MEN FOLKS WILL FISH.

By a Whitehead.

He came to my office one bright sunny morn. Tearing around like a mad unicorn. His actions resembled a big bumble bee. But he finally managed to warble to me, "Let us go fishin' this lovely day."

Out where the balmy breezes blow. And the whispering waverlets come and go. The bass and the pike we'll take hand over hand, They say that they're biting to beat the band.

Last Tuesday Jack got twenty-eight. And he ain't have the right kind of bait. Told me the biggest one got away, But that's what these fish-liars always say.

"But doctor," said I, "just listen to me. I'm the busiest man you ever did see. See all these letters spread out on the table? Go to be answered as soon as I'm able! And then, don't you think it's getting too late?"

No time to go out and get any bait. No time to just get out of this, quick as you can. And don't be tormentin' 'abusey man."

"Aw, come on," said the doctor, "an' quit your naggin' Nice pal' of 'chubs out here in my waggin' Close your mouth and your desk, for in heaven's sake, for an hour we'll be at the lake. Get your old coat and your 'Dowagie' spinners."

And rattle up grub for both of our dinners. There never could be any nicer day. Sneak out the back door an' on our way out to the lake. We'll be all settled down.

Before we start they know that we're out dose. Wife thinks I've a patient at Highland Park. Told her I'd be back long before dark. Sufferin' 'dammit, but you're slow! A body would think you don't want to go."

"Was the kind of a day that keeps you a wishin' You could spend all the rest of your days a fishin' Bass, pike and perch, bull-head and blue-gill. All of 'em helped our stringers to fill, And when the sun settled down in the west, Westside for home, and pulled down our vest, For we just had to put up an awful bluff."

Garrick Theatre.

"Bought and Paid For," the greatest success from the pen of George Broadhurst which William A. Brady will present for the first time in Detroit at the Garrick Theatre, for the week beginning Monday evening, October 6, is a four act drama full of human interest, of love telling story of everyday people so naturally, yet so forcefully, that it gets a grip at one's heart strings that cannot be effaced.

The story revolves about Robert Stafford, a self-made, self cultured, self-contained millionaire; Virginia Blaine, a poor telephone operator at a hotel exchange; Fanny Blyler, her sister, and James Gilley, her sister's intended husband.

Are cleared every year by the poultry raisers of the United States. A large factor in the production of this huge profit is Herriec's Condition Powder. It keeps laying hens in good condition, makes young chicks grow rapidly, wards off disease and keeps the comb bright and red.

He "Ate Up" Everything in Eight. The old man gasped and caught hold of the desk. "What?" he exclaimed. "A hundred and forty-nine, fifty. I've got half a dollar. Slowly the old man shoved the roll back into the safe.

There are more countries in which the execution of women as witches is only a thing of yesterday. The last execution of witch burning occurred as recently as 1888 in Peru, and in other parts of North America cases continued to occur until well into the second half of the nineteenth century.

Stolen Hair—Means Death. In many parts of the modern world the believer in witchcraft still gets hold of hair, nail parings and so forth from an enemy's head and hands.

The Family Cough Medicine. In every home there should be a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, ready for immediate use in case of any member of the family contracts a cold or cough.
