Gave Himself Away.

The general was distributing medals for special valor. Summoning Private Bumptious to step forward, much to the general surprise of the ranks, he thundered out:

"Men, look upon this hero, and imitate his bravery! All through the long night he stood firm at his sentinel's post, although completely surrounded by the enemy, and there he remained calmly."

Private Bumptious turned deadly pale. But before he fell in a faint to the ground, he gasped out:

"Then they were harmless! I thought they were our own troops."

Pearls Were Ruined.

While eating dinner with his parents at Claremont, N. H., Ed. M. Savole of Dover found 35 pearls in the oysters served him. He took them to a jeweler to find out their value, and was told that they had become valueless because they had been cooked. A few years ago he found four pearls in the same way, but they, too, had been cooked.

LETTER FROM STATE CAPITOL

CASEVILLE SENATOR POINTS OUT RAILROAD EVASION OF TAXES.

WORKS AGAINST RATE BOOST

Detroit, Grand Haven and Milwaukee Road Has Paid One Per Cent of Capital Stock for Half a Century.

[By Gurd M. Hayes.]

Lansing—Although the railroad representatives appearing before the legislature declare that they are willing to lay their cards face up on the table and play the game strictly on the square, it is the contention of Senator Fred L. Woodworth of Caseville that the Grand Trunk system has been using a joker which it should discard before the ante is raised, and he refers to the ancient charter behind which the Detroit Grand Haven and Milwaukee road has been hiding successfully for the purpose of evading its full share of state taxes.

It is Woodworth's contention, and it is shared by some of his colleagues in the senate, that the actions of the Grand Trunk in the D. G. H. & M. case, constitutes one of the big barriers in the path of the proposed increase in passenger rates. For years the Detroit, Grand Haven and Milwaukee railroad has successful defied the state and numerous attorneys general have failed in their efforts to force this branch of the Grand Trunk system to pay its share of the railroad taxes.

Operating under a charter granted in the early fifties the D. G. H. & M. pays to the state an annual fee of one per cent on its capital stock in lieu of all other state taxes. This amounts to $25,171.40 and more than this the officials of the road refuse to pay.

In 1902 the system of taxing railroads was changed. Prior to 1902 the transportation companies paid a tax according to their gross earnings, but about thirteen years ago the legislature passed a law whereby railroads are assessed on an ad valorum basis. When an attempt was made to force a collection of the amount taxed against the D. G. H. & M. the officials of that line immediately produced their charter obtained more than half a century ago and politely requested the state authorities to take a look at the clause wherein it was specified that forever afterward the D. G. H. & M. should pay a fee of one per cent in lieu of any other state tax.

The state took the matter into court where decision was rendered upholding the constitutionality of the ancient charter, Exclusive of the expense to the attorney general's department, the state has expended $15,843.46 in unsuccessful efforts to force the D. G. H. & M. to pay its taxes like other railroads.

At the present time the books of the auditor general show that there is assessed against the D. G. H. & M. in unpaid taxes since 1902 the sum of $1,420,195.56. Unless the railroads show a change of heart of some brilliant attorney finds a new loophole in the charter, there appears to be small prospect that the state will ever collect a reasonable tax from the D. G. H. & M., and each year the amount due the state grows larger and larger.

Senator Woodworth does not say that he would vote for the bill increasing passenger rates if the Grand Trunk should square its account with the state, but he does admit that his estimation of the railroads would be increased and it would show that the corporations have decided to turn over a new leaf.

When Justice Kuhn of the supreme court was attorney general, a bill was drafted by his department to tax the stockholders of the D. G. H. & M., but the auditor general's department has never met with much success in collecting any money under the provisions of this act.

Opponents of the bill to increase passenger rates are preparing to hold up the D. G. H. & M. as a horrible example of the unfair manner in which the Grand Trunk has dealt with the state in the past and it is conceded that the "antis" have a powerful argument in this respect.

Lansing—Public hearings on pending liquor legislation have been arranged for the floor of the house of representatives, beginning St. Patrick's day at 10 a. m. The house and senate committees on liquor affairs have gotten together on this score and succeeded in delaying the whole list of proposal more than two weeks.

