WAITING FOR YOU

160 ACRES OF WESTERN CANADA FREE

Yes, waiting for every farmer or farmer's son—an industrious American who is anxious to establish for himself a happy home and prosperity. Canada's biggest invitation this year is more attractive than ever. There is higher but her farm land just as cheap and in the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

160 Acre Homesteads are Actually Free to Settlers and Other Land at From $15 to $20 per Acre

The people of European countries as well as the American continent must feel that an even greater demand for Canadian West will keep the price. Any farmer who can buy land at $15.00 to $20.00 per acre—get a dollar for wheat and raise 20 to 45 bushels to the acre is bound to make money—that's what you can expect in Western Canada. Wonderful yields also of Oats, Barley and Flax. Mixed Farming is fully as profitable as industry as grain raising. The excellent grasses, full of nutrition, are the only food required for dairy purposes. Good schools, markets convenient, climate excellent.

Military service is not compulsory in Canada but you will keep your land while you are in the army. Write for literature and particulars as to reduced railway rates to Superintendent Immigration, Canada.

OBJECTION PLACED ON AGE

But Young Lady's Idea Was Altogether Different From What Corporal Had Feared.

"What pensions, what millions and millions in pensions, this horrible war is going to entail," said Major Fitzgerald of Boston. He added:

"And some of these pensions will go on longer than they should, because some of the pensioners in their old age will marry young girls—for an old pensioner makes a good part, since his pension, you know, falls on his death to his widow."

"I heard the other day about an old Civil War pensioner who proposed to the hired girl next door, a very pretty girl of twenty or so. But she refused him."

"Perhaps," he stammered then, striking in his embarrassment his long and snow-white beard, "perhaps I am too old."

"No," said the pretty hired girl calmly; "no, corporal, you're too young."

"Now, Hibel, Harold says he's sorry he broke your doll, so I want you to forgive him."

"I'd feel more like forgiving him, mother, if I could swat him one first."

It takes a lot of confidence to enable a man to enjoy hash.

Mighty Hands

Some negroes are unsuitable "hiners," and their favorite organizations are those which assure an ostentatious funeral.

A mistress was remonstrating with her servant about belonging to one of these.

"Don't tell me, you think it is mighty foolish to pay the 'Friends and True Mourners society' twenty-five cents every month?"

"Naw, Miss May, I don't. You see, dee ain't like some of de cieties; dee acts liberal, and don't skimp on nothing." Dee gives you de finest kind of coffin, an makes a way for ev'rybody to git to your burial. En den, 'sides dat, dee gives you thirty dollars at de grave, an you know thirty dollars comes in mighty handy."

Likes Sensible Women

Montague Quin, the author of "Perk-muttage and Potash," says that he would not marry a woman who did not have sense enough to want equal rights for her sex. He has a wife, who, needless to say, comes up to his expectations of what a sensible woman should be.

Real-Life Romance

With Least Exertion

To do one's best work with comfort, body and brain must be in good condition. That requires proper food—food that contains all the elements that build brain and brawn.

Grape-Nuts

Is that kind of food!

Made of wheat and barley, it contains all the nutrients of those nourishing grains, including those vital mineral salts—phosphate of potash, etc.—that are discarded in making white flour.

Long baking breaks down the starch cells of the grain and makes this food easily digestible by the most delicate stomach.

Economical, appetizing—

THE LIONESS KNEW

By JOHN BREWSTER.

Rita, the big lioness, had been acting in an ugly manner. They say that lions can detect the character of their trainers; that a drunken trainer is in imminent danger of destruction should he enter the cage. They say, too, that a good woman can tame the wildest beast. Perhaps that is a legend, though.

Mademoiselle Charmeuse had been born, Lily Leigh. Her parents were honest farmer folks who back in Shawnee county, but there had been a maternal grandfather who ran away from it. It is not boys only that inherit the roving disposition. When she was seventeen Lily had shaken the dust off her shoes at the back entrance to the farm and departed in the wake of a traveling show, to graduate as Mademoiselle Charmeuse, the world-famous equestrienne. Afterward, when business prospered and the show increased in size and aspirations, she became Mademoiselle Charmeuse, the renowned lion-tamer.

