Mrs. Elizabeth C. Randall and son Lewis, with his wife, passed several pleasant days camping at Cass lake with J. R. Hanna and his family of Southfield. Mr. Hanna recently purchased the John H. Patterson cottage and has the finest outfit and home for a summer outing that near any wish.
Just as the paving contractor men began to felicitate themselves on dry streets and were promising themselves now they'd get busy and accomplish something as the streets were dry once, down came the rain, Monday afternoon and nearly all night. Thunder rumbled lightning flashed and the rain flooded every loathsome dam thing. Selah!

STATE OF MICHIGAN—In the Circuit Court for the County of Oakland—Docket No. 10,000.
Complaint by Sarah M. Kelly, Plaintiff, against Sarah M. Kelly, Defendant.
The said Sarah M. Kelly, Plaintiff, claims that the said Sarah M. Kelly, Defendant, is the true owner of the premises described in the complaint, and that the said Sarah M. Kelly, Defendant, has wrongfully taken possession of the same, and that the said Sarah M. Kelly, Plaintiff, is entitled to possession of the same.

The climate hereabouts is certainly acquiring a reputation for steadiness. Rain is more regular than trains on the old "Polly Ann."
An important change in business firms in Birmingham took place this week when S. J. Joseph, Green, with Arthur Heacock bought out the Hiram B. Parks business of agricultural implements and the line of goods that usually go with this trade. We see no reason that the new firm should not be a sure success. Both young and energetic with a host of friends among the farming community hereabouts, they will be in a position to serve their patrons well. Their personal experience as farmers will enable them to know what a farmer requires. There can be no question that their patrons will receive anything but honest treatment and a square deal. They will furnish anything for the farm from a twin blade犁 to a pitchfork, from an apple parer to a gasoline engine. We heartily wish them success.

One of the finest farms in the township of Southfield was sold last week to Walter Hank of Detroit. The farm was formerly owned by the late W. H. Elliott, of Detroit, and for some years has been owned and occupied by E. F. Groff, who has kept the place in such a tidy and attractive condition that it was easy to sell to almost any appreciative person. Mr. Henkel also purchased the entire outfit of stock, tools and crops. The price paid was a fancy one, but the property is worth every dollar of it and everybody concerned in the deal is satisfied and happy. The sale was made through the real estate agency of the Whitehead & Standard Co., of this place.
