Exonerating the Kingbird.

The department of agriculture has granted a certificate of good character to the kingbird, sometimes known in the rural districts as the bee martin, a species of fly catcher which inhabits nearly every part of the United States. The kingbird has been under indictment in many sections as a destroyer of bees and a foe of apiarists.

Experts now declare that it kills only the drones and the useless bees, and is, therefore, a boon to the bee raiser. Besides that, it preys on many harmful insects and protects farmers' chicken yards from depredations of crows and chicken hawks, which it savagely attacks.

GOOD ROADS FOLLOW FLOOD

Ohio Catastrophe Promises to Result in Much Better Highways in That Section.

The truth of the old saying, "It's an ill wind that blows no one good," is no less well demonstrated, following the great flood that swept over Ohio and Indiana than it has been after every disaster the world has seen. In the present case those who advocate the transportation of merchandise by motor trucks instead of by horse and wagon, or rail methods, are the ones who see a great good come out of the flood, though they were no less sympathetic with its victims or prompt in coming to their relief than any others in the United States.

It is the reconstruction of roads and bridges destroyed by the great sweep of waters that the motor truck advocates are to benefit, according to Vice-President G. W. Bennett of the Garford company of Elyria, O. With the work of rebuilding washed-out roads and bridges completed, Ohio and Indiana will have some of the best truck highways in the country, says Mr. Bennett, basing his statement on information lately received from Garford truck dealers in all parts of the flooded district.

MEMORY IMPROVED.

Since Leaving Off Coffee.

Many persons suffer from poor memory who never suspect coffee has anything to do with it.

The drug—caffeine—in coffee, acts injuriously on the nerves and heart, causing imperfect circulation, too much blood in the brain at one time, too little in another part. This often causes a dullness which makes a good memory nearly impossible.

"I am nearly seventy years old and did not know that coffee was the cause of the stomach and heart trouble I suffered from for many years, until about four years ago," writes a Kansas woman.

"A kind neighbor induced me to quit coffee and try Postum. I had been suffering severely and was greatly reduced in flesh. After using Postum a little while I found myself improving. My heart beats became regular and now I seldom ever notice any symptoms of my old stomach trouble at all. My nerves are steady and my memory decidedly better than while I was using coffee.

"I like the taste of Postum fully as well as coffee."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Write for booklet, "The Road to Wellville."

Postum comes in two forms, Regular (must be boiled).

Instant Postum doesn't require boiling but is prepared instantly by stirring a level teaspoonful in an ordinary cup of hot water, which makes it right for most persons.

A big cup requires more and some people who like strong things put in a heaping spoonful and temper it with a large supply of cream.

Experiment until you know the amount that pleases your palate and have it served that way in the future.

"There's a Reason" for Postum.

LETTER FROM THE STATE CAPITOL

CAMPAIGN EXPENSES LIMIT BY NEW LAW GOOD FOR THE POOR MAN.

IT IS THOUGHT BY SOME THAT AMOUNTS ARE TOO LOW.

State Bacteriologist Condemns the Friedmann Cure for Tuberculosis and Will Recommend That It Be Prohibited By Law.

[By Gerd M. Hayes.]

During the years that the primary system of nominating candidates for governor and United States senator has been in operation in Michigan, the charge has frequently been made that the expenses of the primary and the election campaigns prevented a poor man from aspiring to either of these offices, but now it is pointed out that the passage of the Copley corrupt practices act during the last session of the legislature has placed the governorship within the reach of any aspirant who can win a majority of the votes for $2,500. Figuring on an actual cash basis that is the value placed on the governorship by the legislature.

A candidate for the office of governor is permitted under the new law to spend one-half of one year's salary paid to the chief executive, and inasmuch as the annual stipend of the governor is $5,000 the legislature figured that $2,500 would be sufficient to conduct the expenses of a campaign. If a candidate spends more than the law allows and is caught at it, he will be subject to a fine of $1,000 and two years imprisonment. It is claimed that the penalty for violation of the act will be sufficient to keep the candidates within the specified amount and it is predicted that dollars will cease to be such a factor in deciding gubernatorial campaigns.

State house statisticians who keep in close touch with political matters claim that the legislature erred in limiting a candidate for the governorship to $2,500. They point out that it is necessary for a man to cover practically every county in the state if he hopes to make any kind of a showing, and railroad expenses and automobile trips for a thorough campaign would cost close to $5,000 according to those who have figured the proposition out. Postage is a big item of expense in every campaign that extends over every section of the state as it is impossible to see every voter personally and tons of literature are sent through the mails.