Some folks think circus people are almost as bad as gypsies. That is not the case. There are no more mean and respectable people alive. Nobody had ever breathed a word against Mademoiselle Charmeuse's reputation. Goldini, the proprietor, and the motherly Madame Goldini, treated her like a daughter, even if they had stuck her up in an illegal manner, struck by her pretty face and daring. But when Madame Goldini grew too stout to continue to tame the lions, and refused herself to looking after the circus, the proprietor, and the motherly Madame Goldini, treated her like a daughter, even if they had stuck her up in an illegal manner, struck by her pretty face and daring. But when Madame Goldini grew too stout to continue to tame the lions, and refused herself to looking after the circus, the proprietor, and the motherly Madame Goldini, treated her like a daughter, even if they had stuck her up in an illegal manner, struck by her pretty face and daring.

Put That Pain to Use

The network of nerves in your body, which is the "highway" of life, is a beautiful alarm system, gives quick warning when anything is going wrong inside. It is a useful alarm. Now, kidney weakness is a dangerous thing—a condition that is neglected—and it is wise to know and pay attention to the early alarm signals of sick kidneys.

Backache is a common warning of congestion or inflammation in the kidneys. It may be dull, nagging pain, or a sharp twinge when sitting or lifting. There are likely to be disorders of urination, dizziness, headaches, and drowsy, despondent feelings.

It is very hard to strengthen weak kidneys at first, but neglect invites the most serious attacks, gravel, dropsy and all British diseases.

As a special medicine for weak kidneys, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been used for years all over the civilized world, and amply are considered reliable. The patient always helps the medicine, and surely, however, by dieting lightly, using little or no liquor, tea or coffee, keeping regular hours and drinking lots of pure water.

"I can hardly straighten up."

Some Terrible War Bills

That of the United States Government Heads the List in Point of Size.

The wars of Napoleon in 13 years cost France $1,000,000,000, besides added war indemnity of $1,000,000,000. The cost of the Crimean war, which lasted only 190 days, cost Germany $400,000,000 for an average fighting force of 1,000,000 men. The Russo-Turkish war, cost Russia $28,140,000, but she had two years' fighting for her money. The war in the East cost Japan $450,000,000 and Russia $721,000,000, not counting lost ships. Only toward the end had either side anything like a million men in the field. Italy's little war with Turkey cost $400,000 a day, allowing for a mere 60,000 fighting men; and held her own against England's army average of 200,000 cost $1,055,000,000 and a half a year's.

A Fine Night.

Maude Marie was a sentimental miss of twenty, who happened to be on the world with a gentle gig, relates the Kansas City Star. John Henry, who thought her some sweet-natured was almost crudely practical. One evening she happened to be along the country road when John Henry noticed that Maude Marie's thoughts seemed airy off.

"You look like some beautiful, Maude," remarked the young man. "Where are your thoughts?"

"I was thinking of the night, John. Dear tenderly, what the fair one isn't it sublime! Isn't it glorious! Isn't it the most wonderful night you ever saw?"

"Yes," was the startling rejoinder of the practical John. "It is just the kind of a night to shoot cats."

Lepor Asylum.

The Kwangsi asylum, Korea, has grown from an old tie-kill where the first leper patient was housed five years ago. She has been found on the roadside, almost dead, with worn and bleeding feet, and was taken into the warm tile-kill and fed and taught. She had a little wooden building of three rooms which the missionaries paid for from their own pockets. This has been displaced now by a suitable and comfortable building of ten Leper. It will care for 100 patients. Doctor Wilson writes: "I am taking them out of the snow every day now, and we shall soon reach the 100 limit."

Not for Doctors.

The bachelor community of a certain suburb was greatly scared by the advent of a fat, middle-aged man, who, after a long and desolate husband-hunting, was at last, the lady finally managed to capture the curate. Local bachelordom was so immensely relieved at its prospect that it united in presenting the curate with a splendid wedding present, in the shape of a costly table service. The curate was overwhelmed.

"Such a magnificent service!" he gasped.

"Well, you see, my boy," explained the chief of the local bachelors, "it really is a thanksgiving service."—London Tit-Bits.

Not for Doctors.

Of course it is all right for ignorance to be bliss, but we dislike to know that some doctor enjoys himself that way.—Galveston News.
