WHITEHEAD AND STANDART

ALL OVER

There is talk of having a unity school at Clawson, a good place for it.

Auxillary Cemetery Club met at the Town Hall in Franklin for social and business purposes.

Mrs. Mira Randall and daughter Mrs. Ray St. John of Avon recently visited Mrs. Frankie Smith.

Mrs. Frankie Smith of Troy has been honored by being grandma for about one month with a nice grandson.

Mrs. Maria Bean and daughter of Clawson were invited guests at Mrs. G. W. Wilson's in Troy last Sunday.

Watch the weather about the last quarter of the moon change to warmer and then the farmer will start tilling the soil.

Sidney Wriden from Groose Point is having an amusing time with his cousins in Clawson while visiting his Uncle Charley Baker.

Mrs. G. W. Wilson formally Mrs. Hunt recently seen the Detroit market for the first time in a resident period in Troy of over 27 years.

I expect the D. U. R. not to be hogish but pay me for the 100lbs of sugar their freight agent Stone lost for me in Birmingham through neglect to check out all goods that was left there that day.—W. H. C.

Mrs. Frankie Smith entertained last week Sunday her sister-in-law, Mrs. Thos. Lowe of Detroit and her neices the Misses Mabel and Blanche Harty of Colrain in Troy. Also Mrs. John Truesdale and her son-in-law Walter Carpenter and wife and baby.

What lost me a real true companion and a noble home life was really procrastination; but how determined I kept up my real hard struggle to win a better home surroundings and cheered up for a great many years by the precious hope and upheld by a powerful will and imprudently driven at times by a powerful and incautious ambition; but all my earnest efforts were of no avail to me and my noble mark was surely lost seemingly to me, on the account of not starting out right in the very beginning. Most assuredly had I accepted when tendered the most golden opportunity offered to me in the very beginning of my business life I would surely have been happy and prosperous in business and lived a model life in a real model home.

For the D. U. R. a man was recently along the line of the road through Clawson taking options and feeling the pulses of the property holders in regard to the right of way aside from the public highway for two tracks where there is only one now. Don't be too hogish property owners for the taking away of the railroad and using the other street east straightening the line of the crook in it now; then down goes your property one-half. The company has made the increase value of your property as it stands to-day. Now as soon as a double track is complete and one-half hour service your land goes up 33 1-3 percent. Why stand in your own light when you don't encourage the D. U. R. to make the improvement of a double track and a one-half hour service.—Codnor.

Washington Theatre.

"Il Trovatore"

During the past week the Washington Theatre in Detroit has been the scene of enthusiastic demonstrations each night by capacity audiences that witnessed the English Grand Opera Co., in their performance of "Aida". Never before in the theatrical history of Detroit has there been such a tremendous interest manifested in any operatic attraction. This may be attributed to the fact that the list of principals engaged for the English Opera Company is one of the strongest organizations of English speaking operatic stars ever gathered together in one company.

For the week of April 20, the English Grand Opera Company will present Verdi's "Il Trovatore". "Il Trovatore" is perhaps one of the best known and most popular of all operas with its picturesque scenes, laid in the beginning of the fifteenth century and the story taken from a dream of Antonio Garcia Gatteerez's, its many dramatic moments, its splendid opportunities for dramatic work, it will prove a worthy successor to Verdi's "Aida".

Each opera will run for seven days with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. The prices: 25c, 50c, 75c and $1.00 in the evenings; at the matinees, 1000 reserved seats at 25c, with the orchestra seats 50c and 75c. Seats on sale seven days in advance, and a subscription list is open at the box office. Tickets will be mailed by addressing the manager of the theater, enclosing a check or money order with addressed envelope.

The day has long gone when any decent parson was ts to live in a town without churches. The experiment has been tried with dire results in increase of crime and disorder. The entire community reaps favorable results from the moral influence of the churches in it. A considerable percentage know only from hearsay what is said and done in their Sunday meetings. Intelligent interest in what concerns us all, and a purpose to honor Almighty God, are reasons enough to bring every citizen and family of this village and surrounding country to one or another, of its five churches on Sunday April 19.
