On a pleasant Sunday recently 91 automobiles passed through this place over the good road in one-half hour, many going at a very high rate of speed in spite of the speed limit caution.

A party of men in a large car going south recently overtook a resident who had a distance of about two miles to go and asked him to ride. The resident said it was the swiftest ride he had ever taken and the motorist kept the middle of the road, though they passed a number of machines going in the opposite direction. The latter was asked about this and said he never turned out for the light weight machines. This, evidently was the way the motorist thought who was the cause of the serious accident to Gerald Ford and his cousin, Russell Riley, last Sunday when they were crowded from the road down a ten foot embankment one mile south of here, nearly killing the young men and demolishing their auto.

Miss Rhea Naylor, of Cleveland, O., visiting Mrs. Chambers of Quality Shop fame, sang Thursday night at the Temple theatre. Miss Naylor has a rich soprano voice and gave her audiences an exceptional talented performance.
