

BIRMINGHAM SCHOOL NOTES.

Last Saturday, the Senior class served very delicious luncheon to the Horticultural society in the gymnasium of the Barnum school.

The six girls have been having a series of spelling matches. In the last two Martin, Kurth and Arthur Hartwell played the entire room.

Mrs. Foreman's room was the quarter holiday for the best attendance record in the Barnum school this month.

Fourteen pupils were neither absent nor tardy.

In the fourth grade the following have been neither absent nor tardy since the beginning of this school year: Russell Barry, Margaret Perez, George Lapbert, Robert Teichman, Florence Terry, Gilbert Allen and Lawrence Howes.

These children have only one mark to their discredit: Cora Argus, Grace Meiron, Helen "Rosso", Fredrick Schwartz, E. G. Smilgard and Ella Webber.

The eighth grade has arranged a roll of honor for the pupils who have earned more "A's" for their monthly standings. This month the honor pupils are Della Weaver, who comes first with 5 A's; Lester Carter, 4; Fred Worcester, 3; Lloyd McQuarrie, 2; and Fay McJannet, 1.

In a recent competition in the fourth grade E. G. Smilgard, who is a senior, carried off the first prize, a large tube of Colgate's tooth paste for the best essay on "Tooth and Teeth Care."

The children had studied this subject thoroughly before writing their essays, and the results were really quite remarkable. Marion Leland and Helen Rosso won the second prize, while five other essays were judged worthy of honorable mention.

These were written by Margaret Berry, Shepherd, Miriam Eldred, Ella Webber and Helen Carter. The following is the essay which won the first prize:

THE TEETH We must take good care of our teeth if we want good teeth. If we want good teeth we will have to learn about the teeth. When a baby is about six or seven months old their teeth appear.

There are two kinds of teeth, the ones that we bite with and the ones that we chew with. The names are the incisors, canines, bicuspids and the molars. The top of the tooth is called the enamel, the middle of the tooth is called dentine and the bottom of the tooth is called the pulp or nerve, and the lower part is called the cementum.

We should take care of our teeth so that they may not have toothache and get sick. We should clean our teeth after every meal and before going to bed and in the morning. We should brush the upper teeth down and the lower teeth up and the molars every way. We should not bite hard substance.

A Good Horseman likes a fine animal and a fine horse would be well cared for. In the place where the best horses are kept you will nearly always find a package of Harvell's Condition Powder, a purely medicinal powder, not a food, and its effect on the horse is to purify the blood, regulate the bowels, and speedily and make the coat smooth and glossy. Price 25c. Sold by Cobb & Jennelle.—Adv.

OBITUARY. Mr. Robert J. Burns, who was born in Birmingham and resided here the greater share of his life, died New Year's day at his home, 557 Madison, of anemia of the blood after an illness of five weeks, leaving a wife and three children to mourn their loss, besides several relatives and a host of friends.

Why Try for Neuralgia. This ailment of people who do not know what it is, is neuralgia. It is a pain in the nerves. What you want to do is to soothe the nerve. Dr. J. C. Sloan's Limentin, to the surface over the painful part, and Sloan's Limentin penetrates very quickly to the nerve, irritates it, and soothes the inflammation. Get Sloan's Limentin for 25c of any drug store and have it in the house against all such sore and swollen joints, lumbago, neuralgia and like ailments. Your money almost is not repaid, but it does give almost instant relief.

BEGAN WORK AT $8 A WEEK

Her Reports Gathered from Neighbors, one Correspondent and a Skillfully Prepared Rank With Those of the Government.

By RICHARD SPILLANE. (Columbus, Miss., Dec. 27.)—Katherine Giles, a girl who went to Wall street 14 years ago to work for $8 a week has become a recognized authority throughout the world on cotton.

She has been a thousand million dollars or more a year to the American people. At times, as a result of a report which she issues, the markets of New Orleans, New York, Liverpool and Havre are violently agitated.

When she got her ten subscribers she did a very wonderful thing. She had been so poor and had been so poor that she had to work for a living. She had been so poor that she had to work for a living.

She has been so poor that she had to work for a living. She had been so poor that she had to work for a living. She had been so poor that she had to work for a living.

She has been so poor that she had to work for a living. She had been so poor that she had to work for a living. She had been so poor that she had to work for a living.

She has been so poor that she had to work for a living. She had been so poor that she had to work for a living. She had been so poor that she had to work for a living.

was a sad one for Kate Giles. Of course she told her mother all about it. Her mother advised her to go right back and work for her father. "You had better go back," she said. "You had better go back."

"When you want to leave," she said, "you leave. You're doing excellent work for me. You do better than yourself. You have the notion of being independent of building up a business for yourself. Follow that idea. You'll succeed. You'll succeed."

Mr. Freeman did more. He had furnished all the correspondents of Miss Giles with an agricultural publication of particular interest to them. The subscriptions to these papers he had paid for.
