Four residents of New South Wales, Itving in humble circumstances, have recently been informed that they have become joint inheritors of about 230. The death of the death odd of a man named Alan Cunningham was found in the poorer portion of San Francisco, Cal. Although it had been believed that Cuningham was a pauper, and obliged to lead a very mean existence, a search by the police showed that the possessed large sums of money in banks, very valuable properties. Incury for next of kin resulted in an Australian clue being obtained. This was followed up successfully by a detective, who has found at Raymond terrace two brothers, Patrick and Michael Cuningham, and two sisters, Mrs. Wills, and Mrs. Katherine Kane, of Sidney.

Not a rose without a thorn, out effort - not a success without sacrifice! That is the philosophy Stanton sings and it is set to the music of human experience. You are pretty certain to prick both your fingers and your pride in gathering the roses of success, but "ain't the roses sweet?" The dollars are the roses of toil-of purpose and effort, and their perfume is the sat'sfaction in having met an obligation-the obligation of making provision for the "rainy day," for age and dependents. We want to repeat with emphasis that