In this list will be the Jerome bill giving arbitrary authority to cities and villages to reduce the number of saloons to one to every 500 of population. The state wide prohibition bill and numerous other measures bearing upon the liquor traffic will be held up pending a series of open hearings to get expressions from all sides of the case. It is probable the bonding company measure now in the senate will be included in the list scheduled for delay until hearing can be had.

Considerable popular opposition to the Persons public utilities commission bill is being stirred up in the house and senate largely on the ground that the only persons showing profound interest in the proposal are representatives of corporations.

Stringent regulations are thrown about the employment of children by permit. Indeed the red tape is wound on so thick as to indicate almost a desire to prohibit the employment of little ones. Under this bill permits for children between the ages of fourteen and eighteen years are granted only after the employer has made written statement of the nature of the employment and the wages to be paid, and these are approved by the superintendent of schools or the county commissioner of schools. Periodical reports are called for and the bill provides also that when the child has left his or her place of employment, the permit must be returned to the issuing officer.

There is a provision prohibiting the employment of any child under the age of eighteen on any mine, quarry, passenger or freight elevator and there are numerous other minor amendments suggested which are designed to preserve life, health and morals of children and foster his or her education.

Thus far about the only ones to speak a good word for the bill are those whose interests are the interests of public utilities that will come under the provisions of the law and the general impression is getting abroad in the legislature that this does not augur well for the people. Then, too, there is an undercurrent of opposition from several cities in the state who object to a state commission to control rates of their own utilities, even if municipally owned. This question came up at the hearing on the bill this week and it was admitted that under the Michigan constitution the bill could not be made retroactive and affect utility rates already fixed by franchise. Several cities are getting ready to voice their objection to any provision which gives the commission authority over their water works or municipal lighting plant.

The utilities interests claim their reason for supporting the measure is to get them safely under control of a fixed commission and a basic law that will not be continually subject to amendment by the legislature. They claim this also is the benefit to be derived by them from the proposed commission.

Senator George Barnes of Flint introduced a bill making it unlawful for any person to represent himself as being blind, deaf, dumb, crippled or otherwise physically disabled when such representation is made in the hope of securing charity. The Barnes bill is aimed at itinerant merchants who make a living by peddling shoe strings and lead pencils, organ grinders and the like. Police chiefs encounter considerable trouble from fakirs who wear dark glasses and represent themselves to the public as being blind. Fake cripples are also found in abundance and if the Barnes bill becomes a law these people may be subjected to a fine of $100 or 90 days in jail.

Claiming that the members of the supreme court are not adequately paid by the state, Senator Verdier of Grand Rapids has introduced a bill increasing the salary of supreme court justices from $7,500 to $12,000 per year. Some time ago a similar bill was introduced in the house by Rep. Martz of Detroit.

A few years ago the legislature increased the salaries of the supreme court from $5,000 to $7,500 with the proviso that they should preside permanently in Lansing, with the exception of the summer months when the court is not in session. In 1911 the legislature was persuaded to repeal the section whereby the members of the court of last resort were made permanent residents of the capitol city. Some of the judges immediately moved out of the city and are here only when the court is in session.

Lansing—That the work of investigating the case submitted by the railways of Michigan in support of their plea for authority to increase passenger rates will be delegated to the attorney general's office, is the latest angle of the legislative wrangle inspired by the campaign for two and one-half cent fares.

Rep. Myles D. Symonds who is championing the interests of the people in the legislature admitted Wednesday that such a plan was a probability in the near future. Mr. Symonds is the Menominee attorney who single handed led a successful fight two years ago in the house to force the two-cent rate for the upper peninsula roads. In the present issue he has not what might be termed irrevocable anti-railway sentiments. He has demanded from the first that both sides of the case be heard before a judgment is rendered by the house or senate and this, he has explained is the basis for his contemplation of a measure to refer the matter to the attorney general's office for investigation, report and recommendation.

It was Rep. Symonds who several days ago put over a resolution to place the investigation in the hands of the railway commission. He withdrew it at that time out of deference to legislative courtesy and rather than antagonize the railroads committee. He has a resolution ready for introduction now, but he admitted when the question was put point blank that it probably never would be introduced.

