Provection.
"I am sure you have had provection," said the relative, "or you would not be so determined to leave your husband."
"Provection!" echoed the indignant woman. "I bought Flido a package of dog tags. This morning I made biscuits for breakfast. Can you believe me when I tell you I found that brute of a man trying to feed Flido my biscuits and eat the dog? My pet's perfectly good, he takes away from him!"—Washington Star.

A POTATO KING
"If I were a farmer boy, or a boy with out capital and wanted an early crop," said Henry Schroeder, the Potato King of the Red River Valley, whose story in the John A. Salzer Seed Co.'s Catalogue reads stranger than a romance.
That advice of Mr. Schroeder's, the finest Potato King, comes from a warm heart, a lived head, an active hand, and above all, a successful Potato grower!

Do You Know, Mr. Farmer, there is more money in five acres of Potatoes than in any other crop, in anything you can grow on your farm, and a warm hearted Potato grower, with present machinery, crops in easy. It's regular October of July!

Royal Ermine in a Chic Matched Set

ERMINES are for those who may indulge in luxuries and buy their furs for real utility. Not that the royal fur is not durable enough, but because its creamy whiteness makes it unsuited for the workaday world. It is a fur for occasional wear and, since it will last for a long time, should be selected in shapes of muffs and neckpieces that are always in style. The rather large flat cut and the plain straight scarf are never passe, and therefore the safest choice in the richest furs.

Narrow bands of ermine and small neckpieces are really more chic than any other finish to the pretty midwinter promenade or visiting toilette. Muffs, whether made to wear with large or small scarfs and neckpieces, are usually rather large. But ermine is one of those splendid things that look best when sparingly used. Like diamonds that are too large, and rich lace pointed ends and a bunch of little account, something is lost of the best effects when ermine is made Beautiful Fur Set.

A beautiful fur set is of tailless ermine—a quaint pointed caplet, topped with one long slender quill held in place by a clasp of black crystals, a long wide stole, with much elegant black and white, with a tassel to finish them off, and a heart-shaped muff.

Two Views of Velvet Turban, and a Hat

SOON those ditto fingers that carry out inspirations and translate fancy into headwear will be busy with flowers and straw and ribbons with which we shall salute the spring, and now they are making ready for this fast fashioning nose of the between-season and midwinter hats for which they must depend upon the tourist to make the demand. Gladly those who create millinery turn to the fabrics and novelties that inspire them.

The New Petticoats.
Petticoats made of pique, button-down to big scallops about the hem, are turnable and serviceable. They are not transparent, so that the petticoat is really formed of two sections rounded into a deep oval at the hem, designed together along their long edges and fitted or gathered into the waist along the narrow edge.

LETTER FROM THE STATE CAPITOL

SENATE VOTES TO ASK GOVERNOR HIS VIEWS ON LIQUOR LEGISLATION.

WEEK VACATION FOR SENATE
Lower House Only One in Session Owing to Senate Committee's Trips to Institutions this Week.

[By Gurd M. Hayes.]

Lansing.—When the senate convened Thursday afternoon Senator Wayne Good, of Shelby, presented a resolution calling upon Gov. Ferris to outline to the senate his views as to liquor legislation needed in Michigan at the present time. Many of the members of the upper house have received letters and petitions from their constituents asking for reform liquor legislation and members of the senate are of the opinion that before proceeding the chief executive should be asked to enlighten the legislative body somewhat.

In this inaugural message the governor made no mention of the liquor question, while Lieut. Gov. Dickerson in his message mentioned it in rather positive terms.

The resolution presented by Senator Odel follows: "Since the communication of Lieut. Gov. Dickinson, given to the senate last week, relative to the liquor traffic, known by journals and citizens, as well as definite requests from various sections, indicates plainly that the legislature cannot escape action on this subject."
"Destroying the most dangerous between the legislative and executive departments and believing Gov. Ferris can give valuable advice relative to liquor legislation, it is the resolution resolved, that the senate request Governor Ferris to convey to this body at his earliest convenience his views relative to the action and proposed legislation demanded by the people of the state on the subject of the liquor traffic."

