

FREE ADVICE TO SICK WOMEN

Thousands Have Been Helped By Common Sense Suggestions.

Women suffering from any form of female ill are invited to communicate promptly with the "private correspondence department" of the Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; this has been established in a confidential correspondence which has extended over many years and which has never been broken. Never have they published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the Company allowed these confidential letters to get out of the possession of the hundreds of thousands of them in their files, will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which they have to draw from, it is more than possible that they possess the very knowledge needed in your case. Nothing is asked in return except your good will, and their advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman who should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (Confidential) Lynn, Mass.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution, and is therefore expensive. It is free and only obtainable by mail. Write for it today.

Tourist's Coat in Shepherd's Check

A few coats are as graceful as the loose-hanging shepherd's check shown here cut with a moderate flare and wide capsize sleeves. It is so roomy that it may be worn over a tailored suit, but so well adjusted about the shoulders and so excellent in its line that there is nothing cumbersome about it. About nine out of ten coats of moderately heavy woolen fabrics fall when it comes to being graceful. Such coats must be cut on simple lines, otherwise they cannot possibly be "smart." The fault usually lies in the shape of the sleeves, the bare of the features added for the sake of novelty. In the coat pictured here the desired novelty is achieved in the shape of the sleeves, the bare of the skirts, and in the introduction of a

Odd and Successful Coiffure

IN COIFFURES, as in everything else pertaining to dress, the new spring season has brought with it a greater variety of styles than has arrived for many a year. There are the Victorian coiffures, and that very youthful and original arrangement of the hair called the "bobby." Then there are the coiffures in which the hair is uncurled, combed back plainly and arranged in a long soft roll on top of the head and extending down over the middle of the forehead. "This is only good on youthful women." Nearly all the new coiffures show the hair waved and curled as if nature had done the work itself. They rely upon short curls more than

DECORATIONS IN THE HOME

Special Feature of the Moment is the Lavinia Use That is Being Made of Lace. Lace assumes more and more the important place in the domain of home furnishing. It is so important that upholsterers have to employ lacemakers and so obliged to make lace purchases on a considerable scale. Among other things, piano and windows are draped with lace, leaving room for decorative upholstery to cover afterward. All styles are available. The "renaissance" combines with lace of quite modern origin. And, combining with all and second to none in fashion or effect, is the old-fashioned crocheted. The present taste for crocheted denotes a remarkable revival in this kind of thing. Another revival, besides it, and making common cause with lace and especially drawing-room decoration.

Unreasonable Bearers. Mrs. Smithers, if you are impatient enough to hear your foodstuff, that is a matter for your own consideration. It is not for you to be taken to give the hoarded eggs for breakfast.—Punch.

Most Likely. Somebody wants to know why astrologers and prophets never predict anything pleasant. Maybe it is because their predictions would seem so good to be true.

Measure of Happiness. A woman is happy when she thinks she is better looking than the lady cashier at the lowest-rate cafe. Where her husband gets his luncheon.—Fort and Telegraph.

Why It is Hard to Save Money. The hardest thing in the world is self-control, and the saving of money means the exercising of self-control. The effect of habit is that you are now more artistic than you are now as well as pictures often serving as models.

Chief Problem Overcome. "I've taken the most important step toward building a fashionable apartment house."
"No, the contract, have you?"
"No. I've selected a fancy name for the building."—Judge.

THE SPRINGTIME on the eastern hills: Like torrents wash the summer rills; Pushing winter's snows away, And the bladed grass revives and lives. Pushed the maddening state away. And glimpsed to the April day.

All bits of ham, whether boiled or fried, should be saved for made-over dishes, as the flavor of a tablespoonful of ham will add to many plain dishes, giving them a pleasing flavor.

Ham Timbales.—Cook together a cupful each of stale bread crumbs and milk until of the consistency of smooth paste. Add four tablespoons of butter, one cupful of chopped cooked ham, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt and a few dashes of pepper, then fold in the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs and fill buttered timbale molds with the mixture, set in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven until firm. Remove to a hot serving dish and garnish with hard cooked eggs.

A few tablespoons of cooked rice added to different soups will give them the needed richness.