From the statements of the governor and at least two members of the railway commission that have been reported to him, Mr. Symonds is inclined to doubt whether an investigation by the commission would bring out what he demands shall be aired before legislative action be had. The sentiment expressed by the commissioners according to Mr. Symonds indicates an inclination to favor an increase in rate and he says he does not want the matter left to a judge or jury committed to one side of the other any more than he wants a decision before both sides are given a hearing.

"Any lawyer knows that half a truth in court is sometimes very advantageous if the other side does not detect the ommision," said Mr. Symonds. "Every fact submitted by the railways may be correct. But have they submitted all the facts? Would not some added information throw quite a different light on the subject? In trying a lawsuit one never is anxious to parade information detrimental to one's cause. We leave that for the other side to do. That's just the point here. It is up to some one to see not only if the data of the companies is correct but whether they have all the facts bearing on the subject. Naturally any individual or group of individuals who start with the conviction that the case is complete would not be in position to give what the legislature wants.

ASPIC JELLY BY OLD METHOD

Flavor Universally Acknowledged as Far Superior to That Made in the Easier Way.

Old-fashioned housekeepers cling to the old way of making aspic, claiming that its flavor is far superior to the easier made product. It is indeed excellent and in cold weather keeps its form quite as well as where gelatin is used to stiffen.

Get from the butcher a knuckle bone of ham, a calf's foot and a knuckle of veal. Put into two quarts of cold water, and set over the fire where it will come slowly to a boil. Add one onion with four cloves stuck into it, a large carrot, a bunch of soup herbs and a spice bag. Cook gently for four or five hours until the water is reduced about one-half. Strain and set aside to cool.

When cold remove every suspicion of fat and return the thickened jelly to a clean saucepan with the crushed shells and beaten whites of two eggs, a tablespoonful of tarragon vinegar, and lemon juice or wine as preferred, to season. Salt and pepper to taste, and keep stirring until the jelly nearly reaches the boiling point and a thick scum has formed. Remove that, then draw to one side of the fire and simmer gently for 15 minutes. Set back covered, until the jelly settles, then strain through a jelly bag two or three times until quite clear. Pour into a mold that has been soaked in cold wather, then pack in a pan of snow or broken ice and cool hard. If you desire to have the jelly a pretty red color, add sufficient tomato to color at the same time and add the lemon or wine.

RECIPE IS AN ANCIENT ONE

Noel Cake for Many Years a Favorite Both in This Country and in England.

To three cupfuls of sugar add two and one-half cupfuls of softened butter and whip to a light, white cream. Add ten eggs, two at a time, beating for about five minutes. To this mixture add four well sifted cupfuls of flour to which one teaspoonful of baking powder has been added; mix the whole well and add one-half cupful of shredded citron, four cupfuls of washed and dried currants, one teaspoonful each of nutmeg and cloves and one-half cupful of fruit juice. Mix well and pour into a paper-lined tin, which is also well protected with paper on the outside. Bake for two and one-half hours in a moderate oven. This should be made at least a week before serving it. When ready to serve, wrap each slice in white parraffin paper, tied with a red ribbon and a sprig of fir tucked under the ribbon.—The Mother's Magazine.

Beef Used in Salad.

Although beef is not at all an ideal salad meat, surprisingly good meat salad may be made from a small piece of boiled beef (bouilli). A half cupful of such meat cut in small pieces and mixed with dainty cooked vegetables and a mayonnaise dressing may be very tasty and will make an unexpectedly large salad.

The vinaigrette of beef, a popular way with the French of using left over boiled beef, is practically the same thing as a beef salad, except that the meat is cut in as pretty slices as possible and allowed to lie in the dressing for a time before it is served. This is what is called marinating the beef. It is good for luncheon with hot vegetables.

Vinaigrette of Beef.

Cut in thin slices some left over boiled beef and let it lie an hour in a marinating mixture made as follows. Thin one scant teaspoonful of mustard with enough oil and vinegar to soak the meat in. Use half and half oil and vinegar, or three times as much oil as vinegar, according to taste. Add salt and pepper and chopped fine herbs to taste. A little chopped onion may be used and the dish in which the meat is marinated may be rubbed with a clove of garlic.

Devil's Food.

