Matter of Justice. Where shall justice begin, with those who have power or with those who suffer wrong? If exacting justice were done, the weak would make an effort to give to the strong all that is their due, and the strong would try to put their affairs in order so that no just cause of complaint should exist anywhere.

Accorded Full Title. One of the New York representatives in congress tells of a social function in an assembly district political club on the Grand Canal, where the chairman of the entertainment committee acted as master of ceremonies.

The chairman was very busy introducing the newly-arrived members of the club to the guests, who included a number of municipalities. The representative mentioned was presented in a way to halve his official honors with his wife, as "The Honorable and Mrs. Congressman Blank."

Next came a couple who were not known to the master of ceremonies, but, after receiving the correct name in a whisper, he announced: "Mr. and Mrs. Inspector of Hygiene, Faucets and Showworks Casey."—Lippincott.

WELL PEOPLE TOO

Wise Doctor Gives Pustum to Convallescents.

A wise doctor tries to give nature its best chance by saving the little strength of the already exhausted patient, and building up wasted energy with simple but powerful nourishment.

"Five years ago," writes a doctor "I commenced to use Postum in my own family instead of coffee. It is a well-known fact that tea is just as injurious as coffee because it contains caffeine, the same drug found in cocaine."

"I then commenced to recommend it to my patients in place of coffee, as a nutritious beverage. The consequence is, every store in town is now selling it, as it has become a household necessity in many homes."

"I'm sure I prescribe Postum as often as any one remedy in the Materia Medica—in almost every case of indigestion and nervousness I treat, and with the best results."

"When I once introduce it into a family, it is quite sure to remain, and I shall continue to use it and prescribe it in families where I practice."

THE ROSENTHAL CASE

Reduced Police Inspector of N. Y. Expected to Reveal Draft.

Developments of a sensational kind in the Rosenthal case in New York are looked for as a result of Commissioner Waide's reduction in rank of Inspector Cornelius G. Hayes, of the new tenderloin district, one of the best known police officials in the city.

It was reported that the deposed inspector had made several efforts to get in touch with District Attorney Whitman since his suspension. This has given rise to rumors that Hayes is anxious to give information to the district attorney.

There are many who believe that Hayes' position in the department has placed him in the best position of all the men in the police system to reveal certain transactions between the force and powerful Tammany politicians.

It is proposed to establish at the Michigan State Fair Sept. 15 to 21, 1911, a children's play ground where the youngsters may find amusement while their parents travel around the grounds. These grounds will be established this year and will be open to the public. The amusement of the little ones may be obtained in a more satisfactory way than the case this year provisions for such a play ground will be provided.

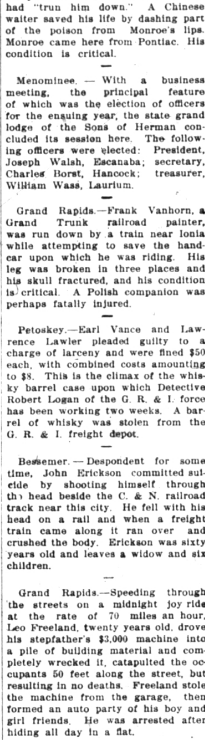

As was the custom last year, visitors at the Michigan State Fair Sept. 15 to 21, 1911, will not be forced to stand in line to be admitted to the grounds. They will be saved by carrying plenty of change in your pocket. Cash turnstiles will be placed at the entrance to the admission gate, but at the grandstand and other points on the grounds, where admission is not required, it will be possible to get through any gate without dropping the proper coin. Outside the grounds, where the admission money may be changed, but the man who provides himself with small change before going to the Fair grounds will have time and trouble.