All candidates with the exception of governor and lieutenant governor are limited to 25 per cent of one year's salary of the office to which he aspires. Owing to the fact that the salary of the lieutenant governor is $800 for the term or $400 per year, a candidate for the office of lieutenant governor will be required to campaign the state on $200.

In many other respects the Copley bill is one of the most drastic acts passed during the last session of the legislature. Within ten days after the primary election the candidates are required to file sworn statements with the county clerk in the county where they reside setting forth each dollar received and expended for campaign purposes. The candidate must give the name of the person who donated to the campaign and the name of each person receiving a single penny of campaign money. The accounts must be itemized and the date and place of expenditure given. It is claimed that each candidate will be put to the expense of hiring a bookkeeper in order to comply with this section of the new statute. Candidates are prohibited from receiving certificates of nomination or election until they have complied with this provision. If they fail to comply the county clerk may authorize the prosecuting attorney to institute proceedings against the offender.

Friends of the candidates are prohibited from spending money to elect their favorites as all contributions must be turned over to the candidate or a committee. Anonymous contributions are prohibited as the books of the candidate must show the name of every contributor. Stockholders, directors, attorneys or agents, acting for a corporation, are prohibited from contributing to the expenses of a candidate's campaign. Employers are also prohibited from using campaign advertising or from pay envelopes issued to their employes. This act applies to all state, county, city, municipal, township and district elections. State house politicians are awaiting with considerable interest the first election held under the provisions of the new corrupt practices act.

State Bacteriologist M. L. Holm until recently had carefully refrained from passing judgment on Dr. Friedmann's alleged cure for tuberculosis, but he now shares the opinion of many other prominent physicians that the German scientist is the rawest kind of a faker and proposes a bill to be introduced at the next session of the legislature that will prevent Dr. Friedmann and others with alleged consumption cures from preying upon the men and women of Michigan who are fighting the white plague.

When Friedmann's alleged cure was first called to the attention of the public Dr. Holm was asked whether he considered that the German physician a medical faker. At that time Dr. Holm carefully avoided making any comment, claiming that it was always possible that some one would discover a cure. However, the tactics employed by Dr. Friedmann when he arrived in America did not have the effect of stimulating the confidence of the state bacteriologist, but still he was charitable and did not make a snap judgment.

However, when Friedmann refused to make known his alleged cure or demonstrate it to the satisfaction of the United States authorities, Dr. Holm immediately arrived at the conclusion that Friedmann was simply another good advertiser who was making easy money from a gullible public.

If a special session of the legislature is called next winter Dr. Holm will urge Governor Ferris to recommend the passage of a bill patterned after the federal law for the registration of serums, and if there is no special session the proposition will come up for consideration at the next regular meeting of the lawmakers.

Dr. Robert L. Dixon, secretary of the state board of health has shared the opinion of Dr. Vaughn of the University of Michigan who branded Dr. Friedmann as a faker from the very start. It is expected that Dr. Holm and Dr. Dixon will be prominently allied with legislation along this line when the solons assemble in Lansing for their next session, whether it be a special car or a regular.

Lansing, Port Huron, Saginaw, and many other cities of the state are vitally interested in the decision of the supreme court whereby the city of Grand Rapids is enjoined from dumping sewage into Grand river. A small town below Grand Rapids was beaten in the superior court of Kent county in its efforts to secure a permanent injunction restraining the city from polluting Grand river, but the supreme court decided in favor of the villagers and in a permanent injunction restrains the city of Grand Rapids from dumping sewage into the river unless it is first put through a septic tank and offensive odors removed.

This is one of the most sweeping and far reaching opinions rendered by the supreme court of this state in several years.

It is apparent that the court would take the same view of the situation, if the conditions were the same. For instance, if some of the township boards north of the city could come into court and prove that sewage dumped into Grand river by the city of Lansing is polluting the stream and producing insanitary conditions, that municipality would probably be put to the same expense as now confronts the city of Grand Rapids.

Under the provisions of the Monteith bill, passed at the last session of the legislature, the state board of health is given supervision over all water supplies and sewage disposal systems. When this bill takes effect and the sanitary engineer, to be employed under the provisions of the new bill, gets in his work, some radical changes are expected.

The Monteith bill requires that the mayors of cities and presidents of villages shall file with the state board of health before January 1, 1914, a description of the water works and sewage disposal systems. The state board of health is required to inspect the plans with reference to their effect on the public health and if the board finds they are dangerous the board may require such changes as are considered beneficial.

Oscar Auerback, the former Princeton student, who was convicted last fall and sentenced to life imprisonment at Jackson for the alleged murder of Harry W. Fisher near Baldwin, September 19, 1912, has been granted a new trial by the supreme court and will be taken from Jackson prison and turned over to the custody of the sheriff of Lake county.

