never finished. Some magazine that was sitting with me a good many summers ago left quite a lot of that story in some magazine, and I've always been wishing to find out what became of the poor misguided girl in it."

"And is that the extent of your business in town?" smilingly inquired Mrs. Harris.

"There's one more thing I'd like to do, and that is to go to the place where father bought my sewing-machine. He gave it to me the day I was eighteen. I want to tell the head man there that I never was able to use the tucker attachment. It used to just about get in the way of me. Of course I wouldn't use it now, even if it did work, for I haven't done any fancy sewing for more than fifteen years, but I think the manager of that machine company ought to know that that tucker was dreadfully unsatisfactory."—Youth's Companion.
