"Bigger and Better Than Ever"

Battle in Clouds

The Patterson Aviators will give a thrilling demonstration in armored aeroplanes of this new and terrifying warfare. This battle will be produced nowhere else in Michigan this year.

Automobile Races

Noted drivers of space eating vehicles will attempt to shatter dirt track records. Night automobile racing, an innovation which is attracting thousands to the racing courses in the east, will be inaugurated at the 1915 State Fair. Auto races for women drivers will be featured.

Harness Horse Races

Michigan's best trotters and pacers are entered in the 20 events on the race program. Purses totaling over $14,000 are offered by the State Fair.

Auto vs. Aeroplane

The most daring of the aviators at the State Fair will compete with the driver of the fastest auto. A woman driver also will race with the aviator.

Better Babies' Contest

In addition to the speed contests there will be numerous other noteworthy attractions including a large tractor demonstration, four-day test for dairy cows, builders' exposition, Boy Scouts' congress, fireworks, night horse show, a bigger and better midway, and superb displays of the products of Michigan's farms and factories.

Building Auto in Ten Minutes

Autos will be made on the Fair Grounds. This exhibit will show actual factory scenes, demonstrating how Michigan's industrial plants keep up with the great demand for automobiles.

Machinery Displays

Most modern types of farm machinery, including gasoline engines, cream separators, silo fillers, and other time saving inventions of mechanical experts will attract the attention of Michigan rural residents especially. The display in the machinery building will set a new record for size and the interest it will create.

Automobile Show

The State Fair automobile show will be larger than a year ago when the automobile building was almost filled with the latest models of cars of all sizes, power and prices. The 1916 models of all the leading automobile companies will be exhibited.

A series of dancing classes are now being formed under the direction of Miss Florence Calkins and Miss Margaret Halsted, which will be held at the Birmingham club beginning October 5, 1915.

Josephine Shattuck, sweet and talented, of Birmingham, will sing Monday night at the Temple theatre. At last one local talent is coming to the front and should be not only well supported but awarded first prize.

Miss Ruth Abbott returns to her home in St. Louis, Mo., after a summers visit with her grandmother, Mrs. Abbott, of Willis street.

Mr. Allen Blackburn, of Kingston, was a visitor in Dr. N. T. Shaws home, Sunday. Mr. Blackburn is a true soldier boy and will leave shortly for the front to fight for old England. He enlisted on the first call for troops but was sent back to college because of his age.

The following are now users of waterworks water, having applied in the order named: Mattie Baldwin, James O. Beattie, Mrs. M. L. Noble, F. Hagerman, A. Whitehead, Saginaw street, A. Whitehead, Pierce street, George H. Mitchell, M. K. Taber, Mrs. Esther M. Leonard, Thomas Langley, J. F. Rundel, Mrs. Alice Daines, Fred Ford, J. E. Quirk, Ira Slade, Maple avenue, Ira Slade, Middle street, Julian Leet, George E. Daines—19 in all. It is confidently expected that 50 applications will be made before the ground freezes, and many more in the spring.

Everybody who owns a home should take water, not only for the convenience and pleasure it gives to the family, but for economy's sake. The works are here and must be supported. The plant does not belong to the board, but to the property owners. It is just as much the poor man's as for works in the rich man's, and we all are interested in the success of this, our new civic enterprise.

The more water taken, the less our taxes; the less water taken, the more our taxes; and we are sure in favor of paying for water instead of taxes. Always speak well of your village, its aims and its improvements, and it will thrive and flourish. Talk up your town always and see how much better it will be.

Schools May Bar Children.

Common colds are contagious and Boards of Health in many cities are considering barring children with colds from school. Foley's Honey and Tar is an old and reliable family medicine and frees children from coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Parents may save trouble by giving before school opens. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

Garrick Theatre.