This case attracted more than ordinary attention when it was heard last fall. According to the evidence presented at the coroner's inquest and at the time of the trial Auerback and Fisher, who had apparently been strong friends were hunting partridges one morning before breakfast, when Fisher was killed. It was claimed by Auerback that Fisher was killed by an accidental discharge of the gun which he says fell off a stump.

Owing to the fact that Fisher carried life insurance amounting to $200,000 the prosecution attempted to show that friendly relations existed between Auerback and Fisher's wife and that Auerback knew of the insurance policies at the time of Fisher's death. The evidence was purely circumstantial but the jury convicted the young man and the judge imposed life sentence.

When the case was reviewed in the supreme court Auerback was represented by Pierce Butler, a prominent attorney of Minneapolis and James O. Murfin, of Detroit, and they presented a powerful string of arguments showing that much evidence was admitted that should have been excluded and that the trial judge erred in his charge to the jury.

Governor Ferris has paroled John H. Bond, who was sentenced from Detroit, February 15, 1912, to serve from one to 14 years in the Detroit House of Correction. Bond was a city employe and was charged with padding a payroll. The judge recommended that he serve 15 months. Owing to the fact that Bond was convicted under an act applying to public officials the pardon board was unable to parole him and it was necessary for the governor to act in the matter.

W. Leo O'Hearn, who was sentenced from Ottawa county for forgery, November 1, 1912, to serve from 18 months to 14 years at Ionia for forgery, was also paroled. O'Hearn's mother is dying and this prompted Governor Ferris to act in the matter.

Frank Swan, 40, of Traverse City, a fireman on the G. R. & I., is dead, as a result of burns he sustained in a wreck near Summit City. He leaves a family.

METCALF TO BE PANAMA GOVERNOR

EDITOR OF BRYAN'S COMMONER APPOINTED BY THE PRESIDENT.

COL. GOETHALS WAS CHOICE OF EX-PRESIDENT TAFT.

Metcalf Has Been in Newspaper Work All of His Life and Acted for Governorship of Nebraska in Last Campaign.

Richard I. Metcalf, of Lincoln, Neb., editor of W. J. Bryan's weekly journal, The Commoner, was selected by President Wilson to be civil governor of the Panama canal zone.

This was announced by Secretary Garrison after he and Secretaries Bryan and Daniels had conferred with the president.

President Taft had expressed a desire to appoint Col. George Goethals, the builder of the canal, to be the first governor of the zone, but the Democrats in the senate served notice they would not confirm Goethals' appointment.

President Taft then said he would leave the post for the Democrats to fill.

Sec. Daniels and Sec. Garrison joined in urging the appointment. Mr. Metcalf has been in newspaper work all his life and came into national political prominence during the campaign of 1896 as spokesman for Mr. Bryan. Last year he ran in the primaries on the Democratic ticket for governor of Nebraska, but lost.

Metcalf played the part of silent press agent to Wm. J. Bryan when the latter was gaining fame, and with his trenchant pen helped largely to build up the reputation Bryan has enjoyed.

Dominion Will Be Represented.

Canada is likely to shortly send a representative to Washington. It is understood that as a result of the visit to Ottawa of Sir Cecil Spring Rice, British ambassador at Washington, the Dominion government will in the future have an official attache at the British embassy at the United States capital. When in Ottawa and elsewhere in the past international issues have had to be discussed with Washington there has been certain drawbacks on account of Canada not being directly represented at Washington. Officials at the American capital have from time to time had to ask for the preparation of memoranda pertaining to this country's officials here. This has caused delay.

Counterfeit Money in China.

The detection of a gigantic scheme to flood China with counterfeit currency is given as the reason for his visit to the United States by Liao Hsiang-kuei, special representative of the republic and of Chinese bankers.

Until a month ago, Liao said, the Chinese believed their currency system satisfactory. Then a flood of counterfeit notes led to the discovery of a spurious printing establishment in Japan. The American system of issuing currency and bank notes will be made the basis of future Chinese issues.

Holds All Altitude Records.

The world's altitude record for an aeroplane carrying a passenger and pilot was broken by Edmund Perreyon, the French aviator, who rose 16,568 feet or 3 1-10 miles. Perreyon also holds the world's altitude record for an aeroplane carrying only a pilot, having risen 19,550 feet at Buc, March 3, this year.

Inherits A Large Fortune

Mrs. Hanna, wife of a policeman of Portadown, Ireland, received news that she and her sister, who is living in St. Louis, inherit $2,000,000 left by their brother, H. R. Lyle, assistant secretary of the Mississippi Valley Trust company, who died a month ago.

