In the W. H. Lamb store on Monday evening of last week, Frank Patterson and Melvin Matthews got into a heated argument over the school question. When Miss Dorothy Smith was taking W. H. Codnor to the car from the Smith home last Saturday, with a large quantity of eggs, part of the harness broke, frightening the horse which ran away and in turning into the Julius Gebbhardt yard, the buggy struck a large stone, throwing the occupants out and badly injuring them. Miss Smith is under the doctor's care at her mother's home and Mr. Codnor was rendered unconscious. Every egg was broken, as was the buggy.

Two games of base ball were played here recently, one by the Log Cabin school and our school. The other, last Friday, was between the Stumpf and Big Beaver schools. Both games were beaten by our boys through the skillful playing of Herbert Cameron, pitcher, and Charles L. Thompson, catcher. These boys, however, do not attend the school. The school boys play well, but with the exception of Edward Campbell are all small boys. The Stumpf school can boast of a good team.

A rousing school (special) meeting was held here May 14, to propose the building of an annex, or the addition of another room, to our school, but was voted down by the heavier tax payers, most of whom are in favor of an entire new building when needed. This district was, last winter, placed on the list of Standard Schools, which requires two teachers and the assistant having been procured both are teaching in the same room, which is against the rules of Standard schools only for a short length of time. As the enrollment is much smaller than in previous years and the pupils having plenty of room most of the tax payers think one good teacher all that is necessary for some time to come.

ESTABLISHMENT OF DRY-EARTH CLOSETS.

Ordinance Number 66.

AN ORDINANCE to require the establishment and use of dry-earth closets in the absence of an open privy vault, and to fix a penalty for violation of this ordinance in the Village of Birmingham.

The Common Council of Birmingham ordains:

Section 1. That the use of sunken privy vaults or receptacles for excreta from the human body, excepting those which are now used, is hereby forbidden and shall not be permitted in the Village of Birmingham, at any time after Sixty days from the passage of this ordinance.

Sec. 2. All owners and occupants of premises on which sunken privy vaults are now situated in which human excreta has been deposited shall, within said sixty days, cause the contents thereof to be covered with earth in a sanitary manner under the direction and supervision of the Health officer of the Village of Birmingham, and all use thereof for such deposit is accordingly forbidden. Before so covering the deposits in such vaults, the said owners and occupants shall cause the same to be properly disinfected, by the use of copper sulphate or some other equally efficient antiseptic.

Sec. 3. Hereafter when premises are so situated that no sanitary sewer is accessible therefrom, so that connection with a sanitary sewer from such premises is not practicable, and no cesspool constructed in a sanitary manner and approved by said Health officer is situated thereon, all earth, excreta and fluids deposited in a dry-earth closet constructed and operated in the following manner to-wit:

First, there must be a surface vault receptacle of such excreta constructed of stone or number one lumber and in such a manner as not to allow the fluid contents to flow out upon the ground therefrom, and in such form as to permit the contents thereof to be readily shoveled all therefrom. And the said receptacle shall be so securely shut in that common house flies shall not have access thereto. A suitable door shall be constructed at the top of such receptacle in such a way that the contents of such receptacle may be readily shoveled therefrom when such door shall have been opened. When excreta is removed from said dry-earth closet it shall be covered well with quick lime and ashes and if buried it should be treated with a solution of copper sulphate or with quick lime or some other equally good antiseptic. As the excreta is deposited each day it must be covered by dry earth, dust or lime.

Sec. 5. EARL A. MUDGE, Clerk.

Got Name From French Town.

The bayonet derived its name from the town of Bayonne, in France, where it is said to have been invented, in 1650. Some authorities claim that the weapon is simply the Malay kris introduced by Dutch soldiers from the East Indies, though manufactured at Bayonne. The Malay weapon contained merely of a native dagger thrust into the muzzle of a musket.
