Mrs. Ida Corey Sabin and husband have started for the North. They will visit relatives at Huntsville, Ala., after which they will go to their home at Malden, Ill. They have had a fine and pleasant winter at Biloxi, Miss. They took in the Mardi Gras at New Orleans recently and went with the crowd.

It is no longer neessary to send out of town to get good laundry work done. The people's Laundry, under the management of E. O. Dana, the new owner, is doing strictly gilt-edge work. The name of the laundry is to be changed shortly, and Mr. Dana will give $10.00 in laundry work to the patron suggesting the most suitable name.

No one hates overdrafts worse than a banker, yet we venture to say that nine-tenths of them are made through inadvertence and carelessness on the part of the maker, and they all claim this defense. However, the indiscriminate war against them by John Skelton Williams, comptroller of the currency, is hardly justifiable. Have a heart, John.

Mrs. Henry Spicer, Jr., of Woodward avenue, entertained Detroit friends Saturday evening. Keno was played, drawing thy musical instruments from a grab bag as prizes, after which covers were laid for 12. The table was in pink. Tulips and carnations formed the centerpiece, with favors of pink novelty caps marking the places. Dancing followed.

As usual the choice of a High School site was not made at the election Tuesday evening. Nearly 300 votes were cast from 4 to 7 o'clock. Talk is cheap and wrangling was rampant. There being no two-thirds majority in sight, no choice was made. A number of votes cast were no good on account of error in marking. Trustee Coryell says we will keep on voting until we do get a site.

It was with sincere regret that we learned of the death of Fred Slocum, formerly of Holly and later of Caro, Mich. Our acquaintance with him is one of the very pleasant recollections of our newspaper experiences, when he was editor of the Holly Advertiser and both himself and wife made frequent trips to this village where they both had many friends. All work and no play resulted in the inevitable and nervous collapse overtook him some two or three years ago. His surviving wife and family have our condolences.

Dr. E. LeGrand Ward and wife have been visiting their mother and sister, Mrs. Thomas A. Ward and Mrs. Lucy Ward Hendricks, at Silverwood, Mich., the past few weeks. The doctor is on his way to Chicago, where he will take a post graduate course that he thinks he needs, after which he will follow the advice of the late Horace Greely, who advised young men to go West and grow up with the country. Earle has been very successful in the Lone Star State, but will do better in the far West.

Real estate activities mark the week just past. We do not chronicle all of them. H. George Field buys of Charles E. Jones house number 3 in Residence Park. John McMichael has acquired the three 50 ft. lots on the northeast corner of Woodward avenue and Euclid. Charles E. Jones has bought the old scenery shop and will wreck the building this summer. The building has much lumber in it, but it is no ornament to that part of the town. There is a rumor that the four acres on Woodward avenue and Cemetery road have been sold and will be divided into lots 100x230 feet, or about half acres.

Charles A. Kent, aged 63 years, died Saturday morning of a complication of diseases at his home at Burrmere Park, two miles south of Birmingham. He has been in ill health for a long time, having been south for his health. He came to Burrmere Park about 18 months ago. He was formerly a lumberman and had been in business in Saginaw, but retired on account of ill health. A widow, one son, Lawrence, seven years old, and one daughter, Catherine, two years old, survive. The funeral was held at the late home Tuesday morning. The remains were taken to Forest Lawn cemetery in Saginaw for burial.

Wasn't Monday a fine day overhead?

Mrs. G. Morrow is visiting relatives in St. Clair.

Mrs. William Standt, of Pontiac, was a Birmingham visitor Friday.

Modern dancing is mostly sitting around watching someone else do it.

Did you see that young lady in town yesterday with her beautiful eggs for sale?

Mrs. Seeley Peck and daughter, Miss Minnie Peck, visited friends in Northville Friday.

Between the elections and caucuses nowadays it keeps the average citizen wide awake.

G. C. Leach, of Port Huron, was the guest of his cousin, Mark Leach, a few days recently.

Misses Viola and Aline McCully, of Northville, spent the week end with Miss Evelyn Deer.

No more Canuck money on the cars. Canadian currency was barred by the D. U. R. on Wednesday last.

Edward Smith received a live alligator by express from Tampa, Fla., Friday. It is about a foot long.

David Levinson, attending the U. of M., spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Levinson.

The girls would probably be willing to knit socks for the Belgians, if the boys would come around and keep them company.

Don't carry money when you go to the Panama Exposition. Travelers' cheques only cost a trifle and are perfectly safe.

Never hear any more about our commission form of government. What is the matter? Isn't it as good as it was three years and more ago?

Wanted—By an elderly lady, home like heard. A good quiet place. Am willing to pay a fair price. Write, giving particulars, to Box 183, Birmingham P. O.

H. George Field has moved his office from his former occupancy with Whitehead & Standart in the Telephone building to the Wooster building, Woodward avenue. Both firms were getting crowded.

Monday the village election passed off very quietly and almost everyone seemed to know that to vote "yes" meant just what they wanted, the pavements on a twenty year time. Not much interest in the mbvement.

The Grouch says he dreads the summer. And yet, when the bumble bees begin bumbling and the doodle-bugs are doodling and the butterflies begin making butter, we bet old Grouchy will be enjoying it as much as anybody.

Mr. S. Fred Trumbull is out all by his lonely this season in the carpenter business. Work wanted. Estimates cheerfully made, plans suggested, work promptly finished and satisfaction guaranteed. Who could ask him to do more?

E. O. Dana, the new proprietor of the Birmingham laundry, has installed a new boiler and is now fully equipped to do all the laundry work in this blessed burg. If his work is as good and as cheap as the outside concerns, why not give him a trial?

Your just have got to hand it to the old Board that went out. They did something. They got a move on. You may not like the amount of money they paid out, but just the same they did something, and that something put Birmingham 50 years ahead on the map.

Yep; he's home. Him an' his wife. He's been so dum busy since his return that we haven't got a word out of him regarding his winter in the s. s. Then he was right in the political pot, too, and has kept things bilin' an' bubblin'. Oh, yes. We're talkin' 'bout Frank Standart.

Going to the Exposition? If you are, it will be a great convenience to you to purchase the A. B. A. traveler's cheques. They are very cheap, they can be cashed at any bank or hotel without identification, and are safer to carry than money. Ask about them at the First National Bank.

Miss Carrie Mortlock, of Detroit, has been a happy visitor with her mother, Mrs. Howard Stowell, of West Maple avenue, for the past few days. Although a regular Detroit boomer, Miss Mortlock is forced to say that she thinks Birmingham is the real place to live. So say they all who have any real discernment.

"I told you so! I told you so! I knew there'd be a lot of snow!" Every one said it on Saturday last, when the flakes were falling thick and fast and the folks were scuffling along the street, knocking the beautiful off their feet. If there hadn't been snow from March until fall, no one would wondered at it all, but one and all, both high and low, would snicker and say, "I told you so!"

This is the year that Birmingham, the loveliest village of the Plain, just takes the bit in her mouth and sails away, clear and away beyond all human expectations. It just starts this year, but when and where it will end is not to be in evidence of any alive this moment. In fact, Birmingham will never cease growing. What looks now to be cultivated fields will be covered in time with big business blocks. We have spoken.

Guy See, who has been acting as steward of the Birmingham club, was taken to Pontiac last Saturday evening by Deputy Sheriff McLintock and is being held at the county jail on a charge of larceny. See gave himself up at police headquarters in Detroit Friday, telling the officers he had taken $20 from the club where he was employed and had spent it. The Detroit officers informed the Pontiac official and the man was taken there. A complaint will probably be made in Birmingham.
