There are two horseback or carriage excursions to be made from Jerusalem, the one to Bethlebem, the other embracing the Jordan, Jericho and the Dead Sea. The first of these, which takes only relied as associated with the story of Ruth. The Church of the Nativity, which has a very humble exterior and is entered by a low doorway that must often have saved it from the attack of rantical Mohammedans, is built over the grotto in which Jesus was born, and at Eastertide it is as coveded as that of the Sequichre, with the same currious and somewhat distressing conflicts because of the same of the second of the same currious and somewhat distressing conflicts becaused, only help in order by stolid Turkink guards. The excursion to the Dead Sea occupies three days out and back and may be done on horseback or, more expensively and less comfortably, in a cab.
