

The Woman's Benefit Association Of The Maccabees

The Largest, Strongest, and most Progressive Society of Women in the World.

Non-political and non-sectarian. Offers more opportunities to women than any other society. Good training and future success, love of humanity and protection of helpless little ones.

A splendid opportunity for broad-minded and sympathetic women to join this great fraternal chain of one hundred and eighty-three thousand women banded together for the betterment of their own sex. This Organization has a national reputation for this great work in the interest of women, and has already paid into Homes of deceased and distressed members over twelve million dollars, every dollar going into some home in time of want and distress. We cannot begin to record the deeds of loving kindness and sympathy that have gone hand in hand with these disbursements.

This Organization has risen to high position in Fraternal Insurance through the hearty co-operation of its members and has built up by the management of its officers, a reserve of over eight million dollars.

The Woman's Benefit Association of the Maccabees was founded in Michigan by Michigan women in 1892; the cornerstone of its own building, laid in Port Huron, October 22, 1915, being the first woman's benefit association in the world to erect its own building.

Your loved ones are protected by our death benefits; we will see that you have proper burial with our burial benefits. We will take care of you when sick through sick benefits and hospital service.

First in Fraternity, First in Stability First in the Hearts of its Members

We want a competent woman to act as organizer in this locality. For further information write Mrs. Alberta V. Droelle, Great Commander for Michigan, 41 P. St. Aubie Ave. Detroit, Mich.

They are much safer to carry than cash; and they are accepted like currency by strangers, where a check is often refused, for want of proper identification. A.E.A. checks are self-identifying. We recommend them to all business or pleasure.

SCREEN ON FEEDING TROUGH

Prevents Waste and Contamination of Food for Poultry—All Fowls Permitted to Share Equally

In their eagerness to get at the food placed before them, the chickens and other backyard fowls are not altogether careful about the habits and manners they will get into the feed box if they are not prevented by some means. In doing this they not only soil the food with their feet, but the habit of using an effective means of spreading the contagion of disease often happens to exist in the chicken yard. Besides this, a couple of chickens occupying the feed box in this manner will keep the other birds away from a great extent and prevent them from getting their share of the food. The feeding trough with a screen over it, as shown, prevents all this. The screen is hinged on and when it is desired to fill the trough the lid is thrown back, but before the chickens are allowed to get at it the screen top is put over the top and in this manner all the chickens get the same chance at the food.

EARLY WINTER LAYING HENS

Can Be Accomplished by Early Hatching and Proper Feeding of Pullets in Early Fall.

Late hatched pullets rarely lay until the middle of the winter or a very early spring. Chickens should be hatched in April or May if they are expected to furnish eggs in the late fall or early winter. The incubation period is quite short, and it is often difficult to get fully matured pullets before winter sets in. This can be done, however, by early hatching and proper feeding of the pullets during the late summer and early fall. If the pullets do not receive their proper growth by the first of November and the season of laying, it is doubtful whether they will lay to any extent until the following spring.

The cockerels should be separated from the pullets as soon as possible, thus giving pullets plenty of opportunity to develop size. If they are allowed to mix indiscriminately with the old hens and cockerels, they are liable to be stunted in growth, as it is impossible for them to get their proper allowance of food. Keeping them out on the range, separated from the rest of the flock, is the best method of handling them.

DECREASE SUMMER EGG LOSS

Department of Agriculture and Experiment Stations Endeavoring to Assist the Farmer.

The United States department of agriculture has in the last year or so, spent quite a bit of money in issuing publications and charts to help the farmer cut down the summer egg loss.

An Infertile Egg.

State experiment stations have been busy at the same task. Reductions in the losses have been made, but the "bad eggs" of summer are still a great market factor. An infertile egg, such as is here shown, has superior keeping qualities. The "swat the rooster" campaign produces the infertile egg.

Mashes for Poultry.

Avoid sloppy mashes. They are better when fed in a crumbly condition.

Uses for Fat Hens.

Now and then certain individuals in a flock will get overfat in spite of the careful methods of feeding. Fat hens are usually sluggish, poor layers, and worth more in the pot than in the laying pen. They make persistent sitters, and if sitters are wanted keep them by all means. If you do not want broody hens make them into Sunday dinners at the first opportunity.

Shelter for Ducks.

If the young ducks are not provided with shelter and taught how to use it they may be drowned in the heavy showers.

Feed Only Fresh Meat.

If one bone or chopped meat is fed during the summer extra precautions must be taken to have it perfectly fresh.

Necessity With Chickens.

Cleanliness is a necessary part of raising chickens, especially when a large number are together.
