THIRTY-FOOT WALL OF WATER SWEEPS DOWN CREEK INTO CITY; LOSS, $1,500,000.
MANY DIE AND HUNDREDS ARE HOMELESS.

A Telephonic Warning. From Some Unknown Source Gives Hundreds an Opportunity to Escape.
Several hundred men, women and children of Denver, Col., are homeless because of a cloudburst which resulted in the overflow of the shallow bed of Cherry creek, through the city.

The big city auditorium is a refuge camp. At dawn five hundred of the homeless were gathered there and are being fed by the city. Twenty-five children from six months to six years old, whose parents may have been lost, are being cared for by the city.

A relief subscription this morning has been organized without parallel in the history of the city. Reports along the course of Cherry creek indicate an augmentation of the loss of property in the outlying districts.

Had it not been for a warning sounded over the telephone from an unknown source to the city hall just before the cloudburst broke, more people would have been caught in the flood while sleeping in the general belief.

CHARGES THAT ILLINOIS SENATOR SECURED ELECTION BY BRIBERY IS UNDELETED.
BOTH OF MICHIGAN'S SENATORS VOTE TO EXPEL.
Stripped of His Toga Lorimer Walks Out of Senate Chamber. Alone After Fatal Vote.

By a vote of 55 to 28 the United States senate, the unexcused William Lorimer, the junior senator from Illinois, and declared his title to his seat in the senate void.

The end of the long fight to oust the senator came after six days of protracted debate in which Senator Lorimer himself had occupied the floor for three sessions, making an impassioned defense of his election. The final vote came upon the resolution offered by Luke Lea, senator from Tennessee, declaring the Lorimer election by the Illinois legislature in 1909 invalid.

The adoption of the Lea resolution carried out the senate's verdict that corrupt methods and practices were employed in the election of William Lorimer, the junior senator from Illinois, and declared his title to his seat in the senate void.

The closing moments of the trial were intensely dramatic. Senator Lorimer, holding the floor, making a last defense of his seat, declared he did not appeal for the vote of any senator, but asked for justice.

Senator Lorimer, when the vote was announced, walked toward the back of the room and passed into a cloak room. Senator Smoot, of Utah, throwing an arm over the shoulders of the senator, said: "The man who had occupied a seat in the senate since March 1909, when he was elected by the Illinois legislature, was now no longer a senator."

Resolved, That corrupt methods and practices were employed in the election of William Lorimer to the senate of the United States from the state of Illinois, and that his election was therefore invalid.

In his closing sentences, Lorimer expressed gratitude for tributes which senators had paid to his private life. The end of the Lorimer case is the conclusion of the case against the senator of the United States from the state of Illinois, and his election was therefore invalid.

SOLACE IN HIS MISFORTUNE.
Entombed Minor Had at Least One Pleasant Thought After Two Days of Suffering.

Miners are among the most heroic people in the world. Danger is always before them, and they are schooled to believe that any time they will give face to face with death.

In one of the mines of Pennsylvania there was a cave-in which imprisoned a miner named Jack Thompson. The accident happened Friday afternoon, and the fellow labored through the entombed man set to work at once to dig him out. It was not until Sunday morning, however, that they reached his prison chamber, and by this time they were wondering whether he had been suffocated or starved to death.

One of them stuck his head through the aperture made by the picks of the rescuers and called out: "All right," called the reply, and then after a pause: "What day is it?"

"Sunday!" exclaimed the friend. "Go!" exclaimed Jack, "I'm glad of that. That was one Saturday night when the minekeepers sent me to my wages."—Popular Magazine.
