Bloomfield Hills Country Club Will Stage Cross Country Fox Hunt This Fall. The Fox's a Bag!

Members of the Bloomfield Hills Country Club are making plans for some very spirited riding to the bounds across country after the dear old custom beloved by every English Squire over 'em, now rapidly gaining favor in this country.

The Grosse Pointe Kennel club owns one of the finest packs of thoroughbred English fox hounds in this country and they have had many exciting and delightful runs in the vicinity of Detroit. It is now proposed to bring them out among the hills some time next autumn, and give the country side a sample of a real run after the horse blowing man.

Sorry for the poor fox? Saw your tears. There ain't gold to be no fox. They just take a bag filled with silver and other things which gives forth an aroma which smells to the high heaven in the nostrils of humanity but it ambrosia of the gods to the nose of a real fox hound, and drag it over the ground along the fence and the guests and spectators are placed various points of vantage along the route the hounds wind merrily, and amid the shouts of the mounted hunters the clatter of hoof and the musical saying of the pack they are off and away upon the cross country run.

The modern wire fence is a veritable terror to the hounds and the hounds are put upon the scent, and amid the shouts of the mounted hunters the clatter of hoof and the musical saying of the pack they are off and away upon the cross country run. The modern wire fence is a veritable terror to the hounds and the hounds are put upon the scent, and amid the shouts of the mounted hunters the clatter of hoof and the musical saying of the pack they are off and away upon the cross country run.

"Who will take a small contribution for the fire department," an elderly lady was heard to inquire of a friend the other evening. "I'll give you an old watch," said the friend, "but I feel it is my duty to help the volunteer fire department in the only way it is possible."

Would you like to help, too?

Broadway Theatre

"The Spoilers," that fascinating story of the Nome gold field—written by Rex Beach—which is being shown at the Broadway theatre, has proved such a distinct success that the management has decided to retain it for a third week. It will have to give way to a new stock company which will enter upon an engagement at this theatre, Sunday, August 30. Harry M. Holden and his famous players will be seen at this playhouse during G. A. R. week in "The Girl from Out Yonder."

Meanwhile, "The Spoilers" has been going an ever increasing business. The house management was complimented last week on the fidelity of the pictures by several of the ardent sportsmen who live through such similar experiences as the film portrays.

GEORGE E. ELLIS

Republican Candidate for Governor
Solicits Your Support

Mr. Ellis is the popular Mayor of Grand Rapids, having been repeatedly elected to that office in the face of the strongest possible opposition, the last time being on April 6 of this year, when he was given the most votes ever cast for a candidate for that office in Michigan's second city.

George E. Ellis is, said by those qualified to speak, to be the only man who can defeat Governor Ferris, which is a sufficient reason why he should be nominated by those who believe in the success of the Republican party.

In order to win in November the Republicans must nominate their strongest man for Governor. George E. Ellis is that man.

Miss Ida Corer was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Masters last week.
Many people are condemning the proposed installation of water meters. Their argument seems to be that the initial purchase price to the consumer is too high. In cities where the meter system is in use, users are wild in their praise. It is just a plain matter of considering the other side of the coin. Use the city water you want and pay for it.
