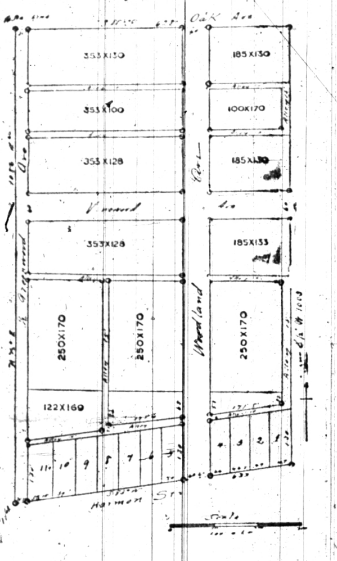

FIG. 1 shows one good attachment for the bridle or cross, the kite is flown on the other side up with the bridle underneath. A good way of attaching the bridle is to slip the loop end through a fancy wood ring, loop it over itself, and then tie the loose ends to sticks A of the framework. The vertical distance between the ring and the kite should be about 1 foot. Three and four point attachments for the kite bridle are used, but the two-point method is generally considered the most satisfactory and most commonly employed.

EXPLORED LAND OF MYSTERY

Adventurous Young American Has Traveled Through the Interior of Guatemala.

The recent experience of a young American in the great unknown district of Peten, in Guatemala, has furnished for science one of the most valuable records in years regarding the life of what is perhaps the most ancient race of human beings in existence. In a trip just completed, in which he spent more than two years in the jungles of a territory whose mystery has for years repelled as well as attracted the adventurous, Russell Hastings Millard, an earnest young explorer, has not only captured the world's mileage record by traveling across more than three thousand miles of unknown country, but has opened up a new world for the merchant and archaeologist. A land whose wealth has hitherto not been guessed at, remarks the New York Tribune.

The popular impression that there is no more work for the twentieth century explorer could not better illustrate the situation than in the exploit of this young man. The district of Peten, lying to the westward of British Honduras and north of Guatemala, is a vast and the Hay of Campeche has been known since immemorial to all Central Americans as "The Mystery." There Millard has located lakes and mountains whose existence has hitherto been a matter of rumor only. For the first time a white man has penetrated these fastnesses and seen the ruins of temples and palaces which now overgrown and buried under the foliage of the jungle, were once the centers of magnificent cities. He has not only outlined the extent of the once flourishing empire of the Maya race, but of importance to the world of commerce he has practically opened up a new field whose riches will in a few years be one of the chief assets of the Guatemalan government.

Subdivision!

Is right in the popular and fashionable district, only a block from Woodward Avenue, with 15-minute electric car service, 10-cent fare, and half an hour ride to city limits.

Water, Cement Walks, Electric Light, Good Drainage, 600 feet above the Detroit River, and altogether ideal sanitary conditions.

Consider the rapid rise in Birmingham real-estate values for the past three years; no feverish boom, but a steady, reliable increase in values, due to the building of beautiful homes for the better class of home folks. Let us tell you about our easy terms and small payments—then make an investment. You cannot lose.

Short distance from the select private school—Bloomfield Hills Seminary—becoming popular among particular people.

Twelve large building sites, varying in size from 100x169 feet to 250x318 feet; soil a gravelly loam, fine for gardening, just what will appeal to you. Larger than a Village Lot, but small enough to dispense with the services of a care-taker.

Only 12 miles from the Detroit City Limits.

Restricted to Residences. Numerous Beautiful Homes have been built in the immediate vicinity during the past year.