Three cupfuls of sugar, creamed with half cupful of butter, yolks of seven eggs, two cupfuls of sour milk, half cupful of cream, two teaspoonfuls allspice, cloves, cinnamon, nutmeg. One teaspoonful vanilla and three cupfuls of flour. Bake in a moderate oven two and a half hours.

Frosting.—Beat whites of seven eggs to a stiff froth, flavor with vanilla, sweeten to taste, and add shredded cocoanut.

Rice and Bacon.

Boil one cupful of rice in plenty of boiling salted water until done. Put in a colander and wash several times in cold water, then hold under faucet and let plenty of water run over it. Then place in a round casserole with one-fourth cupful hot water. Sprinkle the top with paprika and cover with very thin slices of bacon. Cover and bake 30 minutes in a slow oven. Uncover and brown the bacon and serve at once.

Spinach With Eggs.

Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter; when bubbling blend in one tablespoonful of flour, then add one quart of finely chopped spinach and cook and stir five minutes. Add half cupful of cream, season with pepper and salt; cook and stir three minutes longer and arrange in a mound on a heated dish. Garnish with slices of hard-boiled eggs and serve at once.

Fish Stuffed With Rice.

One cupful of rice, one cupful of bread crumbs, one cupful cold chopped meat. Mix and season with salt, chopped sage, onion and celery, one teaspoonful each. Clean a whitefish, fill with this preparation and bake as usual. Serve with tomato sauce.

Coupe Saint Jaques.

Pineapple, apple, orange and pears sliced and mixed with sugar to taste, flavored with maraskino and kirsh, fill to three-fourths a champagne cup with this macedoine of fruits, then cover half and half with orange water ice and lemon water ice.

FARMERS WHO SUCCEED IN WESTERN CANADA

Those Who Exercise Thrift, Practice Due Economy, and Adopt Reasonable Methods Are Sure to Prosper.

Those who are interested in developing the agricultural resources of Western Canada in bringing to the notice of those whom they desire to take part in this development at present only the facts. There has never been given the impression that farming in Western Canada could be carried on without effort or labor, but it has been successfully stated that better results can be secured with less outlay of capital, either in money or labor, than anywhere else on the continent. This has been proven time and time again. Hundreds of cases could be cited where men have taken up farms, either a homestead, or purchased from railways or land companies, and with little capital at the start have acquired a competence, have established good homes for themselves, and provided a sure future. They have comfortable homes and all their surroundings are comfortable, speak of the reward that their thrift has accomplished.

Carl Diokan, of Russian Poland lived in Pittsburgh, Pa., for fourteen years, and saved up $900. In 1903 he took the $900 with him to Alberta. His own story is that he bought a quarter section, for which he agreed to pay $1,200. In 1904 I had thirty acres of crop, threshed 900 bushels. In 1909 I bought another quarter. I now have one hundred acres under cultivation, and have never had a crop failure. Have threshed forty-seven bushels of wheat per acre, but the average has been about forty. My oats for the eleven years that I have been here averaged forty-seven bushels to the acre. I now have 9 horses, 47 head of cattle, 33 hogs, which I consider worth $3,600. I have a thousand dollars worth of farm implements and my land is worth $8,000. This is all clear of debt. I have every reason to consider this a first-class mixed farming, dairying and poultry raising country, as I think that it is apparent that I have had some success. The only help that I had was my oldest boy, who was 8 years old when I arrived in Alberta."

About fifty miles west of Wetaskiwin there is a partially timbered district lying between Buck Lake and Pigeon Lake. All this land is ready for homesteading, and judging from a letter received by a resident there, this would seem to be an ideal place for a farmer who desired such surroundings. This settler lives on the shore of Buck Lake, his land is willow brush, which is easy to clear. Some of the lumber is good saw timber, and lots of good logs for buildings can be had, as well as rails for fencing. For wheat growing the soil is excellent. Water is easily secured, fishing is good and plentiful and game is anything but scarce. The settlers are mostly from the United States and Canada.—Advertisement.

IS CHILD CROSS, FEVERISH, SICK

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated, give "California Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sours, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask at the store for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Adv.

SAGE TEA DARKENS GRAY HAIR TO ANY SHADE. TRY IT!

Keep Your Locks Youthful, Dark, Glossy and Thick With Garden Sage and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is mussy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger. Adv.