The Michigan anti-saloon league officials have declared that they would not ask for the submission of state-wide prohibition at this session of the legislature, but they demand a repeal of the law creating the Michigan Brewing company and the passage of a bill making it unlawful to sell liquor within five miles of any state institution.

Although there was a quorum of the senate present Friday morning the upper house in session just four minutes and an adjournment was taken until Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock. No bills were introduced and no business was transacted. As there will not be a quorum of the senate present again until January 25, attention will be focused on the house for the next few days.

When the house convened Rep. Hinckley of Emmet county introduced a bill making an appropriation of $220,600 for a state normal school at Petoskey. Rep. Hinckley says that the bill will be furnished for $1 by the people of Emmet county if the state will make an appropriation for the establishment of the school.

While it is not clear that the present legislature will see fit to establish another normal school Emmet county will be in line when some succeeding legislature acts on the matter.

The special committee appointed to dissect the governor's inaugural message and pick out the features that refer to them to the legislature, has reported to the chief executive, reported Friday morning.

Rep. Newell Smith of Gratiot county, chairman of the committee on public health says that action will be taken on the recommendation of the governor that legislation be introduced to regulate the sale of habit forming drugs. At the present time it is almost impossible to convict a person for the sale of heroin and Rep. Newell Smith says that a bill to correct the defect in the present law will be introduced shortly.

General Fuller has a new idea for Michigan at least—the conservation question. He has suggested it to some of the legislators and before the present session is over the idea may be a law.

He insists that the best way to conserve the timber resources of Michigan is to land owners for the planting of trees. The scheme has been tried in some other states which are noted for their forest conservation program.

"Why not let the state forestry commission furnish the trees, from its Keweenaw county truck garden, and let the land owner a bounty of $2 or $3 per acre for planting and caring for them?" is the way the auditor-general puts it. "It seems to me that would help the commission and at the same time lay the foundation and the seed for the forest in the state. We now exempt cut-over lands from taxation and certain cut-over lands, chief of which is that the property be improved."

Secy John L. Burkart, of the state board of health, has supplied figures for the legislature showing that for each square mile per capita of Michigan in the work of maintaining the public health than any other state in the union. The figure is 12 cents per capita, while the District of Columbia spends 22 cents and Nevada 12 cents and Montana 9 cents. The board will ask $40,000 for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1915, for the improvement of public appropriations.

Governor Ferris has sent the following appointments to the senate for confirmation:

Dr. Angus McLean, of Detroit, Wayne county, as member of the Detroit Board of Health, for the term ending February 28, 1915.

Dr. John L. Burkart, of Big Rapids, Mecosta county, as secretary of the State Board of Health, for the unexpired term ending March 31, 1915.

Philip Richardson, of Port Huron, St. Clair county, as member of the Board of Control of the School for the Blind at Lansing, for the term ending December 31, 1920.

Cassius L. Glasgow, of Nashville, Barry county, as member of the Michigan Railroad Commission for the term ending January 1, 1921.

John T. Winship, of Saginaw, Saginaw county, as Insurance Commissioner for the term beginning July 1, 1915, and ending June 30, 1917.

James V. Cunningham, of Detroit, Wayne county, as Commissioner of Labor, for the term beginning July 1, 1915, and ending June 30, 1917.

A. C. Sherman, of Coldwater, Branch county, as member of the Board of Control of the State Public School at Coldwater, for the term ending December 31, 1920.

John Johnson, of Lansing, Ingham county, as member of the Board of Control of the Industrial School for Boys at Lansing, for the term ending December 31, 1920.

Preliminary to a legislative movement to compel liquor dealers to do business in Michigan to pay their share of tax, Rep. Palmer of Wayne county, introduced a resolution calling upon the Michigan Board of Control of the Industrial School for Boys at Lansing, for the term ending December 31, 1920.

It is claimed that automatic stokers would be sent in a bill calling for appropriation of $20,000 for this purpose. The general appropriation bill for the coming year is expected to be introduced later.
