SEMINARY OPENS

In Bloomfield Hills Sept. 17, 1912. With Miss Mary Eade as Principal of the Seminary.

The Bloomfield Hills Seminary will be opened Sept. 17, 1912. Its objects are to give the young people of Bloomfield Hills and those from nearby towns...

It aims to have the interest and patronage of the many, not the few. The day school will be held this year in the director's room at the Walker Gordon building...

The Home department will occupy, for the present, the Stinchfield cottage at Bloomfield Hills. The pupils will be accepted for the whole or part of the school year...

The three departments, the Elementary, Intermediate and Grammar, will be on a public school foundation...

The Elementary department will be under the management of Miss Winifred Eastman, whose 10 years very successful experience in Detroit schools shows her to be thoroughly trained for that work.

As much of the Montessori method, as may be thought practical for American children, will be used. Children of four years will be admitted to this department.

Miss Seward, of New York City, will have charge of the Intermediate department, and also of the French classes during this year.

The principal, Miss Mary Eade, will have the classes in grammar and high school work. Special attention will be given to English, mathematics, literature, history and history of the world.

The regular session of the school will be from 8:30 a. m. to 12:45 p. m. A teacher will take charge of the little children at the Birmingham D. U. R. station...

An afternoon study hour from 2 to 3 will be held at the day school, where a teacher will be ready to assist those children whose parents wish them to have special help in study.

Rates of tuition and further information may be secured upon application to Miss Mary Eade, Principal, Bloomfield Hills Seminary, Birmingham, Mich.

The Choice of a Husband is too important a matter for a woman to be handicapped by weakness, bad blood or foul-breath...

NEW SUBDIVISION

Called the High School Addition is a Splendid Location for your Home. Study the Plat Carefully.

This week we are presenting to you a graphic story of the most valuable tract the citizens of Royal Oak have had so far.

The high school addition is a tract of land now opened for sale well worth your attention. You should own a lot and be wholly independent.

Situated only two blocks north of the postoffice on Main street, this new subdivision has an ideal location for several reasons. It is near the village and situated as it is on the Flint line...

One block north of First street on Main street is the exact location. The subdivision consists of 17 1/2-100 acreage of the finest soil.

All the lots are large, being 60x170 feet to three-quarters of an acre. The rear lots contain 2 acres. The sale price of this beautiful tract varies from $175 to $750.

7 DAYS--DARRICK!

Miss Bonstelle and the Management of The Garrick Recognize Cadillac Week.

For Cadillac week Miss Bonstelle has decided that the carnival spirit should be carried over into the theater, hence she has decided upon "Seven Days," as the bill for the Garrick next week, starting Monday evening.

Even the outline of the plot is funny. "An illy assorted, house party is, without a word of warning, placed under quarantine because, forsooth, one of the house servants has been seized with a contagious disease, and the entire party is, in consequence, placed under police surveillance, and the woe of the long suffering patron, to whom is delegated the duty of keeping that party indoors, are not to be ignored.