Ham Cream Pot.—Melt four tablespoons of butter in a saucepan, add the same amount of flour and stir until well blended. Cut large bread in thin slices, remove crusts and toast on both sides, cut in halves crosswise, butter and dip in the sauce. Add to the sauce and pour over the toast a cupful of cold milk and bring to a boil.

Pea and Chicken Soup.—Drain a can of peas and pour over two quart of cold water. Add two slices of onion and two cups of cold water. Simmer 30 minutes. Melt two tablespoons of butter, add two of flour and when well mixed, pour on the hot mixture, again stirring, and strain through a strainer. Add a cupful of milk, a few sprigs of mint, seasoning of salt and pepper, and one-third of a cupful of cream. Stir well and serve hot. Remove the mint before serving.

Chicken Gumbo.—Chop and brown in butter one onion. Put into a kettle with four quart of chicken stock, one-half a can of oysters, one teaspoonful of salt, some pepper and half a chopped green pepper. Simmer all together an hour and serve hot.

Father Won Out. Jones was wanted to say an eloquent visit to some of her relatives in a distant state, and while Jones had no great desire to kiss her good-by and bid her adieu, she was forced to do so. She thought it the part of wisdom to treat the matter diplomatically.

"Harry," said the wife one afternoon, "I have a confession to make. I won't you be awfully lonely and utterly miserable while I am gone."
"Oh, no dear," promptly answered Harry with a bright smile and a kiss. "I shall manage nicely. There are Smith, Brown, Green—"

"That so," was the quick reply from the father of wry. "I don't do I don't propose to have my house turned into a poker-parlor!"

Some EVERYDAY DISHES.

When a loaf of bread is staled it may be freshened by dipping quickly in water then put into a cupful of water and allowed to soak a hot oven, turn to get an even heat all over, and when hot it will be much like new bread. Rolls and biscuits may be warmed in the same way.

Browned Onions.—Butter a bakin' dish and place the required number of medium-sized onions, peeled and sliced, pour over them a cupful of beef broth, add some leftover bits of cooked sausage, or raw chopped ham, and cook in a hot oven. Turn to get an even heat all over, and when hot it will be much like new bread. Rolls and biscuits may be warmed in the same way.

Meat Balls.—Take four cupfuls of chopped meat, add a little salt and pepper, and mix thoroughly. Roll into small balls, cover with flour and fry in hot fat. The rest of the meat may be used for a loaf, adding a little celery salt, a little onion, and a tablespoonful of chopped onion. Taste half the chopped meat mixture. Take half the chopped meat and add to it two tablespoonfuls of string french fries, half a teaspoonful of celery salt, a little onion, and a tablespoonful of chopped onion. The Little Boston Boy. "George," said the Heaven Hill teacher, "what is a phob?"
"The little Boston boy settled his spectacles more firmly on his protruding nose."
"A phob," he said, "is a horizontal line connecting a floating bit of false work with a substantial base. As in King and Queen and Turo-Christian."
"Yes," said the teacher, "and you might add, Chelsea-Boston."

Very True. "Chris," told the son of his little sister, "I don't think it is Gotham—Well, I don't think it is Gotham—but the five-cent loaf."

Made Him Will. "What did your father say when the count asked him the amount of your tax?"
"He replied in despair."

A Pezch. "Is she pretty?"
"Pretty," say, "one-legged man would offer her his seat in a street car."

No Information. "Are the new people (horribly) neighbors?" I should say not! Their hired help is deaf and dumb."

The Main Point. "What's the best way to fomo to the front?"
"Get good backing."

It's difficult to convince a woman that gambling is wrong if her husband looks ahead of the game.

Never Had 'Em. Old Dick was a plantation doctor of the worst sort in the world. He was famous for his ignorance, and he was famous for his ignorance. He was famous for his ignorance, and he was famous for his ignorance.

Back for a Garden. "What are you and your little friends doing there at the back of the room?"
"We're the little man who were diggin' dirt."

Just Any One. "You're a little man who were diggin' dirt, aren't you?"
"Yes, your honor, I'm the man who were diggin' dirt."

On My! "Prof. C. C. Lashin said at the Albany Convention that the Albany Convention is the Albany Convention." "The superintendent of the Albany Convention is the Albany Convention."

They Won't. "It is a great pity," said the girl who is popular, "that some men won't arrange their visits on the shoreland sweet plan."
"Yes, it is," said the other girl. "Go home early and leave a box of candy."