The Michigan State Telephone Co. will spend $23,000 in rebuilding its lines between Kalamazoo and Paw Paw.

According to the report of the Michigan free employment office at Kalamazoo, there were 1,000 applications for work during May.

Kalamazoo has begun construction of a new municipal lighting plant. The plant will be one of the largest of its kind in the state and when finished will be not only large enough to furnish the city with power for all of its street lights, but there will be sufficient electricity left to sell.

Directors of Grand Traverse Region Bar association elected C. B. Dye secretary to succeed the late H. B. Montague, resigned. It was also decided to add a boys' department, where farm products raised by them and articles of handicraft will be exhibited in classes.

The first of the 40 miles of good roads to be constructed in Calhoun county under the county road system has been completed. The road being from Marshall to Duck Lake, Marengo township. Twelve county prisoners who received 25 cents a day completed the job.

The Ministerial association of the preachers of the Port Huron district has concluded a two days' session at St. Clair. The twenty-third annual convention of the Port Huron district, Epworth league, which has also been held there is closed.

Dean M. E. Cooley, of the engineering department of the university, has received an application from a woman for a position as instructor in the department. She states that she is a graduate from the Woman's Polytechnical institute, of St. Petersburg, Russia.

THE LURE OF THE WEST

WESTERN CANADA ATTRACTING THOUSANDS OF SETTLERS.

Writing on the Canadian West, an eastern exchange truthfully says:

"The West still calls with imperative voice. To prairie and mountain, and for the Pacific Coast; Ontario's young men and women are attracted by tens of thousands yearly. The great migration has put an end to the fear, freely expressed not many years ago by those who knew the West from the lakes to the farther coast of Vancouver Island, that Canada would some day break in two because of the predominance of Continental European and American settlers in the West."

This is true. While the immigration from the United States is large, running close to 150,000 a year, that of the British Isles and Continental Europe nearly twice that number, making a total of 400,000 per year, there is a strong influx from Eastern Canada. It is not only into the prairie provinces that these people go, but many of them continue westward, the glory of British Columbia's great trees and great mountains, the excellent agricultural valleys, where can be grown almost all kinds of agriculture and where fruit has already achieved prominence. Then the vast expanse of the plains attract hundreds of thousands, who at once set to work to cultivate their vast holdings. There is still room, and great opportunity in the West. The work of man's hands, even in the cities with their record-breaking building rush, is the smallest part of the great panorama that is spread before the eye on a journey through the country. Nature is still supreme, and man is still the divine pigmy audaciously seeking to impose his will and stamp his mark upon an unconquered half continent.

The feature that most commends itself in Western development today is the home-making spirit. The West will find happiness in planting trees and making gardens and building schools and colleges and universities, and producing a home environment so that there will be no disposition to regard the country as a temporary place of abode in which everyone is trying to make his pile preparatory to going back East or becoming a lotus-eater beside the Pacific.

The lure of the West is strong. It will be still stronger when the crude new towns and villages of the plains are embowered in trees and vocal with the song of birds.—Advertisement.

Parliamentary Suspension.

Sir Henry Lucy drops a hint from the "Cross Benches" in the Observer as to the "suspension" of members of the house and the vagueness of the penalty. Can it be true that members get themselves named and suspended on purpose to achieve a compulsory holiday? Eight pounds a week will make a good weather; he is in the house or at Margate or in the Clock Tower. Budapest has a more drastic way. If the member is suspended he is fined 16 shillings a day. That teaches him to behave. Now that we pay our representatives we might make payment conditional on their representing us in the proper place.—London Chronicle.

Not Worth It.

"Why did you name the baby Nebuchadnezzar?"

"His Uncle Nebuchadnezzar has promised to leave him $5,000."

"The boy may not thank you in after life. I think he'd rather go out and earn $5,000 than to carry around that name."

Wayside Philosophy.

"Easy Street must be a nice street to live on," remarked the first hobo.

"That's nothing to me," declared the second wayfarer. "I never found that the alley back of it provided anything extra in the way of pickings."

Convicts College Students.

More than 50 convicts are enrolled at the State Agricultural college of Manhattan, taking the various courses offered at the college. They are, so far as known, the only convict college students in the United States. Few, if any, of the convicts have ever seen the college building, and it will be some time before any of them can see it, but nevertheless they are enrolled students doing regular work.

All the convict college students are inmates of the United States penitentiary here. They do their class work in their cells, and mail their lesson papers to the college for correction. Some of the convicts are studying agriculture, some civil engineering, others mechanics, and some are studying dairying. Nearly all of the students enrolled in the agricultural or dairy courses are men employed on the prison farm or in the dairy.—Leavenworth Dispatch to New York Times.