It is with much regret that we bid good-bye to Miss Jessie Bonstelle and her associates, who for nine weeks have occupied the Garrick theatre, Detroit. Beginning next Monday evening, the regular season of 1915-'16 at that theatre will be inaugurated with "The Bird of Paradise." A story with a story, dealing with the lives of two men and two women, one a man of high ideals, who gradually falls through the seductiveness of the tropics; the other a creature of circumstances, who from the depths of degradation is lifted to a high purpose through the pure influence of a woman, form the basic principles around which the story of "The Bird of Paradise" is woven. This charming Hawaiian drama is by Richard Walton Tully, who has now taken his place among the foremost dramatists of the day, and its producer, Oliver Morosco, now ranks with the biggest producers we have.

The drama is redolent not only of genuine Hawaiian atmosphere, but its satire is of the deep, true, kindly sort; its humanities are real; its race distinctions are absolute; its lessons are unavoidable and inevitable, and will be remembered long after the play is gone. Mr. Tully tells his story with unflagging interest, and there is no author in America who can write on this subject, the natural life in the tropics, better than he, as he lived on the islands for ten years, and each and every character was picked from life.

The part of Luana has made three women famous, and now Manager Morosco will introduce another Luana in Miss Carlotta Monterey, a young native Californian, who he thinks will become as famous as the other three. The native Hawaiians will again be heard in their weird songs and dances, and the rest of the cast will be up to the Morosco standard. One of the reasons of the success of "The Bird of Paradise" is that it is the only company playing and nothing has ever been cheapened. There will be the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

Did the Old Man Good.

George W. Clough, of Prentiss, Mississippi, is 77 years old and had trouble with his kidneys for many years. He writes that Foley Kidney Pills did him much good. He used many remedies, but this is the only one that ever helped him. No man, young or old, can afford to neglect symptoms of kidney trouble. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

The Avenue.

With an entirely new company, with one exception—Miss Corinne Cantwell—the Avenue theatre, Detroit, will re-open Sunday afternoon with "The Charity Ball," one of the best of the standard dramas of the American stage.

The leading man of the Permanent Players is Raymond Bond, and among the principal players will be the following: Edward Roberts, second business; J. Arthur O'Brien, comedian; Pere Whitam, juvenile; Donald Gregory, general business; Edward Dudley, director and second business; Ann Singleton, second business; Jessie Cass, characters.

The story of "The Charity Ball," which was written by David Belasco and the late Edward De Mille, is one of finance, love and self-sacrifice. It breathes the spirit of Christmas tide. The play opens in the sitting room of a rectory where the holiday is being celebrated for the children of the city's poor. The play enjoys the distinction of having had the longest run of any production ever offered in New York.

There will be the usual Sunday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday matinees. A special matinee is underlined for Labor Day. "The Two Orphans" will be presented the second week.

5-17Sep

We heard a real estate man prophesy—and he is a very conservative, level-headed business man—that inside of five years in and around Birmingham there would be 10,000 people living.

After two months of steady weeping the Weather Man has promised to wipe the tears from his eyes and smile like Sunny Jim all through September, so that the biggest fair ever held may have fair weather.

Alphonse G. Koelbie, a prominent New York lawyer and politician, seems to be a German who unfortunately was born away from home. He should be permitted to return to his fatherland at once so that he may be of use to what should have been his native land.

Last Sunday the R. D. Baker Construction company threw open to traffic another stretch of the cement road they are laying on Woodward avenue between Birmingham and Royal Oak. They will open the street as far as the Thirteen Mile road, which means that two and a half miles of the newly laid concrete from Royal Oak will be in use. The contractors are now working from the Birmingham end of the road, and with good weather hope to complete it at an early date. It is expected that this company will commence grading Woodward avenue from the Pontiac city limits on the south for a distance of a mile and a third, commencing the first of next week. A concrete pavement is to be laid that distance this year. A steam shovel will be used for grading.

Miss Mae Randall entertains Miss Mabel Scott, of Pontiac.

Commencing Monday there will be only three general deliveries per day.

Miss Esther and Mr. John Pinkerton have made a brief visit among their many friends here, returning to their home in Aledo, Ill., Saturday.

Mrs. Fred Trumbull left Wednesday for Rochester to attend a fatherless re-union given by Mrs. Charles Upton in honor of Mrs. Harry Aspenwall who leaves the latter part of the week for her home in Albuquerque, New Mexico.
