SUDAN GRASS ATTRACTS MUCH ATTENTION

Cultivation of Sudan Grass at Robstown, Tex.

The cultivation of Sudan grass is attracting the attention of the farmers in practically all parts of the country, and particularly in the West and Southwest, where the first extensive experiments with it have been made.

Sudan grass is an importation from Egypt. The United States department of agriculture received a small number of the seeds and some of this was given to the hands of Mr. David H. Clarkson, of Chicago, who owns an extensive farm in southern Texas on which a considerable amount of experimental work is done. Beginning with this small handful of seeds, Mr. Clarkson has raised it as a grazing crop on his farm near Robstown, Tex. for the past three years. In commenting on his results, Mr. Clarkson said:

"I believe this grass is the best forage crop ever introduced into dry and semi-arid sections. I believe that it will grow in highly probable cultivation millions of acres of land in the Southwest where the rainfall is not sufficient to produce an abundance of other feeds for stock. Next year, and continuously thereafter, Sudan grass will grow extensively in the West and in the Union regardless of rainfall. Corn will not stand a severe drought. Sudan grass laughs at droughts and rejoices when it rains. If there is season enough to bring the seed up it will produce from two to four beautiful crops of hay of the highest quality. I believe that this grass, when it has proved to be one of the best known feeds for beef and milk production as well as for work and driving animals."

Sudan grass is now being grown in Indiana, Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska, California and several other states, including some east of the Mississippi river.

Sudan grass is an annual, the leaves of which are broader and more numerous than those of Johnson grass, to which it is related, by the absence of rootstocks, and while this necessitates cutting the grass every year, it is not subject to the same ground as Johnson grass, which is broadcast or in drifts it averages about three to five feet in height and has stems a little smaller than that of the common grasses, is thin and culiflous, it reaches a height of six to nine feet, with rather larger stems. The hay of the cultivated crop is somewhat coarser than that of the broadcast crop and is not适切 for market hay.

Sudan grass does not yield a rich hay, but it has been grown successfully on almost every class of soil, from a heavy clay to a light sand, says W. H. Wilkinson, editor of the Oklahoma Farmer. Where the soil is quite sandy, a light yield may be expected. The ground must be fairly well drained.

Naturally, it is thought that the ordinary farmer had best let it go, but recently it reappeared in his herd. The fact that he has not pastured his herd upon the same ground while pastured cholera sick horses has not prevented the reappearance of this dread disease. More than one hundred cases may have been infected at that time.

The veterinarians recommended that all hogs, the temperature of which were not already above normal, be immediately given the proper remedies—the ones remedy by which a hog can be saved from extinction when cholera appears. This also urged the farmer to carefully clean up the barns and pens, burning the carcasses of all dead hogs and all litter which might be infested with the disease. To prevent the recurrence of the malady, which may easily be caused by lurking germs or introduced in the feed or by the purchase of stock, they advised him to maintain a cholera immune herd, thus doing away with the likelihood of future losses.

GOOD SUGGESTIONS REGARDING HORSES

Many Troubles Caused by Poor Fitting Harness — Don't Change Feed Suddenly.

Some shoulders and consequently hocky teams are the consequence of hard work during the busy months unless your harness fits properly.

Out, young or old, that starts from a fair harness will improve from its winter's rest with in one week of hard plowing, work of some of this flesh and the collar that was tight becomes loose, works up and down the shoulders and thus galla are formed.

Watch the collar and unless it is dragged right either use an excess pad or a smaller collar. The latter is always preferable.

Don't make any sudden change in the feed.

Give hay to the horses first if they are warm. The grain, after they have cooled off.

Big Loss From Weeds.

The loss from weeds is enormous;
nearly twenty-five per cent of the earning capacity of some farms is being lost. Millions of dollars can be saved by the judicious use of a few simple methods of weed control.

Flavor by Buckwheat.

The French feed considerable buckwheat to their turkeys, believing that the grain imparts to the flesh a delicate nutty flavor much liked by the epicure.

Planting Apple Trees.

More than a million apple trees, covering 18,750 acres, came into bearing last year in Washington, according to statistics compiled by the state department of agriculture. These were planted in 1909, with a deduc-tion of ten per cent for trees that failed to come to maturity. During each of the next three years almost double this acreage will come into bearing, plantings of 1910, 1911 and 1912 having amounted to 60,000, 65,000
and 60,000 trees per year.

Sweet Clover Seed.

Sweet clover produces from about two to eight bushels of seed per acre and the second cutting from the seton year's crop will ordinarily produce the best and largest quantity of seed.

Pruning Fruit Trees.

All kinds of fruit trees require to be pruned more or less. Some kinds of fruit trees and vines need to be pruned more frequently, others may be cut rarely and little pruned.

"CADILLAC"
TABLE RANGE

This is the most popular style—it
is really the one
you want.

If you'll want a good Gas Range, that Gas has been brought into the market.
Come to Detroit and select a Cadillac and I'll pay your fare both ways.

The Cadillac Gas Range is so convenient, sanitary, economical and efficient that any woman will be proud to have one in her kitchen. The model which we are showing here is the favorite. The entire canopy is white-porcelain lined. So are the burner-box linings, the valve handles and the clean-out trays. The cooking top is equipped with a self-lighter. The oven is aluminum and has a glass door. The broiler unit is aluminum. You will be delighted with one of these stoves in your kitchen. We will pay the freight out to Birmingham. Come in and let us show you a "Cadillac."
